EVADING THE MAIN CHARGE, against the Ontario government is that of book publishers to monopolize the school book trade. The company with which Mr. Morang is connected desired to obtain per mission to publish the school readers, and, with that end in view, made formal application to the Minister of Education. In virtue of an order-in-council, dated 1896, the government would have been within its rights in extending the privilege t Mr. Morang. Mr. Morang, we understand, would either have sold the books at a cheaper rate or he would have turned out a book that would have lasted twice as long as the books of the monopoly, and sold it at the same price as the poorer books published by the ring. Mr. Morang wished to introduce the element of com notice that, while the government organs have been talking all around the subject bers of the committee, of school books and the Public Schools they have not said one word in defence of the government's action in refusing to license a competing company to interfere with the monopoly of the ring: Instead of answering the main charge, The Globe takes up two columns to excuse the changes that have been made in the text books. The duplication of 10 of these books is defended on the ground that wonderful changes have taken place within 10 years in the history of human thought. and progress. "Every decade," we are told, "brings new outlooks and new problems. In their own way, text books should represent the new outlooks." This ers, neat full shape crown and flat Brown Canton Straw Sailors, neat is the reason put forward for the dupli full crown and large roll brim, eation of the Public School grammar, ar plain satin band and streamers, ithmetic, geography, copy-books, drawingbooks and High School grammar, Latin German and French grammars. There may be some reason for revising a geo graphy and bringing it up to date, but there is no excuse for interfering with most of the other books referred to. The principles of arithmetic are exactly the maticians in the country. Of all branches of human knowledge, we thought arithmetic, especially the simple elements that ed absolute finality. Editor World: Your anonymous correspondent who makes wild assertions in your issue of to-day about the "Modern Phonic Primer" which I have published is evidently ignorant of the most approved method of teaching children to read. The system followed in the primer is that adopted in all the progressive educational centres in Ontario, and "Educationist" is only holding himself up to ridicule when he calls the system of teaching reading used universally in the schools of the city of Toronto a system of "guessing." He no doubt has some fad of his own, intelligible possibly to himself, but to no one else.

As to the endorsation of the "Modern Phonic Primer," I append a few extracts from letters received from some of the best teachers in the country, and I shall be pleased to send to you, Mr. Editor, or to any of your readers, full copies of these letters and of many more similar.

I also append the report of the Committee of Teachers, appointed at their meeting of the Ontario Educational Association, to examine my "Primer" and to report upon it, and I can say that no one among the teachers or at their meeting was directly or indirectly interested in the book, neither did I know any of the mem-

Mr. President, Ladies and Gentlemen,-The committee appointed to consider text books beg to report that they have examined "The Modern Phonic Primer," and consider it very suitable for pupils in the early stages of their education (First Book work), and they would strongly recommend it to the favorable consideration of this section (Pub. School sec., O.E.

The special points of the book being:

1. The possibility of seat work for the pupils in writing, drawing and coloring, thereby saving time and labor to the teachers.

2. The forms of the letters being given uniformly in script. 3. The thoughts in the lessons being within the reach of the youthful minds and the language used being such as they are capable of using.

4. The illustrations being attractive, referring to real life and tolerably true to For these reasons we would ask that the Education Department be urged to authorize the book for use in the public schools.

Showing the excellence of Mr. Morang's Primer, the following testimonials will peak in no uncertain terms: I regard it as the best primary reader which I have ever examined.

Principal Model School, Port Perry, Ontario. I have carefully looked over your new Phonic Primer, and my good opinion of t, formed from the introduction, strengthened and deepened with every page. J. C. Morgan,

The dainty little Primer came duly to hand. The bright coloring of the little book will insure it a hearty welcome by any little tot into whose hands it may come. J. Dearness.

Principal Normal School, London, Ontario. The Primer is a delightful little book, and if it be adopted by our schools cannot but prove a source of great comfort and profit to pupils and teachers alike.

It contains so many valuable features, that I consider it one of the best P ng to The Globe's theory, we ought to that have so far come under my observation. I would like to see it authorized by

P. S. Inspector, Kincardine.

I have pleasure in expressing my conviction that your Primer is so far in advance of the Junior readers at present in use. In my opinion it should take the place of Parts I. and II. of the First Reader.

I have examined the Primer and have also asked our "primary" teacher to examine it. We are both of the opinion that it is a meritorious little work; that it is an improvement on the regular book in its matter as well as in its illustrations. We both think the colored illustrations add much to the attractiveness of the book and

P. S. Inspector, Windsor, Ontario. I think your "Modern Phonic Primer" is an excellent production in every respect. S. Silcox, B.A., B. Paed., P. S. Inspector, St. Thomas.

The Primer is certainly nicely got up, the illustrations attractive, the steps follow logically, and the price, for Such a book, wonderfully low. Arthur Brown,

I have not had an opportunity myself of examining the Primer closely, but a eacher to whom I lent the book is loud in her praises of it. I certainly agree that

So far as I have been able to judge, the plan of the lessons is good, and I think uld be admirably adapted to the purpose for which it is intended.

I think your "Modern Phonic Primer" well adapted for junior scholars and in-

I earnestly wish that you may succeed in having the book authorized, for the e now in use is almost worthless, and a text book is needed in addition to the Principal Model School, Gananoque.

I am inclined to think that the teacher who could not teach reading by mean of this book cannot teach the subject at all, and the pupil who cannot learn from this is beyond hope. I am pleased with the book, and shall say a good word for it A. A. Jordan,
