"I BAY, Jenkins, can you tell a young, tender chicken from an old, tough one?" "O course I can." "Well how." "By the teeth." "Chickens have to teeth" "No, but I have."

Wirs, before a lion's cage, to husband—"What would you say if the bars were to suddenly break and the lion to eat me up?" Husband (drily), "I should say he had a good appetite."

An elderly but very vain lady was called an angel by a somewhat cynical gentleman "Angel" exclaimed the venerable female. "I am not entitled to that name." "Oh, yes, you are," repeated the wretch; "angels are the first beings created, and are therefore the oldest."

Wirs Hendricks (a trifle sourly) "Yes, he is about a 2 o'c'ock, A.M."

Guest—"Have you a fire escape in this house?" Landlord—"Two of 'em, sir." Guest—"I thought so. The fire all escaped from my room last night, and I came near freezing." "My dear, it is a little girl with wings, who flies." "But I heard the wretch; "angels are the first beings created, and are therefore the oldest." A wedding sermon never passes off smoothly, for
