WHOLE FAMILIES TO OUR FARMS

Record of Immigration to Canada's Rural Life in Three Months.

(Special to The Times)

Ottawa, July 2—In the first three months of the present fiscal year 10,405 persons intending to find a place in Canada's rural life came in through the ocean ports. Of these 6,781 were men, 1,875 women and 1,749 children. Coming from the United States there were 6,488 whose destination was the farm. Of these 4,000 were men, 1,188 women and 1,200 children. The large number of women and children indicates that whole families are emigrating in many cases. These three months are the big months for farm immigrants. The greatest number of farmer and farm laborers coming to Canada for any one year was 72,820 via ocean ports in 1911-12 and 63,972 from the United States in the previous year. The smallest year of all for agricultural immigrants via ocean ports was in 1917-18 when 992 arrived and from the United States 12,083 in 1918-19.

Their best day's travel was 297 miles from Cedar Rapids to Chicago.

Mr. Gilchrist is a maker of trout and salmon rods, and was giving a new rod a trial when he caught this fish. It measured twenty-one inches in length, with a girth of 19 1/4 inches, and weighed three pounds and nine ounces. The trout was caught in Rhoda Lake and is a beautiful one. It gave its captor a brisk ten minutes to secure it.

THE POWER CO. DISPUTE.

To the Editor of Times-Star:—

Kindly permit me space in your valuable sheet to place before you the position of our organization re the dispute with the New Brunswick Power Company.

First, I wish to clearly outline that we, the employees, endeavored from time to time to reach a settlement on the questions involved, but in no case were we successful in arriving at any understanding that was at all satisfactory to us. Therefore that the peace and tranquillity of our city might not be disturbed, as a result of any drastic action on the part of the employees, we very readily decided to submit our grievances to a board of conciliation, under the Industrial Disputes Act, to which the manager of the New Brunswick Power Company refused to appoint a representative. On account of this, the Minister of Labor had to make such appointment.

The board was established and very carefully considered the questions involved and recommended a reduction of five and a half per cent and that our agreement be signed for one year, as heretofore. This our members unanimously agreed to.

After receiving the board's findings we again met with the manager of the company and to our surprise we learned that meeting that the company did not intend to recognize any recommendations handed down by such board, and again submitted to our committee their individual contract which our men refused to consider. In trying to reach an amicable settlement our committee offered to waive two cents per hour, in addition to the five and a half per cent already recommended by the board's findings, also agreeing at that time to operate any type of car that the company wished to put in operation, providing it were satisfactory to the city and the travelling public.

I wish to remind my readers, at this time, that this condition now existing, was forced upon us purely by the stand taken by Manager Thomson, inasmuch as we requested in a clause of our agreement that we should be bound as loyal employees twenty-four hours per day, and three hundred and sixty-five days per year, while our names appeared on the company's pay roll. During the course of employment we expect to give honest service and loyalty to our employers, but in this land of democracy we do not and cannot see that we should be thus bound, as the clause requires. Another of the chief objections entertained by us was that a thirty day clause be embodied in our agreement, thus giving no guarantee of wages, conditions of employment, for a further period than from one month to another. We did not feel that such a course was at all satisfactory.

We wish it clearly understood that it is not the object of our organization to invade commercial lines, as has been stated by our manager from time to time. On the other hand, we stand ready at all times to give faithful and loyal service to the company, and to act in an obedient and obedient to the rules governing the operation of our employment in the different departments.

The aim and object of the trade union movement is to establish co-operation and a better feeling between employers and employees; to educate and uplift the lower standards of the laboring classes, therefore enabling our country to be in a position to compete with its rivals in the markets of the world. This disposition has been at all times maintained by the members of our association, and I say this without fear of contradiction from the numerous thousands of people who have patronized our street cars during the years that we have been organized.

In conclusion, I wish to say that it is our desire to be good citizens, and in order that we may be, we ask for a living wage, a chance to live as free British subjects, receiving the respect from our employers that they should command from us.

F. A. CAMPBELL,
St. John, N. B., July 1.
