THEIR DAILY BREAD.

"Give them this day through us their daily bread."

This striking suggestion of a change in the Lord's Prayer was made recently in western Canadian cities by an American speaker, Mr. Edward F. Trefe.

"Surely," comments Canadian Finance, "we will at least share our wheat forty-fifty with Europe." It points out that the Board of Grain Supervisors have commandeered from the mills over one million bushels of wheat and decreed that only ten days' grinding supply shall be kept on hand; but they have still before them the task of getting from the farms 10,000,000 or 15,000,000 bushels of the 1917 crop. It is also said there are in the prairie provinces alone, nearly 180,000 barrels of white flour in the hands of consumers over and above the supplies of ordinary pre-war times. This is the problem the food board has grappled with, and which it must solve. For as Canadian Finance says:

"Stark famine stalks through Europe. F. C. Walcott, an associate of U. S. Food Controller Hoover, states that more persons have died of under-feeding during the war than the 4,250,000 who have been killed by fighting."

The assurance came from the food department at Ottawa yesterday that there is enough flour in store in Canada for all our needs, and enough to make it possible to send more to Europe. That flour, bacon and beef, and especially by using less flour. And the following point is well made by the Winnipeg Journal:

"Upon those well-to-do especially rests the duty of using wheat substitutes. The poor cannot be expected to save wheat in the same degree, because it is still the cheapest of obtainable nutritional foods."

If we are to "give them this day through us their daily bread" in France and Belgium, we must not merely give thanks for our wheat fields, but use as many wheat substitutes as possible, in order that the hunger of our Allies in Europe may be appeased. It is a wartime duty we dare not neglect.

PARENTS AND INSTITUTIONS.

Before the juvenile court in Halifax recently was a small boy who is described as an incorrigible. His parents are living and have an income of approximately one hundred dollars per month. The mother loved pleasure and went out and neglected her boy. The father when angry abused him, and neither mother nor father appeared to have the right parental spirit.

Here is a plain opportunity for social service. In this case the boy needs to be changed, it is true; but the first change should be in the parents. The home should be made fit for the child. The Echo says:

"The home should be supervised and made over into the place that it could easily be. A tactful visitor should do much to establish better relations between mother and child, by gaining the confidence of both, and these relations once established, there is little doubt that the father's attitude could also be changed. No child of ten years should be allowed to think of itself as unmanageable, incorrigible or irresponsible to authority or affection."

Plant the seed of such thought in a child's mind and you will reap the harvest of law-breaking in all its forms, including theft, and even murder, when he reaches manhood. The community that allows such conditions to exist in any home in its midst, and does nothing to reform that home and make it a home in its true sense, is itself directly and primarily responsible for the wastage of the lives, both of the parents and the child. No man or woman in this community can afford to be indifferent to this problem which is constantly being pressed upon our attention. To save the children does not mean merely to save their physical lives, but to save them from the excesses and follies that come from ignorance and lack of good training and environment in a wrecked life. It is not mere institutions that Halifax needs; it needs more faith, more civic consciousness, more co-operation, more sense of individual responsibility, more patience with an understanding of child life, and it needs, above all else, a sense of the importance of making a home a home, the place in which children should be brought up, not one from which they shall be taken away."

This is all true, but unfortunately the social conscience has not been aroused, the children are being neglected, and there will therefore be need of institutions for extreme cases until such time as the public is aroused to a sense of its duty. Moreover, there are incorrigible parents, and for that reason also there is need of institutions. When social service has done all it can to improve homes and home influences, there will still be cases of parents that are hopeless. In such cases the institution must do its part to save the children.

An outstanding figure in the Baptist life in the Maritime Provinces for a decade was Rev. Dr. Thomas Trotter, whose death, in Toronto, is announced. He had led an active life in the ministry and in educational work. Not the least notable of his achievements was the placing of the Acadia educational institutions at Wolfville, N. S., on such a greatly improved financial basis during his term as president. Rev. Dr. Trotter's activities in this respect made him a visitor at all important centres of the provinces and St. John has more than once listened to his vigorous appeals. They number many in these parts who will regret that he is no more.

Checked at the Marne, the Germans under command of the Crown Prince, are trying to open a road elsewhere to Paris. As predicted last week, the place chosen is the Noyon sector and the blow falls on a front of about twenty miles width. As has always been the case when great masses of the enemy have been launched against our lines there has been a bending back, but early reports today were that but little ground had been given in the centre, and that a check had been given the enemy on the very first day of the new drive. The French comment on the situation is very re-assuring.

Each new crime committed by the Germans, whether by submarine, or in bombing hospitals, or in practically murdering prisoners, makes more clear the call to the rest of the world to crush the Teuton and prevent such salami as an inconclusive peace. This is a war of ideals, and those which command the devotion and fidelity of the Anglo-Celtic races must prevail. The world stands aghast at what would follow a German victory. The iron heel of the despot would crush human liberty out of the world. A Germanized country is a slave-pan.

No sooner had the fire broken out than one of the German machines returned, and, flying low, commenced to fire with machine-guns upon nurses and men who were rescuing the wounded.

The chaplain was emphatic in his statement that the Germans could not possibly have mistaken the building, and at the king's request he illustrated his words by diagrams of the locality. King George expressed his abhorrence of the outrage, and asked the chaplain to convey his sympathy to the persons injured in the attack.

Warden William Golding, of Fairville, left on Saturday evening to attend the annual convention of Grand Lodge of 'Prentice Boys, which meets in Ottawa. Mr. Golding was elected last year to the position of grand master of the 'Prentice Boys' Association of British North America.

A lad at present in jail is bent on being sent to Dorchester. He has been before the court on many occasions and has always been given another chance. He was arrested late on Thursday night, but effected his escape. He has told police officials that he wants "to see Dorchester," and once there he will easily effect his escape again.

Little Wilfred Paxton, eight years old, after being lost since Saturday was found yesterday by the Boy Scouts in a house in Queen street. The boy was found by members of Trinity and Stone church troops. Just before Sunday school time yesterday, the officials of the local boy scouts received a request that the scouts be asked to search for the missing boy. The lad had been at the Queen street house all day Saturday, returned home Saturday night and slept on the wood pile and returned to the house again on Sunday.

Chaplain Tells King of Raiders

Says Enemy Could Not Have Mistaken Hospital—His Majesty Expresses His Abhorrence and Extends Sympathy

London, June 10—King George, learning that the chaplain of a British hospital in France which was marked out by the Germans for attack, was in London, sent a messenger to the chaplain asking him to call at the palace. The chaplain was received by the king.

The chaplain said that two enemy machines had first come over the hospital, dropped three bombs, two of which were explosive, and fell in the outer wards, while the third was a large incendiary bomb, which dropped in the middle of the building, starting a fire.

LIGHTER VEIN

Not Queer to Him. Friend—Queen saying, that about truth lying at the bottom of a well. Lawyer—You wouldn't think so if you knew the amount of pumping we lawyers sometimes have to do to get it.

A Mean Remark. "It says here that a wealthy western man has left $500,000 to the woman who refused to marry him twenty years ago," said Mrs. Gabb, as she looked up from the newspaper she was reading. "That's what I call gratitude," commented Mr. Gabb.

Too Bad. "Too bad about Tom and the girl he's engaged to. Neither one of them is good enough for the other," said a young man. "Where did you get that idea?" "I've been talking the matter over with both families."

Rheumatism For 25 Years

Was Attended by Several Doctors in Nova Scotia and in New York by Celebrated Specialists. Finally Cured by Home Treatment.

Kittler, N. S., June 8—This letter from Mr. Cameron should make every reader of this paper think. If you happen to be a sufferer from rheumatism, Mr. Cameron's experience may prove of incalculable value to you. He spent many years in a vain effort to obtain cure, and finally found the effective treatment at a cost of $2.00 for eight boxes of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

This treatment set the liver and kidneys right and swept from the system the poison which caused pains and aches and all the suffering from rheumatism. Write to Mr. Cameron and verify the statements contained in his letter.

Mr. Neil A. Cameron, Kittler, N. S., writes: "I am glad to recommend Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills to anyone who is suffering from rheumatism. For about twenty-five years I was bothered more or less with this affliction. I was treated by doctors all over Nova Scotia, and when on business in New York had an opportunity to consult one of the greatest specialists there, but I never gained more than temporary relief. In an effort to get rid of the accumulating development of the disease I was, to my astonishment, totally cured. I therefore heartily recommended these Pills to all who suffer from rheumatism, and anyone who doubts this testimonial may write me as proof to the contrary."

"This is to certify that I am personally acquainted with Mr. Neil A. Cameron, and believe his statement is true, and to my personal knowledge correct."

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, one pill a dose, 25¢ a box, at all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto. Refuse substitutes, for they only disappoint.

DECIMAL COINAGE IN GREAT BRITAIN

London, April 21—(Associated Press)—A decimal coinage bill, providing for a rearrangement of the British money system on a decimal basis, has been introduced in the House of Lords by Lord Southwark. The bill is the result of conferences between two great business organizations, the Institute of Bankers and the Associated Chambers of Commerce. Both organizations gave their support to the scheme by an unanimous vote.

The bill provides for the continuance of the sovereign and the florin, the latter being one-tenth of the sovereign. A new one-hundredth of a pound, equivalent to the American cent, will make its appearance, being practically equivalent to the American penny. The new farthing will be worth slightly less than the present farthing, being exactly one-thousandth of a pound. Five farthings will make up the new penny.

A conference took place in the Chateau Laurier, Ottawa, this week between textile manufacturers from various parts of Canada and representatives of the War Trade Board largely to discuss the question as to the capacity of the mills to supply Canadian and British war requirements and foreign business.

The meeting was held in private, but it is understood that a census as to supplies of Canadian mills will be taken, so that there will be a check as to the country or not. If all the goods made in Canada are wanted it might be decided to put an embargo on export.

J. W. McConell of the Canadian War Trade Board, president, and R. J. Young of the Canadian War Purchasing Commission at Washington, was also present. There was a good attendance of woolen manufacturers at the conference.

MINISTER EGAN'S RESIGNATION

Maurice Francis Egan, United States minister to Denmark, who has tendered his resignation, owing to ill-health, has been minister to Denmark since 1907, when he was appointed by President Roosevelt. Late last year he was taken ill in Copenhagen and later underwent an operation. He has been in Washington for several months on leave. His condition is such that he felt he could not resume active duty abroad. Minister Egan's lengthy service at the Danish capital made him a favorite with the Danish royal family. He is an author of note.

Mr. Egan wrote the president that after several experiments under direction of his physician he had discovered it

Very important it is in this age to have a clear cool head, a strong heart and steady nerves. Too much rush and bustle, work and worry, fall to the lot of women attending to their household duties and social life. The constant strain under which they continue day in and day out will soon shatter the strongest system. Before long the heart gets weak, butters and palpitations, the nerves become tense, the pulse becomes weak and irregular, then finally comes physical breakdown or nervous prostration.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are the remedy you require to strengthen your heart and steady your nerves. Mrs. Jackson, 407 Bolivar street, Peterboro, Ont., writes: "Fifteen years ago I was so bad with my heart I could not walk across the house, my nerves were literally all gone, and I was frightened at my shadow. I commenced to take Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and was soon able to do my own work. I have told dozens of people about them, some as bad as I was, and today they are also doing their own work. If more people would take them there would not be so many weak hearts."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 7c per box at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.
