WINTER PORT SEASON OPENS

Manchester Miller Docked At Sand Point Today

OTHERS NEARING HARBOR

Cassandra and Montreal Reported From Sable Island This Morning—First Allan Liner Either Tunisian or Pomeranian

To the Manchester Line falls the honor of opening the winter port season at St. John, their steamer, the Manchester Miller, arriving this morning about half-past three o'clock and docking at No. 5 berth about nine o'clock.

The Miller sailed from Manchester on November 8, and for the first ten days out encountered nasty weather, being compelled to battle against head winds and a rather choppy sea. She, however, made good time on the run across, and for the last week experienced very mild weather. One of the officers told a Times' reporter this morning that, not until the vessel had anchored outside the island, did they feel any really cool weather. The vessel came by the southern route.

After discharging about 400 tons of local cargo, the Manchester Miller will sail for Philadelphia to unload the balance and load for Manchester.

This morning's arrival will be closely followed by the opening steamers of the other lines. A wireless message this morning at 8:30 o'clock from Sable Island reports the Donatien liner Cassandra ahead there and the C. P. R. steamer Montreal fifty miles east at the same hour. This will bring the Cassandra in port about four o'clock tomorrow afternoon and the Montreal will only dock on Thursday morning.

The first Allan liner to arrive here will be either the Tunisian or the Pomeranian; the Tunisian is due to sail from Liverpool tomorrow, while the Pomeranian left Halifax for this port via London on the 22nd. Both steamers are expected to arrive here about the same date, possibly Dec. 4.

The Bengore Head will start the winter service for the Head Line. She left Antwerp today for Sydney, where she will discharge cargo and proceed to this port to load for an Irish port.

Imports
On the steamer Manchester Miller came the following:—Can. Drug Co. two c. sugar sweets; deb. Carrillo, 1200 bags salt; Gandy & Allison, 2000 roof slates; W. H. Hayward, 88 pigs, earthenware; Linton & Sinclair, 4 pigs, earthenware; M. B. A., Ltd., thirty-five pigs, mds.; D. W. Newcombe, four c. cotton and yarn; order, 200 bbls. steel rods, thirty bags rice; Vasek & Co., one bale cottons; O. H. Warwick, twelve pigs, earthenware; C. Masters, one c. cotton twine; Wm. Thomson Co., six pigs, dry cod.

Other Steamers.
The Chlotilde Guesse of the Red Cross Line, left New York at six o'clock this morning for St. John with a good cargo. The Carapent, the second steamer of the Royal Mail Steam Packet Line, is on the way here from London. She is due to arrive on Dec. 2 and will sail for the West Indies on the 7th.

Furness Liner Shenandoah will sail tomorrow for London with 75,000 bushels of grain, 1,500 barrels of apples and 350 standards of deals.

The Victorian of the Allan Line, from Montreal, was reported 635 miles west of Fastnet at one p. m. Monday and is due to arrive at Liverpool on Wednesday at noon.

Allan Liner Pretorian, from Montreal, was twenty-three miles west of Malin Head at eight a. m. on Monday. She is expected to arrive at Glasgow tonight.

Donaldson Liner Athena arrived at Glasgow at eleven a. m. on Monday and the Andania arrived at Plymouth at eight a. m. on the same day.

ST. JOHN HOUSEWIVES MIGHT JOIN IN BOYCOTT

Montreal Women Organizing For Dominion-Wide Campaign Against High Price of Eggs

The following Montreal despatch received today should have interest here, in view of the fact that up to fifty-three cents was charged for eggs in the country market on last Saturday. It speaks of a boycott. Perhaps St. John housewives would like to join. The despatch follows:

Montreal, Nov. 25.—Arrangements are being completed whereby Montreal will soon have a women's association, formed on lines similar to that of the Housewives' League of the United States, and it is likely that some effort will be made to solve the problem of "the high cost of eggs."

At the present time, the opinion of several of the leaders of the local women's clubs is that there is no organization which could take up the work of an "egg boycott" and have it spread through the means of such an association to the various parts of Canada, as it is realized that a local attempt to boycott would be futile.

In the meantime egg prices are soaring and those who have henneries are sending out notices that they will send into the city each day, for seventy-five cents a dozen, eggs laid within twelve hours.

GOING TO MONTREAL
Friends of John J. Marshall, formerly of the Daily Telegraph staff, but lately with the Eastern Securities Co. Ltd. in this city, will wish him all possible success in Montreal, to which city he has been transferred. He will leave for that city tonight to take up his new duties.

BURIED TODAY
