

GOOD MEN AND TRUE

Selected as Standard Bearers of the Conservative Opposition,

In the Counties of Kings, Albert, York Sunbury and Queens,

By Large, Representative and Most Enthusiastic Conventions—The People Want No More of Two-Price-Bridge Government.

KINGS.

A Ticket That Will Carry the County.
The liberal conservatives of Kings county met in convention at Hampton on Friday. The gathering was one of the largest and most representative ever held in the shiretown of Kings. Every parish in the county was represented, and never at a political gathering did the people display more enthusiasm. The ticket chosen, Major H. Montgomery Campbell, George W. Fowler and Dr. J. H. Morrison is regarded by even supporters of the government as a very strong combination. It was a case in which the delegates sought the candidates rather than the candidates seeking the electors. Dr. Morrison, when first put in nomination positively refused to run, and during the polling of votes he arose and asked that the delegates vote for Mr. Belyea. Later, however, he was forced to bow to the voice of the convention.

It was nearly half past eleven o'clock when Major H. Montgomery Campbell, president of the Liberal Conservative Association, called the convention to order. In doing so he expressed his pleasure at seeing so large an attendance. In looking around, he thought the delegates would select candidates to win. (Cheers.) The very strong ticket selected in Westmorland was an indication of victory. (Applause.) He felt satisfied the people of the province were determined to turn this most corrupt government out.

The following was the roll call of delegates:
Havelock—David A. Wright, W. B. Taylor, J. C. Perry, M. J. Keith.
St. John—S. F. McCreedy, C. W. Wapman, J. A. Patterson, E. R. Kennedy, E. R. Fiddler, H. Snider, J. T. Barnes, Thomas Roush, J. T. Prescott, J. D. Pearson and S. Haslam.
Springfield—W. B. Case, G. Gordon, W. D. Gilles, Oscar Davis, J. A. S. Kilmord, A. Hefford, T. A. Brown, A. Leonard.
Greenock—W. L. Belyea, W. T. Belyea, Dr. J. H. Gilmour.

Waterford—W. S. D. Moore, James A. Moore, Robert Hawkins, J. W. Patterson, W. R. Buxford, L. E. Hayter.
Kingston—R. W. Wilnot, S. T. Lamb, M. Wright, Flewelling, Geo. Gray, D. Dobson, R. J. Flewelling, E. C. W. Hays.

Hampton—J. Fred Gligley, M. H. Barnes, H. F. Chute, Charles Robinson, Thomas Riley, N. D. Bonney, C. Spooner, J. B. Whittaker, J. F. Smith, E. H. Flewelling, N. M. Barnes.

Norton—Dr. McLean, W. H. Hone, A. Cochran, John Fowler, John Frost, James H. Gilmour, J. E. Price, D. R. Patrequin.
Cardwell—Byron McLeod, H. E. Breeze, J. B. Weldon, L. J. Murray, Dr. Charles McLeod.
Hammond—John Marchand, Albert Sherwood.
Westfield—H. W. McKenna, A. Whipple, J. H. Williams.
Kings—Herbert Jones, Absolom Erb, Wm. Palmer, B. R. Palmer.
Rothesay—J. Lee Flewelling, Geo. A. Vincent.

Upham—John S. Baird, James E. Abbey, Alex. S. Campbell, C. N. Gray, Henry G. Fowler.
An adjournment was made at noon until two o'clock.
In the afternoon the convention was resumed.

It was moved, seconded and carried that the meeting proceed to the nomination of candidates.
J. M. McIntyre being nominated, asked that his name be withdrawn. He had for a time thought of being a candidate, but had come to the conclusion not to offer. He was in full sympathy with the object of the meeting and would give the candidates selected his full support.

G. Ludlow Belyea was nominated. Mr. Belyea has no desire to run. He was prepared to support any candidates selected.
Dr. J. H. Morrison, amid applause, was nominated. Dr. Morrison said he highly appreciated the fact of his name being mentioned as a candidate. He could not accept, however, for several reasons. There was nothing he would like better than to contest Kings county with such men as Major Campbell and Mr. Fowler. However, anything he could do to assist in the election of the candidates he would.

The following gentlemen allowed their names to go before the convention:
Major Montgomery Campbell, Geo. W. Fowler, G. Ludlow Belyea, Fred M. Sprout and Dr. Gilmour.
The following scrutineers were appointed: George A. Dobson, George B. Jones and W. A. Brittain.
The voting then proceeded by parishes and resulted as follows: Major

Montgomery Campbell, 39; George W. Fowler, 27; Dr. J. H. Morrison, 69; G. Ludlow Belyea, 38; Fred M. Sprout, 10; Dr. Gilmour, 5.
Messrs. Campbell, Fowler and Morrison were declared nominated.
Notwithstanding Dr. Morrison had twice declined to allow his name to be put in nomination, it will be seen that the delegates insisted on nominating him. There is no doubt if he had accepted the nomination in the first place he would have received about the same vote as the leaders.

On motion the nominations were made unanimous.
On call, Major Montgomery Campbell was given three hearty cheers. He said he did not seek the nomination, but as a liberal conservative he felt it his duty to accept the nomination. He felt he was going to be elected with his two colleagues. (Cheers.) The opposition was going to win and the present corrupt government turned out.

George W. Fowler was given a rousing reception. He said he felt little that when he came to the convention that he would stand before them as a candidate. At the Moncton convention he spoke against the resolution adopted, but he was a liberal conservative and when his party decided on a certain line he was prepared to stand by his party. (Cheers.) He had told many of his strongest friends that he would not be a candidate, but he bowed to the wishes of the liberal conservatives and accepted. It was a most honorable act on the part of the government to bring the election on when important charges were made giving no opportunity to investigate the same. He was chairman of the public accounts committee last year, and when the bridge question came up the chief commissioner refused to give details. He (Fowler) at this stage did not propose to enter into a full discussion of the public affairs; but he would do so later. The feeling in Kings county was with the conservative party. It was recognized the duty of the delegates and the electors generally to go to work and secure the election of himself and colleagues. He felt confident of victory.

Dr. J. H. Morrison was given three rousing cheers. He said: Gentlemen, I will accept the nomination, although I had positively decided not to. However, I bow to the call of my party. (Cheers.) Continuing, he said he was going into the fight with his colleagues to win. He felt after the 18th the morbid government at Fredericton would be a thing of the past. The running of financial politics on party lines was going to be a good thing for honest government. Hon. Mr. Emmerston said he was going to draw a herring across the trail by attacking the speaker on questions which were not before the electorate, but which he (Hazen) would at the proper time fully explain to the satisfaction of the party. He referred in feeling terms to the illness of the Hon. W. E. Perley, and expressed regret that a severe illness had kept the veteran politician of Sunbury away from the meeting.

Parker Gligley, who was next called upon, was warmly received. He said he had not intended to be a candidate, but had finally yielded to the earnest solicitations of his friends. He felt proud of the nomination tendered to him by this large meeting of the conservative party. He knew every man present, he had business relations with many of them, and felt proud of their high confidence. He felt that Mr. Hazen would take a foremost place on the floor of the legislature, and it was his earnest desire that every one of his friends should put Mr. Hazen's name on the list, as he wanted Hazen to lead the poll. They were working hand in hand, and although the time for campaigning was short, they would visit every part of Sunbury before election day.
Fred M. Sprout said he was first, last and all the time a liberal conservative, and he was in the fight just as much as if he had been chosen a candidate. (Applause.)
G. Ludlow Belyea was much pleased with the choice of the convention, and would do all he could to secure the election of the ticket. (Applause.)
Dr. Gilmour regretted that after all he had done for the hall here today, Kings county, he did not get more than five votes. He was a conservative, but he reserved the right to vote in Kings county just as he pleased in the coming contest.
Hon. Mr. Puseley had a survey of the county made, and from reports received and as a result of the strong ticket selected yesterday, he has decided not to offer in the government interests.

ALBERT CO.
J. L. Peck and A. E. Trites the Opposition Candidates.
(By Telephone to the Sun.)
HILLSBOROUGH, Feb. 3.—The largest political convention held in Albert county in recent years, convened in the spacious public hall here today. It was thoroughly representative of the conservative party.
The candidates chosen to contest the ensuing election in the interests of the party were John Lewis Peck, merchant and banker, of Hillsboro, and Albert E. Trites, contractor and farmer, of Salisbury, both natives of Albert county.
A splendid public meeting, crowded to the doors, was held in the evening, at which speeches were made by the candidates, accepting the nomination.
Addresses were also made by W. B. Jones of St. John's, and Dr. Stockton. Great enthusiasm was manifested throughout all the days proceedings and the party look confidently forward to victory on the 18th at the polls.

WOODS AND HETHERINGTON CHOSEN IN QUEENS.
(Special to the Sun.)
GAGSTOWN, Feb. 4.—A large and enthusiastic meeting of the local opposition was held here today. Over 200 delegates from all parts of the county were in attendance, and addresses were delivered by H. W. Woods, H. B. Hetherington and S. L. Peters.
The meeting enthusiastically ratified the nomination of H. W. Woods, made in July last past, and H. B. Hetherington was nominated and chosen as his associate.
The candidates made short speeches, and pledged themselves to work in the interest of good government.
The thanks of the convention were enthusiastically tendered to S. L. Peters for past services and were responded to by him. The meeting broke up with cheers for the Queen and candidates.

ward to victory on the 18th at the polls.
YORK.
Will Stand by Its Good Old Ticket. (Special to the Sun.)
FREDERICTON, N. B., Feb. 3.—The strength of the opposition in York county was shown today at the county convention, and it must certainly have struck terror to the hearts of the government supporters. Every parish throughout the county was represented by from two to ten candidates and enthusiasm was at fever heat.
The meeting was to be held in the committee rooms in Fisher's buildings; but when the hour of meeting arrived it was found that they would not nearly accommodate the crowds. Accordingly the Y. M. C. A. hall was secured, and then even that which wanted to could not get in.
The old ticket, Messrs. Black, Pinder, Howe and Pitts' of York, was nominated amid great enthusiasm.
Speeches were delivered by the candidates, Hon. G. E. Foster, H. F. McLeod and O. S. Crockett. The opposition are feeling highly elated. York will be all right on the 18th.

SUNBURY.
J. D. Hazen and Parker Glazier Unanimously Nominated.
OROMOCTO, Feb. 3.—The convention of the liberal conservative party of Sunbury county, which met at Burton, on the evening of the 2nd inst., was the largest and most representative ever held in the county by any political party.
Among the large gathering were: Dr. Murray, A. L. Duplisse, William McQueston, Coun. F. C. Taylor, W. O. Patterson, W. J. Bridges, Abraham Bridges, Chas. A. Perley, Harry B. Day, A. McLeod, Sterling, Harry F. Devereux, Geo. A. Traddwell, Charles Weber, Walter M. Smith, Hanford Brown, A. A. Treadwell, John Rusk, James H. Bailey, Wilnot Chase, Thos. E. Bridges, John L. Cambridge, E. Lee Street, Jas. S. White, R. Smith, John A. Scott, F. A. Hubbard, A. L. Hubbard, A. S. Clowes, Jas. P. Bliss, Geo. H. Clowes, C. H. White, Francis McGuire, Charles McGur, Arthur Hatch, R. D. Wilnot, Abner Smith, Louis H. Bliss, John Boye, D. H. Nevers, Edridge Bunker, Taylor, Mercedes, Geo. Bunker, Robert McSherry, John Smith, Wm. Fletcher, Parker Phillips, Henry Wilnot, Rev. C. B. Lewis, etc.
H. B. Mitchell, chairman of the county association, presided, and A. B. Wilnot acted as secretary. After the roll of parish delegates had been called, the delegates retired and in a short time returned and reported that they unanimously recommended J. D. Hazen and Parker Glazier as the candidates of the party.
On motion, Wm. Perley, secretary, by Mr. Sterling, the recommendation was confirmed by a standing vote of convention amid much enthusiasm.

The chairman congratulated the meeting on its choice of candidates, which he said, would meet with the hearty approval of the party. He then called on Mr. Hazen.
J. D. Hazen, who was most heartily received, expressed the pride he felt at being selected by the people of his native county as one of the candidates of the liberal conservative party, and his pleasure in being associated in the fight with a gentleman so highly and so universally respected as Parker Glazier. He always felt that he had the warm sympathy of the people of Sunbury in the past, and while he had not sought this nomination, he felt it was his duty to accept it. Mr. Hazen at some length discussed the political questions of the day. Commenting on Mr. Emmerston's Fredericton speech, he showed that that gentleman had utterly failed to defend his bridge policy, but had tried to draw a herring across the trail by attacking the speaker on questions which were not before the electorate, but which he (Hazen) would at the proper time fully explain to the satisfaction of the party. He referred in feeling terms to the illness of the Hon. W. E. Perley, and expressed regret that a severe illness had kept the veteran politician of Sunbury away from the meeting.

Parker Glazier, who was next called upon, was warmly received. He said he had not intended to be a candidate, but had finally yielded to the earnest solicitations of his friends. He felt proud of the nomination tendered to him by this large meeting of the conservative party. He knew every man present, he had business relations with many of them, and felt proud of their high confidence. He felt that Mr. Hazen would take a foremost place on the floor of the legislature, and it was his earnest desire that every one of his friends should put Mr. Hazen's name on the list, as he wanted Hazen to lead the poll. They were working hand in hand, and although the time for campaigning was short, they would visit every part of Sunbury before election day.
After speeches by R. D. Wilnot, ex-M. P., and Counsellor Lewis Bliss, the convention adjourned with cheers for the candidates and the Queen.

MILLTOWN.
A Large and Enthusiastic Meeting of Conservative Electors.
ST. STEPHEN, Feb. 3.—A large and enthusiastic meeting of liberal conservatives was held in the town council room at Milltown Wednesday evening. Several candidates were proposed, and the assembly unanimously decided in favor of the Hon. W. E. Perley as the present government. Delegates were elected to the county convention as follows: W. B. Hays, H. B. Mitchell, Wm. Morrison, Daniel Hays, Horace Whitney, A. M. McKenna, John McFarlane, Frank Alexander, H. B. Mitchell, D. St. John, J. Ross, Thos. Shirley, A. H. Ellis, James Cross and Alex. McComb.

WESTMORLAND.
The Liberals Nominate Wells, Robinson, Richard and Copp.
DORCHESTER, N. B., Feb. 3.—The liberal convention for nomination of candidates was held here in Holman's hall at three o'clock today.
The ticket chosen to contest the county was W. W. Wells of Port, B. H. C. W. Robinson of Moncton, D. St. John of Dorchester, and A. B. Copp of Sackville.
The first three were returned by acclamation at the last provincial election. Mr. Copp's nomination is a surprise, as it was expected a man would be nominated who would bring strength to the ticket.

LIBERAL NOMINATIONS.
The government convention in Kings was held at Hampton on Saturday. C. B. Keith of Havelock was chairman and Fred L. Fairweather of Sussex secretary. A. S. White, G. G. Scovill and Wm. Pugsley were nominated and accepted the trust.
At Campbellton on Friday night Hon. Mr. Lablache and Mr. Mott, the former members, were nominated by a public meeting as the government candidates for Restigouche Co.

AFRAID OF TRITES AND PECK.

HILLSBORO, Feb. 4.—The nomination of Messrs. Trites and Peck in Albert has thoroughly alarmed the government party, and the premier will be kept more than busy in his own constituency, with every prospect of his defeat.
The government party have entered upon a policy of coercion, and hope by avoiding discussion and bribing the electorate to stem the tide of popular disapproval.

A ROUSING MEETING IN MONCTON.

MONCTON, Feb. 5.—The opposition campaign in Westmorland was opened in Moncton last evening with a large meeting in the Opera house, including many from country districts, who listened attentively to what was said and were evidently much impressed with the arguments advanced.
Candidates Summer, Melanson, Humphrey and Black addressed the meeting in the order given, each one being well received.
Mr. Melanson especially, as the French Acadian representative, was accorded a hearty reception. There is little danger that the electors of Moncton will on the 18th of this month listen to any secret pledges of the Emmerston government candidates and drop the French candidates, as some did in the contest of 1893. Following the candidates came Messrs. Hazen and Stockton of St. John.

Mr. Hazen dwelt at some length on the bridge charges against the Emmerston government. He showed the absurdity of Mr. Emmerston's claim that it was necessary to pay two, three and four prices for bridges because New Brunswick bridges were so much better than those built elsewhere. The great railway corporations, which required bridges that would not only last a long time but that would bear the very heavy strain of constant passing of immense locomotives and special trains of loaded cars, did not pay more than three cents per pound for their steel super-structures, and it was absurd to claim that the common highway bridges of New Brunswick were better than these. Mr. Hazen also pointed out that some of the most objectionable contracts by the government of this province had been one of the evils of general elections, and the plain inference was that three contracts were for the purpose of giving the government funds with which to carry on elections.
Dr. Stockton opened by paying a high compliment to Mr. Hazen, who had undertaken to assist him in laying bare the faults of the present government. He felt under great obligations to Mr. Hazen for the work he had done in the last few months, and if a change of government took place, of which he had every assurance, he had no doubt that Mr. Hazen would occupy a very prominent place in the new administration. Premier Emmerston said he was not at all combated for blood, but if he read the signs of the times aright, Emmerston would not be able to draw very much blood from the treasury of this province after the 18th inst. If he himself and his friends came into power he guaranteed fair treatment to all classes and creeds, and in this connection he felt especially grateful for the kind words of the French Acadian candidate for Westmorland, Mr. Melanson, who had sat in the legislature with him for three years, and who had told his own people that he had seen no evidence of narrowness or sectarianism in him (Stockton) as leader of the opposition. Dr. Stockton reviewed briefly Premier Emmerston's manifesto, showing the dishonesty and untruthfulness of his references to public questions, and predicted the downfall of the Emmerston government.

The meeting was large and attentive, and the probability of a large vote for a good majority for the opposition on the 18th.

CONNOLLY'S DREDGE AT EASTPORT.
The dredge International, which the Messrs. Connolly are to use in the development of the harbor in connection with the improvements of the government, arrived here on Thursday. The dredge is being engaged to assist the American tug in bringing the logs to St. John. The dredge is of Canadian build and is 26 feet wide. The scores are 34 feet long and 26 feet wide.

SPRUCE IN DEMAND NOW.
A prominent New York commission house writes to a firm in Bangor, under date of Jan. 28, as follows:
The demand for spruce timber still keeps ahead of the supply. Since the sets of our winter we have had no snow, the weather being exceptionally favorable to good trade, which has been unusually active for this season of the year. The demand upon the West Virginia mills is sufficient to keep their prices up, while the sale of eastern spruce is generally slow with the "glad hand." Quotations are unchanged. Laths are scarce and the demand is good. Two dollars has for some time been the recognized figure, but there is talk of a still further advance.

Resists Another Attempt to Make Him Support the Government.
'Unanswerable Arguments' Do Not Affect Him, and Even an Appeal to Poetry Fails.
"Mr. Paul," said the reporter, "I have come back to reason with you. You ought to join Mr. Blair and Mr. Tweedle and myself in protecting Coalition from the assaults of the Tory gang. We had a great meeting in St. John on Friday night. Mr. Robertson told us what Mr. Emmerston had promised. Mr. McKeown said Mr. Emmerston offered us something substantial. Mr. Purdy said there would be 'snaps' for us. Mr. Reynolds told us he had written the Story of a Crime—the Harris land job. With such an array of arguments, and with an unanswerable reply as to that to the bridge charges, we will sweep the city. If we can get John Callahan McCarthy, the poet, to take the stump for our ticket the Tories will be utterly wiped out."
Mr. Paul pointed to a string of eskimoes stretched along the side of the wigwam.
"You come up here after that 'lection's over,'" quoth he, "and I'll show you all them men's scalps."
"What's the use of talking? You've got to come over. We've had kickers before. We made Hawke of the Transcript take his medicine last week. We'll have the Globe next. Mr. Blair will give that I tell you, sir, we've got the stuff."
"This is Coalition fight," said Mr. Paul, "what's Mr. Blair dot'n down here?"
"Ask my pocket," replied the reporter. "Ask the pockets of all the noble army of Wobblers."
"Speens," went on Mr. Paul—"speakin' I'm government official under Mr. Blair. Kin I roller?"
"If," said the reporter, "you holler with me, and Mr. Partisan Commissioner McAlpine, and Mr. Brennan, you can. If you holler for a Tory—off comes your head. We are determined to keep dominion politics out of this fight. That is why we talk so much about the Harris land job, and the custom houses, and have our eye on toy office holders. If one of them opens his trap his name will be Densmore. But any office holder can sing if he keeps in tune with Mr. Blair and myself and Mr. Brennan and Mr. McKeown, and—in the words of the poet—"
"And howl as McKeown."
"I would like to quote the whole of that noble poem, for the author of it is now on our side. We are after Blood, Mr. Emmerston says so, and he knows."
"But that Harris land job," said Mr. Paul—"ain't they garsie put big elevator on that land?"
"Yes, sir. They are. It was an awful crime to buy that land because it wasn't wanted. But it is wanted now, and more too. And if you want a job as arbitrator we might fix it. We have an arbitrator on our ticket. Mr. Reynolds says so. It was no good as a job, anyhow. Wait till you see some of our jobs."
"Bridge jobs?" queried Mr. Paul.
"How dare you, sir?" cried the reporter. "How dare you maintain that there is anything wrong about those bridges? Those charges are made by thieves and liars. And what do they amount to anyhow? Three prices for a bridge! There ought to be six prices—and we'll have it, too. You just wait till we get that grab on Ottawa."
Mr. Paul made a grab on his own stomach. He clutched the reporter by the collar and threw him headlong out of the wigwam.
