E. A. POWERS,

THE HOME-

BY BOSALINE E. JONES.

Only a hend-clasp at parting—
A moment with palm to palm pressed
A moment's celestial communing
Ere the spirit relinquished her quest.

An me! that beautiful fraction
Of time hurried into the past,
Pleat-winged, but its a seet 'enediction
Will linger with me till he last.
Only a bird-cong at twilight—
A lovely he! flost in a plaint;
But its measures were hauningly lovely.
Though its melodies rippled to faint
That I coarce knew when the song ended And when the silence begun,
Or whether I heard it, or dreamed it,
The song and my dreaming were one.
For the cong had awakened an idy,
A bit of romance avereive still?
Than ever was wrought it a story,
Or wreathed by a poor's avest skill.

The flittle awest things that are masters—
The little awest things that begulie
The days of their teclium, the trifles,
A coug, or a dament of the state of the seed of the stand its nature.

Do you wish a child with a healthy body and healthy mind? If it fails to obey you while an infant, how can you be assured that it will follow the thousand and one commands "social progress" and the "laws of health" are cons antly diotating ?—Selected.

Mre, Stephen Kaulbach say: "Eerdaughter suffered for two weeks with Earach+; could not rest day or night; tried many remedies without any relief; used "Minard's Liniment" and Sweet Oil in "qual parks in the ear. It cured like magic. I would recommend it to all as the best family medicine known."

SAINT JOHN, No Po queror of all pain.

-Prof. Long says that in one year Great Britain imports 257,000,000 pounds of butter, requiring upon the ordinary seit mate 773,000,000 gallone of milk to make it. This milk in its trare would require for its production 1,717, (90 cows.

ior is production 1,717, (90 cows, —Asparagus roots may be put down in the fall, but the cround should be well prepared in advance by filling trenches with fresh manure and allowing the manure to heat and decompose in the trench after covering with earth. In the fall the manure and earth can be incorported, and the trench will be in an excellent condition for the roots.

—The guagation of the decirability.

ared, and the treates will be in an excellent condition for the roots.

—The question of the desirability of the newer introductions of fruits and veg tables seems to be a fit subject for discussion. To a cersial extent these new introductions should be handled cautiously, but in too many cases fruit-rowers seem included to entirely ignore any claims the new applicants may have. It is by all means advanable to go slow, but it is not profitable to cling to the old worst-out warfsites, which bring low marks: prices when there are so many new kinds which bring low marks: prices when there are so many new kinds which bring low marks: prices when there are so many new kinds which bring better prices.

TAMPERANCE.

THE RUM POWER.—There is somewhat of a parallellism between the history of the rum power and of the slave yower. And we have no doubt that the parallell will be carried out still further in the future, and that the aggreenwences and the desire for domination on the part of the run a power will be the immediate cause of its over throw. The moral seatiment of the people was opposed to slavery, as it is to the run traffic. All that is needed to rouse the really infinited but inaucity masses of the nation, is a continuate of the run power in its present line of action. All it has to do its to a future in the results of the really infinited but facilities and other laws which may interfer with the expential sale of run in that shall persist in media fig is political, in attempt in the continuation of the run in the shall persist in media fig is political, in attempt in the continuation of the run in the shall persist in media fig in political, in attempt in the continuation of the run in the shall persist in media and political run in the shall persist in media and political run in the shall persist in media and political run in the shall persist in media and political run in the shall persist in media and political run in the shall persist in media and political run in the shall persist in media and when the treum education on public opinion against it shall be rully awakened, the people will arise in the might and pulverise the run power.—Twisto Blade.
