The sick men, eleven in all, who took the disease at the depot camp, Tabular, were brought to the isolation hospital today. Two of them are in a dying condition. The nurse who attended them is played out, and the board is looking about everywhere for relief. It was impossible for a physician to give the men proper attention where they were, owing to the distance from town.

Miss Ka Stewart has been appointed visiting nurse for Fredericton during the epidemic.

Dr. Robertson of Keewick took up his duties today of attending Stanley and vicinity which are without a physician.

Since the outbreak of the sickness there have been four deaths from pneumonia in Fredericton. Two of these occurred at the Military Hospital. That institution had four cases of pneumonia and nineteen of influenza.

Halifax Deaths.
Halifax, Oct. 18.—Several deaths and a further increase in number of Spanish influenza cases were reported to the board of health this morning, thirty three new cases among civilians and fifteen among the military were added to the list this morning. Lloyd Munford, assistant foreman in the Evening Mail composing room, died this morning, after a few days' illness of the disease.

about three thousand cut-throat cimeters were used Wednesday.
Serious in Ontario.
Toronto, Oct. 18.—Harry (Chuck) Jackman, veteran sporting man and hotel keeper, died today of influenza after a few days' illness. He was 48 years of age and unmarried. The deceased was considered the best baseball backstop in Toronto twenty years ago.
 Reports issued in many of the larger communities in Ontario today indicate that the situation with regard to Spanish flu is more serious than at any period during the progress of the epidemic in the province. Deaths since noon yesterday have in most cases increased considerably, while the number of cases reported show no decline.

Abatement in Quebec.
Quebec, Oct. 18.—The indications gathered from reports coming in from all over the district show an abatement in the number and seriousness of grippe cases in this city, while there is a frightful rise in the cases along the south shore in rural districts. Lev's is stationary, with a slight inclination towards improvement. Extraordinary precautions are taken by the town where stores are closed early, infected houses guarded and quarantined, bodies of the dead quickly interred and kept from public exposure. Throughout rural Quebec, in this section the epidemic is in the spread. In St. Charles de Bellechasse, with 1,600 of a population, in thirteen days, there were thirty-nine deaths.

Deaths in Toronto since last night 29 and reports from local hospitals give a total of 699 patients as compared with 570 yesterday.
Worse in Montreal.
Montreal, Oct. 18.—The number of deaths among the civilian population in Montreal from midnight to noon today was 31, a jump of over twenty on yesterday's total. The new cases among civilians numbered 235, also an increase on yesterday. The provincial board of health today decided that departmental stores which hitherto have been compelled to close at 4 in the afternoon may now operate at 10 a. m. and close at 7 in the evening.
 The four o'clock closing, agreeing with the finishing hour in the city office buildings, created a transportation problem that was hard on store visitors and workers.

Decrease in Massachusetts.
Boston, Oct. 18.—A further decrease in the number of deaths due to the influenza epidemic was shown in reports to the state health department for the 24 hours ending at noon today. Figures received from ninety cities and towns showed 111 deaths and 2,983 new cases. These compare with 2,895 new cases and 216 deaths reported yesterday, from 102 cities and towns.

Rages in New York.
New York, Oct. 18.—While the number of new cases of Spanish flu, as officially reported to the health authorities at 10 a. m. today indicated further abatement of the epidemic, it was announced that in reality there have been 18,000 new cases during the past twenty-four hours, whereas only 4,500 were tabulated. The number reported is about 200 smaller than the figures issued yesterday. The deaths, numbering 283 were 47 more than yesterday.
 There were 588 new cases of pneumonia a drop of 68 and 281 deaths, a drop of 28.

Increase in Washington.
Washington, Oct. 18.—Twenty-five portable hospitals, similar to those used by the American expeditionary forces in France, were established in Washington today to care for influenza patients, for many of which facilities are not available at the city and private hospitals. The war department will provide nurses and details of soldiers to act as attendants. With deaths during the twenty-four hours period ending last night numbering 91, the record for a similar period and with a decided increase shown in the number of new cases of the disease practically all departments of the government join with the public health services today in enforcement of strict regulations to check the epidemic. Only in cases of absolute necessity will additional war workers be brought to Washington until the epidemic is under control.

Chicago Lid On.
Chicago, Oct. 18.—With the proclamation of the state influenza commission forbidding all public gatherings not essential to the war in effect today, Chicago loses the last bit of the little remaining of its gay life, the cabaret. The order shuts off all forms of entertainment in places of the sort whether "wet" or "dry."
Major Lyell Dead.
Washington, Oct. 18.—Major the Hon. Charles Lyell, principal aide to Major-General MacLachlan, military attaché of the British embassy died here today of an embolism following an attack of Spanish influenza. He was the second member of the embassy staff to fall a victim to the scourge. Captain Angus Mackintosh died Sunday.
 Major Lyell though only 43 years of age, was a prominent figure in English life. He had been a member of parliament and served as parliamentary private secretary to Sir Edward Gray and to Mr. Asquith.
Washington, Oct. 18.—Reports to the public health service today from 35 states showed that Spanish influenza still is on the increase in most parts of the country. Conditions in army camps also were less favorable, the 4791 new cases reported to noon today showing that the disease apparently was stationary after a marked decline noted for several days.
 The epidemic still is more pronounced in the eastern section of the country than it is west of the Mississippi river, due undoubtedly to the more crowded conditions in the large cities. Up to October 16, New Jersey had reported 107,828 cases with 3,232 deaths, while in New York city 4,733 cases of influenza with 336 deaths and 644 cases of pneumonia with 235 deaths were reported yesterday. Deaths in Pennsylvania up to October 15, were reported at 10,046.

THE WHOLE BODY NEEDS PURE BLOOD

The bones, the muscles, and all the organs of the body depend for their strength and tone and healthy action on pure blood.
 If the blood is very impure, the bones become diseased; the muscles become enfeebled, the step loses its elasticity, and there is inability to perform the usual amount of labor. The skin loses its clearness, and pimples, blotches and other eruptions appear.
 Hood's Sarsaparilla makes pure blood. It is positively unequalled in the treatment of scrofula and other humors, catarrh, rheumatism, dyspepsia, loss of appetite, that tired feeling. Be sure to get Hood's and get it today. All druggists.

THE MYSTERY OF MISSING CRAFT IS CLEARED UP

Boston Schooner Disappears From Lubec and Is Found at Welchpool.
MAN ARRESTED FOR STEALING SCHOONER
He Put Her Aground Once and Later Caught at Campobello.

Somewhat of a mystery ship has been sailing about down the Bay and about the waters of the Passamaquoddy. No, the Germans had nothing to do with this case, and there are no submarine figures. The mystery has been satisfactorily explained in so far as some folks are concerned, and an individual whose actions have been decidedly peculiar is now in the jail at Machias, charged with stealing the Boston schooner Reporter of Boston, which was lying in Lubec Harbor, just preparatory to her departure for Nova Scotia. Francis C. Tracy of Boston was arrested at Eastport by Sheriff Stillman Woodman and yesterday at a hearing in Machias was held for trial.
 It appears that the schooner brought coal from New York to August, then proceeded light to Lubec about two weeks ago. Captain Smith was getting ready to sail for Nova Scotia for a cargo, but needed seamen for the trip and telegraphed last week to the Boston owner. Not hearing from Boston he went to Machias for seamen and returned to Eastport Tuesday and reached Lubec later. He learned that the schooner had been taken out of Lubec by Hagg and saw her anchored in Canadian waters off Welchpool village, Campobello Island. Captain Smith telephoned Westport coast guard station at South Lubec and Wednesday night the livesavers with Captain Smith on board, took the schooner in tow and anchored her in Rumery's bay near Lubec. When sailing away Tuesday Hagg ran her ashore at Treat's Island, a mile off Lubec and was hauled off by the Canadian fishery boat Phalarope, then towed to Campobello harbor. Hagg arrived in Eastport from Boston last Thursday and registered full name, also as master mechanic certificate No. 6277 at Exchange Hotel, also registered next day, but left for Lubec without luggage, although he paid his bill. His luggage is in Eastport yet. He was there again Thursday, and borrowed enough to pay for a shave before he was arrested. Hagg claims that the owner of the schooner Reporter came from Boston with him and reaching Lubec gave him charge. Captain Smith was then away looking for seamen and Hagg sent telegrams from Eastport claiming he was trying to locate the Captain. Hagg is said to have acted strangely and those dealing with him thought him queer. His front teeth are missing, which he said was from falling down the companionway of the schooner. It is said that he was arrested last week at Lubec but released. Lubec folks said that he acted queerly. The Boston owner whose name is not known here was notified of the trouble. Captain Smith reported that Hagg joined the schooner last week and he called for Nova Scotia but not liking the man's appearance he returned and said Hagg off and discharged him, then started for Machias to locate another seaman. In the near time Hagg is said to have returned and taken possession of the schooner, away alone until overtaken in Canadian waters. Captain Smith applied for a warrant and telephoned the
