LONDON, Dec. 13. The vox ANSÆ TRIAL. Intense feeling is aroused in France by some of the papers read in the Armin trial. One despatch especially in which Bismarck says that he cannot but wish to see France weak, and deems it inadvisable to strengthen her by contributing to the establishment of a monarchy, causes profound indignation.

The examination of witnesses in the Armin trial was concluded yesterday with the testimony of Baron Holstein, who denied that Bismarck commissioned him to watch Armin. The public prosecutor made a speech for the Crown, and was followed by counsel for the defense, who had not concluded his argument.
