THE QUESTION OF DEPRECIATION

YOU cannot afford to overlook the question of depreciation when buying a car, because the time will come when you will either sell the car you have bought or turn it on a new car. The loss you will have to take will depend on your choice now.

Ask the owner of any car purchased within the last 15 months, at a price varying from $2,000 to $4,000, what loss he would have to take on a resale. The amount will surprise you!

The more expensive the car the more the owner stands to lose. Excessive cost of upkeep kills the demand for a used car of this class.

Buy a Ford. It costs so little to run, and repairs and replacement for worn parts can be so easily obtained at low cost that the demand for used Ford cars reduces depreciation to the minimum.

"Use the Bell to Sell"

Have a Big Store in a Small Town

THERE are such stores, that hold the trade for miles around, some of them built up without largely increasing capital.

The merchant buys small standardized stocks of the very best sellers, the same styles that are being shown in the big cities. He is particular to get the styles that are advertised, that his customers will look for. If it is wearing apparel, he probably does not carry the very small or very large sizes, preferring those for which there will be most demand.

When well displayed, an advertisement in the local paper starts them selling. The merchant looks upon the manufacturer or jobber as his warehouse. Once a week, or oftener, he checks up what new stock or odd sizes he needs, and orders them by Long Distance.

Shipment is often made the same day by express, parcel post, or freight. Quick delivery becomes possible. Customers are enthusiastic to find they can buy what they want in their home town. Reputation grows rapidly, and the yearly turnover increases notably.

By designating an experienced employee to handle out-of-town messages, their customers' calls are made at the low Station-to-Station rates.

DISTRICT AND GENERAL

Geo. Woods of Florence has purchased the grocery business of Bruce Stratton in Dresden.

Canada's population is given at 8,769,489 by the 1921 census—an increase of 1,562,846 in ten years.

Thrown into a chair, bound to it, rendered unconscious by a blow of the fist on the side of the head, and threatened with a gun held in the hand of a masked bandit, was the experience that occurred to Mrs. Andrew Brown, 398 Adelaide street, London, about 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon, when her home was ransacked by a robber. He finally made off after securing $15.

The report is again current that the Wabash Railway Company is contemplating the erection of locomotive repair shops at St. Thomas at a cost of approximately $500,000 in order to take care of their greatly increased Canadian business and to provide for the further increase that is anticipated when the proposed international bridge is completed between Windsor and Detroit.

Criticism of the Drury Government by Hon. George S. Henry (Conservative, York East), particularly directed at the good roads policy, and a defense of the administration by J. G. Lethbridge (U. F. O., Minto West), who argued, in support of the appointment of a minister of power, featured the continuation of the debate on the reply to the speech from the throne in the Legislature Tuesday of last week.

FOUND DEAD IN AUTOMOBILE

Inquest Ordered at Glencoe in Death of London Man

Scarcely a sensation was created at Glencoe on Tuesday morning when two men in an automobile drove up to the undertaking rooms of Gough & Son with the dead body of a third man in the back seat of the car.

The body was that of Charles Frederick Rolph, a London man, and when his death was caused by several drinks of cider, of which it was said he had partaken, or was due to other causes, is now being investigated by the authorities.

Rolph died while being driven to Bothwell in a companion's motor car early Tuesday morning, and in the informal investigation held by Dr. Woods of Mount Brydges it was learned that the dead man and his companion had been drinking cider in London shortly before they started on their drive.

The two men who were with Rolph were Frank Newn and Edward Maloney. It was said they had been drinking cider at the home of a married man, named Riley, on William street, London, and about 2 a. m. started for Bothwell in Wm. Atkinson's car. Rolph was apparently asleep in the rear seat of the car and when he did not respond to their efforts to waken him they drove to Dr. Glenn of Wardsville, who after examination said Rolph had been dead for some time. The body is still at Gough's undertaking rooms at Glencoe. Dr. Woods empanelled a jury which viewed the remains. The inquest was then adjourned until Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, when it will be held in the town hall here. In the meantime Dr. Glenn of Wardsville and Dr. McIntyre of Glencoe will hold a post-mortem.

Dr. Woods interrogated Frank Newn and Edward Maloney, who were with the deceased. Newn, who was a tinsmith and 30 years of age, deposed that he first met Rolph at William Bell's hotel on King street, London. He also met Maloney there. Maloney drove them to the home of a one-armed man named "Riley" on William street. Rolph was "pretty tight," Newn said, "It was hard to get him to talk, but he was served from a keg by their host, who took no money. We were the only ones there. We left there about 2 o'clock and took Rolph away to prevent his being arrested. We drove about the city endeavoring to find Rolph's rooming house, and not being able to find it we drove out to the country, going as far as Bothwell. We took note of the deceased who was sitting in the back seat of the car. We thought he was sleeping, but he did not look natural. We then went to Dr. Glenn who pronounced him to be dead. This was at 6 a. m. Dr. Glenn called the crown attorney who advised us to take the body to Glencoe. I did not know Rolph other than as a man who had been selling small articles from house to house."

Edward Maloney of Brantford, 34 years of age, who had been selling bulbs and accessories for Ford cars, deposed as follows: "I have been in London six weeks. Rolph had been working with me for a week. I met Rolph at Riley's and then went to supper. Rolph stayed there. Went back with Newn about 3 o'clock. William Atkinson, garage man, my boss, had telephoned to bring the car and go for a ride. No body paid for the ride that I know of. We took Atkinson home and then came back for Rolph. From that point the witness' deposition was in corroboration of that of Newn as to Rolph's condition and the call upon Dr. Glenn who pronounced Rolph to be dead."

Charles Frederick Rolph, the deceased, was better known as "Happy." His home was in Woodstock where his parents still reside, and he was about 24 years of age. The deceased is survived by father, mother, brothers and sisters. The jury comprises the following: A. B. McDonald (foreman), W. A. Hagerty, E. T. Huston, Gordon Dickson, R. M. McPherson, J. N. Currie, A. J. Wright, P. E. Lumley, I. D. Kerr and G. A. Parrott.

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH, GLENCOE

The Rev. D. N. Abbyhanker, Church Missionary Society, Bombay, India, preached morning and evening and delivered an address, exhibiting idols, articles of dress, etc., at 3 p. m., in above church on Sunday. Large and appreciative congregations attended the afternoon and evening services. It is no exaggeration to say that Mr. Abbyhanker had the attention of everyone from commencement to finish. He as a convert from the highest order of heathendom demonstrated the duty of those who know the gospel to carry or send it to those who do not. The gospel is not for us only, but for "all the world," and the church which is not a missionary church is not worthy of being called a church. Our small patriotism of ten finds it hard to transcend parochial boundaries. We do not realize that God's love, like the sky, is over all. This is much more Mr. Abbyhanker plainly and with spiritual eloquence placed before his hearers. His visit will not soon be forgotten.

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH

On St. Patrick's night, the 17th of March, in the basement of the church, under the auspices of the A. Y. P. A. and the choir, a concert and social will be given. Good program. Reserve this date.

AGENDA CLUB SOCIAL

Crinan, Feb. 24.—The box social put on in Crinan hall by the Agenda Club last evening was a decided success. In spite of the utmost efforts of snow, rain and wind to make a wreck of the evening, a crowd of more than fifty spent a very happy time. A splendid program occupied the first part of the evening. This was followed by the sale of the boxes which appeared in interesting and beautiful variety. These were auctioned by M. A. McAlpine, and owing to his efforts and to the attractiveness of his wares the entrance was all that could be wished for financially as well as socially.

There is not a single portion of the body that is not benefited by the helpful action of Tanlac.—P. E. Lumley.

NOTICE.—All accounts owing the Fletcher Mfg. Co. not paid on or before the 1st day of April, 1922, will be placed in other hands for collection. The Fletcher Co. pay cash and demand cash, and in future all work must be settled for before leaving shop. We repair only as an accommodation, and must demand cash. Bring the money or stay away.—The Fletcher Mfg. Co.

GLENCOE COUNCIL

The regular meeting of the Glencoe council was held in the council chamber on Monday, March 6, 1922. Members present: Reeve McPherson, Councillors Lumley, Parrott and McCracken. The minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted. The auditors then submitted their report, and on motion of Messrs. Lumley and Parrott the report was accepted and the clerk was instructed to issue orders on the treasurer in payment, also to order the printing of 50 copies.

On motion of Messrs. Parrott and McCracken the council endorsed the resolution of the council of the town of Hespeler opposing the raising of the standard for matriculation examination.

On motion of Messrs. Lumley and McCracken the council accepted, subject to the drawing of a petition of Thos. Huggith for sidewalk on north side of Orange street from O'Mara street to Main street.

On motion of Messrs. Parrott and McCracken the following accounts were ordered paid: J. A. McLachlan, lunch for prisoner, 25c; Nat. Cushman, hauling gravel, $26.67; Russell Newport, hauling gravel and cleaning streets, $66; A. E. Sutherland, printing, etc., $82.50; Nathaniel Currie, use of road scraper, $2; J. B. Henry, salary for February, $100; express on couplings, fire hose, 75c; A. M. Graham, rent of stove, $2.

Charles George, Clerk.

PLAY GIVEN IN WARDSVILLE

Irish Drama, "The Colleen Bawn," Well Put On

Wardsville, March 4.—A rare treat was afforded the public in the Wardsville music hall when the old original dramatic company presented the famous Irish drama entitled "The Colleen Bawn." All members of the cast presented their parts in a manner seldom seen on the amateur stage and deserve a great deal of credit. Miss Hilah Blott, taking the part of Elly O'Connor, the "Colleen Bawn," proved conclusively that she is an actress of no small merit. Miss Agnes O'Malley, taking the part of Anne Chute, the beautiful little Irish heiress, with her acting carried the audience by storm. Mrs. (Dr.) O. J. Glenn, taking the part of Mrs. Creagan, delighted the audience with her wonderful emotional acting. Mrs. J. F. Hennessey, taking the part of Sheila Mann (the boatman's mother), played a most difficult and sympathetic part. Wm. Mimma, in the role of Myles Na Copaleen, commanded rounds of applause. James McIntyre, as Hardress Creagan, displayed ability in the role of the Irish nobleman. Corrigan, the "villain," taken by Alex. McIntyre, demonstrated the avarice and craftiness of a scheming lawyer. Joe Kearns, as Danny Mann (the boatman), exhibited rare talent in his fidelity to his master. J. F. McGregor, as Father Tom, parish priest of Kenmore, played the role in realistic form. E. L. Purdy, as Kyrie Daly, Anne's lover, played the role without a fault. The bridesmaids, servants and soldiers made a fitting finale to the play, not forgetting beautiful scenery of the Emerald Isle. The orchestra, under direction of the band, rendered exceptionally appropriate music.

Owing to the number that could not gain admittance to the hall the company repeated the performance Friday evening, March 3, for the benefit of the soldiers' memorial fund.

G. H. S. NOTES

The Literary Society will hold their regular meeting on Friday afternoon of this week. The program is being prepared by the girls. Reports from London Normal tell us that Dorothy Highwood a graduate of last year, is making a very creditable showing in her work there, having received special commendation recently.

In the not far distant future the Literary Society purpose holding an open meeting in the town hall, to which the public will be invited. H. F. Johnston has offered two medals—first prize gold and second prize silver—for an oratorical contest open to all pupils of the school. A marked interest is being shown by the pupils, some of whom have indicated their intention of entering the contest. The following is the list of subjects from which the contestants must make a choice of topic:

Our Flag.
Canada's Heating Problems.
Canada's Vacant Farms.
The Greatest Man in Canadian History.

An Ideal Town.
Modern Inventions.
Music in the Home.
A Country Boy's or Girl's Chance in Life.

Canada's Place in the World.
Changes Wrought by the Auto.
What the Printing Press Has Meant to Me.
Canadian Immigration.
Does Glencoe Need a Carnegie Library?

Effects of Town Improvement.
Which Has the Greatest Influence on the People of a Country—Pulpit, Press or the Public?

We hope to report from week to week the progress which is being made in preparation for the contest.

FREIGHT WRECK AT HYDE PARK

About seven o'clock on Friday evening eight freight cars, forming a part of an eastbound Grand Trunk train, were wrecked at Hyde Park Junction when a truck under one of the cars broke. The derailed cars struck and carried away a large portion of the overhead bridge on the Hyde Park road. Traffic on the railroad was delayed for several hours. Six cars of load were included in those that were wrecked. It took several days to clear up the wreck debris and the roadway bridge will practically have to be rebuilt.

MUNRO-GEE

A very interesting wedding took place at the manse, Glencoe, on Wednesday, when Rev. Mr. Paton united in holy wedlock Sophy, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Gee of Euphemia, and Donald Munro, second youngest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Donald Munro of Mosa. The bride was daintily gowned in pearl grey satin. The young couple were unattended. The witnesses were Miss Violet Plaine and Mr. McKellar. After the ceremony the wedding party motored back to the home of the bride, where all partook of a very dainty wedding dinner, after which all motored up to Mr. Munro's house and enjoyed themselves dancing until the "wee sma' hours." Gordon McLauchlin of Kilmartin furnished the music.

On Thursday Mr. and Mrs. Munro left by M.C.R. from Alvinston to spend two weeks visiting friends in Peck, Brown City and Detroit, Mich. On their return they will reside on the groom's farm on the Brooke and Euphemia townline.
