A NIGHT WITH THE CRAFTSMEN

The "craftsmen" of the two hundred members who comprise the club was exemplified last evening at the Craftsmen's Club. Just reflect on the entertainment that was provided.

The recent programs by the Club members have been splendid and why should they not be. The members are all live wires and boosters.

The events last evening opened with cards at tables. Interspersing these were musical numbers. The big item was the story telling contest. Mr. J.J.A. Weir was the judge and he performed the duties ably but he was under a depressing handicap for the Judge was not allowed to compete for the prize himself. Had been allowed to do so, needless to say would have carried off the prize for the best story. There is some talk about upsetting the decision of the too generous chairman, although the Master of ceremonies, Mr. Henry Nyberg, has not been put wise.

Others who added to the entertainment were Dr. Russell, Dr. Koepfel, Mr. Archie Kye, Mr. Hess and others. As to the refreshments, they were all. Someone has asked why the Master of Ceremonies is unusually happy today. Well look for the diamond on his finger, presented to him by the Committee and verified to as to its value by Pawnbroker Archie Kye.
