

to make the wrap, and 8 1/2 yards of the same width to make the skirt.

Two patterns: 6906, 5 sizes, 32 to 40 inches bust measure. 6894, 7 sizes, 20 to 32 inches waist measure.

The price of these patterns is 30c, but either will be sent on receipt of 15c. Special Offer—These patterns together with one year's subscription to The Western Home Monthly—all three for 50 cents.

6402—A Lady's Bathrobe.

A bathrobe is an article of luxury which one cannot do without after realizing its convenience and usefulness. Eiderdown and Japanese cloth are the choice of materials, and the only adornment offered is the facing of a contrasting color which finishes the edges. The sketch shows the best style of bath-robe developed in blue and white eider-down and with plain blue facings. A wool cord confines it at the waist, and is the only fastening aside from the one at the neck. It is an ideal garment to be hurriedly slipped on, and covers one completely. The labor involved in its manufacture is very little and no experience is necessary. For the medium size 7 yards of 36 inch material are needed.

6402: Sizes 32 to 42 inches bust measure. Price of this pattern, 15c.

Special Offer—This pattern, with any one other pattern in this issue, together with one year's subscription to The Western Home Monthly—all three for 50 cents.

4226—A Dainty Little Bertha Frock.

The little dress here illustrated will be a joy to the maternal soul. It is made with exquisite simplicity of fine

French batiste, the yoke and bertha being decorated with delicate hand embroidery, but the design lends itself equally well to development in almost any fabric suitable for children's wear. To develop the medium size 3 1/2 yards of 24 inch material will be required.

4226: 6 sizes, 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5 years. The price of this pattern is 15c.

Special Offer—This pattern, with any one other pattern in this issue, together with one year's subscription to The Western Home Monthly—all three for 50 cents.

4240—A Piquant Coat for the Small Girl.

There is a decided air of smartness and originality about the little coat here illustrated, and the mother of a small girl will certainly extend a warm welcome to so desirable a model. It displays all of the most attractive features possible in a long coat, and although it is here made of pongee-colored panama, with trimmings of brown ribbon velvet, it is well adapted for development in any one of a variety of materials, whether silk, linen or woolen. A particularly modish feature is the shaping of the front, while the smart outward-turning tucks on back and front produce a graceful effect that is very pleasing. The medium size calls for 3 1/2 yards of 27 inch material, with 1 1/2 yards of ribbon velvet for garniture.

4240: 8 sizes, 5 to 12 years. The price of this pattern is 15c.

Special Offer—This pattern, with any one other pattern in this issue, together with one year's subscription to The Western Home Monthly—all three for 50 cents.

6913—A Smart Tailored Waist.

There is an indefinable smartness about the shirt waist sketched which will appeal to the particular woman. Linen is the material used, but any of the tub fabrics would serve as well. The very trig tucks stitched to the waist line make it neat and natty while the mannish coat closing and applied pockets are all important to its successful outcome. The sleeves are regulation shirt style, while the back of the waist has a straight yoke. For any sort of wear the style is excellent. The medium size calls for 2 1/4 yards of 36 inch material.

6913: Sizes 32 to 42 bust measure. The price of this pattern is 15c.

Special Offer—This pattern, with any one other pattern in this issue, together with one year's subscription to The Western Home Monthly—all three for 50 cents.

GLEANINGS.

A broom supporter made of spoons is a simple and convenient device. Screw two large empty spoons high up on the middle frame of a door, just far enough apart to allow the handle of the broom to slip in. The broom part rests on the spoons.

To scald milk place the entire amount in the inner vessel of a double boiler; partly fill the outer vessel with hot water, cover, and place on the fire. By the time the water boils rapidly the milk will be at the scalding point, and should be used at once.

The best way to wash any kind of flannel garments, to keep them soft and woolly as when new, is to put a teaspoonful of liquid ammonia in the water when washing, and again in the warm rinsing water. If this be done, flannel of any kind will never get hard and spoiled as one sometimes sees it.

Mix 1 lb. of powdered borax and 1 lb. of granulated sugar, and when they are thoroughly blended roll the whole with a rolling pin. If this mixture is put in the crevices around the parts frequented by blackbeetles they will quickly disappear. It is not dangerous and can be freely used, and is also one of the cheapest and best remedies that can be found.

Mildew is removed easily by lemon juice and plenty of sunshine. Put on lemon juice and let stand in livest sunshine. Another method is to use a paste compound of soft soap, table-spoonful powdered starch, juice of one lemon, salt. Cover the spot with the paste and allow it to stand forty-eight hours. A second application may be necessary.

Old blankets make the best sort of padding for ironing boards, and old pillow and bolster cases are invaluable for cleaning rags—but only an old housekeeper knows the value of rags, and she only because she has, at some time or other in her experience, found herself without old muslin and flannel when some emergency arose which called for just such an everyday need.

New Use for Strawberries.

In hanging clothes to dry, first hang up the thickest part, waist or neck bands, etc., because, if hung by the thinner part, the water would run into the thick part, lodge there, and take longer to dry. Second, hang up everything wrong side out, so that any accidental soil will not do so much damage as if it appeared on the right side.
