POCKET MONEY

Easy To Earn
BOYS AND GIRLS

Just listen. How would you like to earn a little money for yourselves during the summer? Wouldn't it be fine if you could earn enough to buy yourself a bicycle, or a pony. Perhaps you are saving up to go to the Agricultural College or Domestic Science School. Wouldn't it be nice if you could earn enough to buy mother a rocking chair or something useful for father?

Well, here's your chance. Write at once to—

Desk No. 1.

The Grain Growers' Guide,

Winnipeg.

And tell us your full name, your age, also your father's name. Be sure to tell us how much spare time you have and if you have a pony or a bicycle. Also say if you go to school. If you will do this we will tell you what we want you to do for us. The work we wish you to do is easy and if you put your minds to it you will soon be very wealthy boys and girls.

Sunshine

The Grain Growers' Sunshine Guild

We have a letter from a reader who would like to give help directly to someone in need. We might say that in future we shall conduct this department entirely in that way. We feel that this is a country club and that its members, if they knew where it was needed, would prefer to give help to others in the country. Contributors to this department are requested to give, besides their own names and addresses, a pen name to be used in the page.

To give an illustration of its use. Suppose someone whose pen name was "Butterfly" should write in for aid. A member who desired to give help might write to us for Butterfly's real name and address or enclose a stamped and sealed letter to be addressed and forwarded.

This will give the members of the Sunshine Guild an opportunity of getting to know each other and of exchanging help in a more personal manner than was formerly possible.

Prairie Lily, to whom we referred at the outset, would like to know of some young person who is sick or lonesome to whom she could write letters of encouragement and perhaps help also in a material way. If someone so unfortunately placed will send in her address we will have much pleasure in passing it along.

MY BUSINESS

It is everybody's business.
In this old world of ours,
To root up all the weeds he finds,
And cultivate the flowers.

It is everybody's business,
As he walks earth's weary miles,
To keep back all the frogs he can,
And bring out all the smiles.

It is everybody's business,
I'm sure you've always heard,
To hold in check the harsh one and
To speak the kindly word.

It is everybody's business—
It is our old world's need—
To keep the hand from unkind act,
And do the loving deed.

And since 'tis everybody's work
To be thus kind and true,
I'm sure it is not hard to see
It means both me and you.

"Whatever the weather may be," says he,
"Whatever the weather may be,
It's the songs ye sing, an' the smiles ye wear That's a-makin' the sun shine every-where."

—James Whitcomb Riley.

Dear Sunshine:—I am forwarding another package of Sunday school cards which I trust you will find a use for in scattering sunshine. My little Sunday school class have been saving them up for you and seem to take a great delight in doing so. The following are a list of the names of those who are sending cards: Esther and Elizabeth Mumford, Vera and Elwood Hamilton, Ruthie Mitchell and Carman Kirke. Wishing the Sunshine Guild great success in its good work, I remain, Sincerely yours, Lillian Todd.

We would be glad to have an application to Sunshine for these cards from some Sunday school in need of them and desirous of saving its pennies for other purposes. Will the sender accept our hearty thanks.

IF DOLLS WERE REAL

If dolls were real what fun 't would be!
Then they could truly pour their tea
And pass their plates at every meal,
If dolls were real.

If dolls were real, what cunning things
They'd do! They'd dance, and bow, and kneel,
And kiss, and love, and speak, and feel,
And put on shoes and hats and rings!
It would be nicer, a great deal,
If dolls were real.

—Julia Boynton Green, in Little Folks.

The Christian's fellowship with God is rather a habit than a rapture.

THE BUTTON FAMILY
You might not think it, but no toys
Are pleasanter at play
Than the buttons in the button-box
Aunt Jane keeps put away.

The little brother buttons
Are never rude or rough;
And, though the box is very full,
There's always room enough.

There's a fat, round mother button,
And a father button, too;
And a set of sister buttons—
White China specked with blue.

There's a bright brass uncle,
Who truly went to war;
Though he lost his shank, he twinkles
As brightly as before.

But, big or little buttons,
There's one they love the best—
A baby button, tinier
Than any of the rest.

The little baby button
Is very sweet and bright,
You'd almost think it was a pearl,
So smooth it is, and white.

One day the button-box upset,
And all fell on the ground;
Then how the little buttons skipped
And spun and ran around!

And when they all were gathered up,
And safely home once more,
They cried, "Oh, didn't we have fun
Out on the nursery floor!"

A FABLE

A ragged beggar was creeping along
The street. He carried an old wallet, and asked every passer-by for a few cents.
As he was grumbling at his lot, he kept wondering why it was that people who had so much were never satisfied, but were always wanting more.

"If I only had enough to eat and wear,
I should be satisfied," said the beggar.
Just at that moment Fortune came down the street. She saw the beggar and stopped. She said to him:

"Listen! I have long wished to help you. Hold out your wallet, and I will pour this gold into it, but I will pour only on this condition: all that falls upon the ground shall become dust. Do you understand?"

"Oh, yes, I understand," said the beggar.

"Then have a care," said Fortune,

"your wallet is old."

He opened the wallet quickly, and the yellow metal was soon pouring in.

"Is that enough?"

"Not yet," said the beggar.

"Isn't it cracking?" asked Fortune.

"Never fear. Just a little more,"

said the beggar. "Add just another handful."

Another handful was added, and the wallet burst from end to end.—The Round Table.

DOUBLE TROUBLE

Two tearful maids I met,
Who looked as like as pins.

I asked, "What is the trouble, dears?"

They answered, "We are twins!"

"It seems to make you weep," said I.

"Why, yes; and you would too,

If you were both of us," said they,

"And both of us were you."

"We always have to dress alike,

And on the cars or street
Some silly person's sure to say,

"Why you are twins—how sweet!"

And as to birthdays, we've but one

To Madge and Dolly's two.

Would you like that if you were us,

And both of us were you?"

"It's very trying when mamma
Can't tell us two apart,
You'd think by this she would have grown

To know us both by heart!
But in our pictures even we Aren't sure which twin is who.

Oh, how we wish that you were us,
And both of us were you!"

—St. Nicholas.
