MR. THOS. STRANG SPEAKS THAT SUFFERERS MAY READ AND LIVE.

Attacked With La Grippe, the After Effects Developing Heart Trouble—His Friends Thought Him Near Death's Door—After Many Failures He Has Once More Regained the Blessing of Perfect Health.

from the Comber Herald.

Strangfield is a post office corner about six miles from Comber. It was named after the highly respected and well known family of Strangs. The neighborhood is a quiet one, being inhabited by a church-going, sober, industrious people. Among the people of that neighborhood none is better or more favorably known than Mr. Thos. Strang. Mr. Strang is a man of middle age and a bachelor. A few days ago he related to the Herald the story of his recovery from an illness which he believes would have resulted fatally but for the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The origin of Mr. Strang's trouble was la grippe which developed into heart disease. He laid for months with every nerve in his frail body unstrung. He tried many medicines, but none seemed to materially benefit him. He would rally at times and endeavor to walk, but his system being reduced and weakened he would frequently fall prostrate to the ground, and his friends had to carry him into the house. This terrible state of things lasted for months and all the while he was getting weaker, and even the most hopeful of his friends feared the worst. Mr. Strang was strongly urged to try the world renowned Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and consented to do so. A neighbor was despatched to the Comber drug store for a supply. In a few days after beginning their use he began to improve. In a couple of weeks he was able to walk around, and to-day Mr. Strang is rejoicing and telling the same old story that hundreds of others are telling in this fair Dominion—the story of renewed strength through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Mr. Strang is now a sound man. Quite frequently he walks to Comber, a distance of six miles, to attend church. He informed the Herald that he was only too glad to give his experience so that suffering humanity may also reap the benefit and thus be released from the thrall of disease and pain. To his benefactors—for such they are—Mr. Strang feels that he owes a debt of gratitude. With him the days when beads of agony stood on his brow have passed away, and his body has been regenerated anew by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

The after effects of la grippe and all troubles due to poor blood or shattered nerves, speedily yield to a fair treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They cure when other medicines fail, and no one should suffer for an hour without giving this great remedy a trial. Sold by dealers or sent by mail postpaid, at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, by addressing the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., or Schenectady, N. Y. VICTORIOUS JAPAN.

She is Now a Naval and Military Power to Be reckoned With.

The nation which has 60,000,000 men capable of bearing arms, but which is leaderless; which has untold wealth, but does not know how to use it, has succumbed to the nation which, all told, women and children included, is not much above 40,000,000 souls. China, which has more than 300,000,000 inhabitants, probably, has been the "under dog" since the struggle began last summer.

It was reported on June 6th last year that "the rebellion in Korea was becoming more active, and that 2,000 Chinese troops were marching against the rebels." Japan was of the opinion that the rebellion arose from the misgovernment of the King of Korea, and in order to protect Japanese interests in his country ordered that monarch to give his people the reforms they asked for, and thus bring the rebellion to a speedy end. Failing prompt obedience the Japanese took the matter into their own hands, and thus came into conflict with China. There were a few desultory battles, and on August 1st Japan declared to the Powers that she intended to fight China. On the previous day a naval battle had taken place, in which a Chinese warship was sunk and many lives lost. On August 8 the Chinese were defeated in two battles, and lost 5000 men. On August 17 and 24 Japan losing 1,300 men, and on the latter date it was reported that China had an army of 34,000 men in the field. From this time forward, with but few exceptions, the fortune of war went against the Chinese. On September 7 Japan had 100,000 men in Korea, and on September 17 China lost 17,000 in killed, wounded, and prisoners. Fort Arthur, the Chinese stronghold, fell on November 23. The fighting went on by sea and land. On February 12 the Chinese forts and warships at Wei-Hai-Wei were completely surrendered to the victorious Japanese, and talk at once began about overtures for peace.

Up to the middle of last summer there was nothing so marvellous in recent centuries as the way in which the Japanese were absorbing and assimilating Western ideas of civilization. But there is nothing in the history of the world quite so astounding as the way in which this small Eastern nation has managed herself in the present war. It turns out that she was not only sending young men to colleges, but buying and building ironclads, guns, and amassing war material, and training an army and navy. Within the memory of comparatively young men, Japan was a nation to laugh at and write comic operas about. Japan is now a military and naval power to be reckoned with. She is victorious, and she will have money. From this onward she can hardly fail to take a most important position in relation to the commerce of the world and the question of the East.

Building a New Empire.

How Russia is Rapidly Developing the Riches of Eastern Siberia.

In her interesting letters Mrs. Bishop draws a striking picture of the manner in which the Russian government is opening up the fertile regions of Eastern Siberia. Nikolskoye is a place of 15,000 inhabitants, the centre of a large government flour mill and elaborate barracks. For many miles on either side the new Siberian railroad passes through neat villages and prosperous farms. "From Spasskoje," says Mrs. Bishop, "and east of the Hanka Lake up to Ussuri, the magnificent region is waiting to be peopled. Grass, timber, water, coal, a soil as rich as the prairies of Illinois, and a climate not only favorable to agriculture, but to human health, all await the settler; and the broad, uncultivated and fertile lands which Russian Manchuria offers are capable of supporting a population of many millions. Here Russia is laying solidly the foundations of a new empire, which she purposes to make a homogeneous one. 'No foreigner need apply.' One thousand families, assisted emigrants from Russia of the best class, will come out next year, and the number is to increase progressively. Each head of an emigrating household has to deposit 600 roubles with a government official on leaving Odessa, which he receives on landing in Siberia. The emigrants, on reaching Vladivostok, are lodged in excellent emigrant barracks, and can buy the necessary agricultural implements at cost price from a government depot. Already along the railroad houses are springing up; and if security can be obtained there is nothing to prevent the country from being peopled up to the Chinese frontier, the rivers Sungacha and Ussuri, which form the boundary from the Hanka Lake to Khabarovka, on the Amur, giving a considerable protection from brigandage."

A Mixed-Up Family.

Here are the raw materials for a headache: Dr. King, of Adelaide, a widower, married a Miss Norris. Shortly after the doctor's honeymoon the doctor's son married a sister of the doctor's wife. Then a brother of the doctor's wife married the doctor's daughter. In other words, the doctor's son became his stepmother's brother-in-law, and the doctor's daughter became her stepmother's sister-in-law. The doctor, by the marriage of his son to the sister of the doctor's wife, became father-in-law to his sister-in-law, and the doctor's wife, by the marriage of her sister to her stepson, became stepmother-in-law to her own sister. By the marriage of the brother of the doctor's wife to the doctor's daughter the doctor became father-in-law to his brother-in-law, and the doctor's wife became stepmother-in-law to her own brother. What relations are the children of the contracting parties to each other?

The Height of Clouds.

The very highest clouds, those called cirrus and cirrostratus, rise to the average height of about 39,000 feet. A second class keep at a height of from 10,000 to 23,000 feet above the earth, while the lower clouds usually float at a height seldom exceeding 5,000 feet. In the case of the last mentioned class of clouds the lower surface may be at a height not exceeding 3,000 to 4,000 feet, while their towering summit will be removed from the earth by not less than 16,000 feet. Professor Moller says that the vertical dimensions of a cloud will often exceed 10,000 feet, and that he has observed those which he had every reason to believe were not less than 25,000 feet thick.

Pains in the Joints

Caused by Inflammatory Swelling

A Perfect Cure by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"It affords me much pleasure to recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla. My son was afflicted with great pain in the joints, accompanied with swelling so bad that he could not get up stairs to bed without crawling on hands and knees. I was very anxious about him, and having read so much about Hood's Sarsaparilla, I determined to try it, and got a half-dozen bottles, four of which entirely cured him." Mrs. G. A. WAS GOULD INSANE?

Financial Worry and Physical Exertion Not the Greatest Destroyer of Human Life.

For Humanity's Sake, After Thirty-six Years of Nerve-Creeping Slavery, He Tells How He Was Set Free.

Caldwell, N. J., April 25. (Special)—Since one of our prominent citizens, who has suffered so terribly from tobacco (tremens), has made known his frightful experience in behalf of humanity, the ladies here are making tobacco-using husbands' lives miserable with their entreaties to at once quit tobacco.

The written statement of S. J. Gould is attracting wide-spread attention. When interviewed to-night he said: "I commenced using tobacco at thirteen; I am now forty-nine; so, for thirty-six years I chewed, smoked, snuffed and rubbed snuff. In the morning I chewed before I put my pants on, and for a long time I used two ounces of chewing and eight ounces of smoking a day. Sometimes I had a chew in both cheeks and a pipe in my mouth at once. Ten years ago I quit drinking whisky. I tried to stop tobacco time and again, but could not. My nerves earned a tobacco-brown; cold, sticky, perspiration oozed from my skin, and trickled down my back at the least exertion or excitement. My nerve vigor and my life were being slowly sapped. I made up my mind that I had to quit tobacco or die. On October 1, I stopped, and for three days I endured the tortures of the damned. On the third day I got so bad that my partner accused me of being drunk. I said, 'No, I have quit tobacco.' 'For God's sake, man,' he said, offering me his tobacco box, 'take a chew; you will go wild,' and I was wild. Tobacco was forced into me and I was taken home dazed. I saw double and my memory was beyond control, but I still knew how to chew and smoke, which I did all day until towards night, when my system got tobacco soaked again. The next morning I looked and felt as though I had been through a long spell of sickness. I gave up in despair, as I thought that I could not cure myself. Now, for suffering humanity, I'll tell what saved my life. Providence evidently answered my good wife's prayers and brought to her attention in our paper an article which read: 'Don't Tobacco Spit and Smoke Your Life Away.'"

"What a sermon and warning in these words! Just what I was doing. I told about a guaranteed cure for the tobacco habit, called No-To-Bac. I sent to Drugist Hasler for a box. Without a grain of faith I spit out my tobacco cud, and put into my mouth a little tablet upon which was stamped No-To-Bac. I know it sounds like a lie, when I tell you that I took eight tablets the first day, seven the next, five the third day, and all the nerve-creeping feeling, restlessness and mental depression were gone. It was too good to be true. It seemed like a dream. That was a month ago. I used one box. It cost me $1, and it is worth a thousand. I gained ten pounds in weight and lost all desire for tobacco from the first day. I sleep and eat well, and I have been benefited in more ways than I can tell. No, the cure was no exception in my case. I know of ten people right here in Caldwell who have bought No-To-Bac from Hasler, and they have been cured. Now that I realize what No-To-Bac has done for me and others, I know why it is that the makers of this wonderful remedy, the Sterling Remedy Company, of New York and Chicago, say: 'We don't claim to cure every case. That's fraud's talk, a lie; but we do guarantee three boxes to cure the tobacco habit, and in case of failure we are perfectly willing to refund money.' I would not give a public endorsement if I were not certain of its reliability. I know it is backed by men worth a million. No-To-Bac has been a God-send to me, and I firmly believe it will cure any case of tobacco-using if faithfully tried, and there are thousands of tobacco slaves who ought to know how easy it is to get free. There's happiness in No-To-Bac for the prematurely old man, who think as I did that they are old and worn out, when tobacco is the thing that destroys their vitality and manhood."

The public should be warned, however, against the purchase of any of the many imitations on the market, as the success of No-To-Bac has brought forth a host of counterfeiters and imitators. The genuine No-To-Bac is sold under a guarantee to cure, by all druggists, and every tablet has the word No-To-Bac plainly stamped thereon, and you run no physical or financial risk in purchasing the genuine article.

Does Not Irritate, But Heals.

It is remarkable that those who suffer from kidney disease grow impatient of those medicines that are slow in their cure. Who enjoy pain? The beauty of South American Kidney Cure is that it relieves the sufferer almost instantaneously. What sick man does not know the delight that comes when pain is relieved? Kidney Cure, as a plain matter of fact, relieves the most distressing kidney and bladder troubles in six hours. It is hard to say anything more for it. Who wants more said for it?

It is cowardice to fear men, but discretion to fear women.

Get Rid of Neuralgia.

There is no use in fooling with neuralgia. It is a disease that gives way only to the most powerful remedies. No remedy yet discovered has given the grand results that invariably attends the employment of Polson's Nerviline. Nerviline is a positive specific for all nerve pains, and ought to be kept on hand in every family. Sold every where, 25 cents a bottle.

It is said that Rev. Dr. Edward Everett Hale gained the experience embodied in his whimsical story, "My Double," at Worcester, Mass.

Tidings from Amosa Wood Hospital.

Mr. J. E. Smith, of Amosa Wood Hospital, St. Thomas, Ont.: "For a long time I was afflicted with very bad rheumatic pains and vertigo, and became so intense that life to me was misery. I saw the South American Kidney Cure and determined on giving it a trial. I procured a bottle from R. J. O'Druggist of St. Thomas. Before taking one-half the bottle I found the greatest relief, but kept on taking it, using in all four bottles. I feel that quantity to give the medicine a fair trial. I had no sign of an ache or pain after taking the second bottle. I can strongly recommend this remedy to all sufferers from rheumatism. I feel confident it will do for them all it did for me."

Adam's Root Beer Extract.....One bottle
Fleischmann's Yeast.....half a cake
Sugar.....two pounds
Lukewarm Water.....two gallons

Dissolve the sugar and yeast in the water, add the extract, and bottle; place in a warm place for twenty-four hours until it ferments, then place on ice, when it will open sparkling and delicious.

The root beer can be obtained in all drug and grocery stores in 10 and 25 cent bottles to make two and five gallons.

There is such a thing as useful truthfulness.

"Now good digestion wait on appetite, And health on both," says the great Shakespeare, but he did not have in mind a coated tongue or torpid liver, with all the symptoms of biliousness, so common in this country. All this and more, can be cured by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, a purely vegetable compound, which restores the action of the liver, gives tone to the flagging energies of the dyspeptic's stomach, and thus enables "good digestion to wait on appetite, and health on both." By druggists.
