The Peanut Crop.
 Virginia still leads in the production of peanuts, with Oklahoma and Texas following. The last statistics show that there were 880,000 acres in this country planted to this product. Curiously enough, Marselles, France, is the greatest peanut consumer in the world, owing to the use made of the nut in the production of oil, which substitutes to a great extent for olive oil.

Swine Market of Warsaw.
 Warsaw's swine market is one of the most original in the world, and the first view obtained of it by the traveler is startling. On the stone paved market place the bodies are laid in irregular rows, and here come the buyers to examine and purchase at will.

PRACTICAL HEALTH HINT.

Sore Throat.
 Mild cases of sore throat can be treated at home oftentimes. Sucking small pieces of ice relieves the heat and pain in the throat. Wrapping the throat with towels which have been wrung out of cold water is another grateful treatment. Soaking the feet in hot water to which a little mustard has been added is also helpful. One should go to bed at once after having the foot bath. Before taking the foot bath take a sedlitz powder or a glass of citrate of magnesia. A sore throat is often an outward expression of a mild toxæmia caused by the retention of fermenting food in the digestive canal. The laxative medicine relieves this condition and cures the throat trouble.

AUTOMATIC POLICEMEN.

Mechanical Devices to Control Traffic on Crowded Streets.
 An automatic traffic policeman, which picks itself up every time it is knocked down by a careless driver, is one of the latest of the many inventions to control vehicular traffic on crowded city streets. It is a metal cylinder about four feet high, which is placed in the roadway at the middle of the intersection of two streets, and is intended to warn drivers against the dangerous practice of cutting across from one street to another instead of making a safe turn at right angles.

The automatic policeman is attached to a spring hidden in a deep hole in the pavement. If the wheel of a passing motor truck strikes the sign and knocks it down the spring goes up and pulls the policeman up to a standing position again, like the toy figure that cannot be made to lie down.

Another odd automatic policeman is in service in San Francisco. High in the air at the intersection of two streets and suspended by wires from corner buildings is an arrow bearing the word "STOP."

This arrow can be turned to stop the traffic on one street, and then turned to stop it on the cross street, by the manipulation of buttons from a convenient post at the street curb.

Each time the arrow moves, a bell above it rings once or twice, in accordance with the usual whistle signals for traffic, but in case of a fire, the prospect that fire apparatus will soon be along, the arrow begins to whirl round and the bell rings continuously, to signify that all traffic on both streets must be stopped.—Saturday Evening Post.

HERE'S A BASEBALL TIP.

This Writer Picks the Boston Americans and Giants as winners.

Just now the fans who prefer to back a favorite rather than a long shot are proclaiming that the Braves are due to repeat their 1914 performance and that the Red Sox will scamper away with the American league bunting. Possibly they are correct. Personally, I will confess that I favor the Boston team to top the racers in the Johnson contest and the Connors turns out to be another miracle worker.

But the Stallings crew, wonderful players though they are, have no clench on the rag in the parent organization. Admitting that they have every advantage in a paper forecast, there's man a slip 'twixt April and October, as McGraw's bunch learned to their sorrow last season.
