"IN THE WAKE OF THE WAR"

Instructive Lecture Delivered Last Evening in Colborne Street Church
BY DR. LINCOLN WIRT
Fifty Per Cent. of American People are For the Allies

One of the most masterful and instructive addresses ever heard in this city was that of Dr. Lincoln Wirt, delivered before a breathless audience last evening in Colborne street Methodist church, as a first of a series of lectures. Dr. Wirt, a speaker of the power and of the personality in the course of his words, made a strong plea for the sympathy of the people of Canada with President Wilson of the United States. Patriotism in this country ran high, and the speaker deplored the fact that it was not burning so strongly in his own land. There, at least fifty per cent. of the population were straining at the leash, anxious to do more to show their sympathy with the Allies. But Wilson's position was a difficult one. In the first place, the party in power was not the genuine Yankee party as we conceived of it, but the Southern faction. The Irish element, the speaker claimed, was even more bitterly opposed to war than the German faction, which nevertheless mustered 20 per cent. of the population. In this country, the speaker declared, the vast majority were for the right direction always, and the speaker ventured the opinion that the torpedoing of the Laconia would prove the overt act awaited by the United States.

The chair was occupied during the evening by Major E. Sweet of the 215th battalion, while appropriate music was rendered by Mr. G. C. Wirt. After the Rev. W. E. Baker, briefly introduced the speaker of the evening, following which Major Sweet explained to him that he was speaking in a loyal and patriotic section of the Dominion, where no less than ten per cent. of the population had enlisted. He emphasized the fact that Britain was in the war for a great world principle, and that there was too much at stake for any consideration of a peace without victory.

Dr. Lincoln Wirt, in the opening remarks of his address, cited an instance of what might have been divine intercession in the affairs of the war. He had been about to book his passage to Europe upon the Lusitania when the ill-fated vessel sailed upon its last trip, but at the behest of a missionary friend in New York, who urged him against such an act, he transferred his sailing to another vessel journeying to the Mediterranean. While still at sea, word was flashed to them of the sinking of the Lusitania, and so great was the impression created that one man died of sheer fright, according to the verdict of the doctor. At that time, there were two German submarines active in the Mediterranean, and Dr. Wirt during the voyage saw the wreckage of two torpedoed British battleships. He expressed himself as having never been so glad to touch land once more as when he set foot on the shores of Italy.

While in Italy, the speaker witnessed an event which he considered typical of the spirit of the Allies in the war. Before the royal palace a crowd had gathered clamoring for war against the king and queen. They were shouting and waving. A crowd upon the balcony, the struggle between king and people was made plain, ending when after a consultation, the Queen kissed the flag and threw it down to the people, signifying the entry of the nation into the war.

A much limited monarchy, if not a republican form of government was predicted by the speaker for Italy within ten years, for Spain within five and for Greece within three. He considered that the world to-day was standing upon the brink of a renaissance of civilization tending toward democracy, and quoted the words of H. G. Wells, commencing, "No more over-lords or supermen." The case of France he cited as an instance of the religious renaissance sweeping over the world, contrasting the atheism in vogue there before the war with the fervor of devotion to be encountered everywhere to-day.

A vote of thanks to the speaker was tendered in closing the evening by Messrs. A. M. Harley and Sidney Weir, who assured him that Canada bore no animus to the United States. Last evening's lecture was the first of a series to be delivered by the most prominent speakers of the day, who are being brought here through the enterprise of the church league.

TWO DEAD

By Courier Leased Wire.
Toronto, Feb. 28.—Two French-Canadian workmen on the Bloor viaduct, were found dead in their room at 39 Cambridge avenue, early today, from gas poisoning. They are Joseph Lebarge, 30, and Frank Brough, 35. They arrived in Toronto from Montreal last Thursday. Attracted to their room at three o'clock this morning by the odor of gas, the landlord found both men dead in bed, while the room was filled with gas, which was escaping from a half open gas jet.
The police are of the opinion that the men left a light burning when they went to sleep and it was accidentally extinguished.
