

THE ASSEMBLY FAVORS UNION

Presbyterian Body Adopts Church Union Proposal By Vote of 184 to 73.

Halifax, N. S., June 7.—All the commissioners from various parts of Canada and hundreds of Halifax people met in St. Matthew's Church this morning to hear the debate on Church Union before the general assembly when forenoon addresses in favor were delivered by Dr. Patrick of Winnipeg and Lieutenant-Governor Fraser, who presented the report of the union committee. The controlling idea was the need of united action in order to cope with vast demands of religious work in the newer districts of Western Canada. The report, after receiving the history of the movement since the invitation for negotiations was received from the Methodist Church in 1902, urged that union be the result of all Christian people, if not forbidden by conscience; that the benefits of union would be many; that union is required by the necessities of the work of the evangelization of the world; and that the present proposed union may be precursor of a still wider union. The assembly is, therefore, asked for its formal approval of a basis of union and to send documents to all Presbyteries who vote such vote to be reported to the assembly of 1911 and final action to be taken in 1912.

Unanimously. In seconding the adoption of the report, Lieutenant-Governor Fraser said he had seen in the far west unpopulated regions between Methodist and Presbyterian churches in small villages, but it was not necessary to leave Nova Scotia to witness that. During the present year, 400,000 people would enter Canada and they would bring no money with them. Principal McKay, of Vancouver, presented an amendment to the report and he was still speaking when the morning session terminated.

Final Vote in Favor. The final and decisive vote on the question was taken at the close of the afternoon session. Earlier in the day it had been arranged that at a fixed hour Dr. Patrick should be given thirty minutes for the closing address and he began to speak at five o'clock. The vote was taken shortly before six and resulted as follows: For union, 184; against, 73.

The vote does not indicate the feeling of the assembly on the question of union in itself. According to the findings of the Union committee, the report is to be sent this year to the Presbyterian Assembly for consideration and vote and next year to emigrate for consideration and vote. It was agreed that the assembly of 1911 might vote as against union without sending the matter down to the congregations.

This point was fought out in the afternoon with the utmost vigor and determination, and it is stated that of the 73 commissioners who voted against the adoption of the report, a considerable number are strong men who will be consulted this year, and their votes on the matter called for.

The meeting was full of excitement all through the afternoon and evening, culminating with the address of Dr. Patrick and the taking of the vote. The Winnipeg Free Press, which stated his exact and varied knowledge of the history of similar movements in the past. The various arguments adduced by Principal McKay, of Vancouver, and other opponents of union were dealt with and fully discussed.

University Question Debated. Halifax, June 6.—A debate of the warmest nature was precipitated in the General Assembly today, when the commission on Queen's University, named in the assembly of 1909, made their report. The popular interest in the discussion was shown by the fact that the attendance both of commissioners and the general public was larger than on any day of last week.

Rev. Dr. Lyje, moderator of the assembly of 1909, laid the report of the commission before the assembly. Rev. Dr. McLeod, of Barrie, at once asked whether the minority report ought to be submitted at that juncture. An attempt was apparently made by friends of separation to shut out this report on a technicality and half a dozen points of order were raised. Four or five speakers were on the platform at one time and the moderator spent a strenuous half-hour.

He finally decided to accept both reports and these were submitted. The first mention of church union was made at the assembly in this morning's session. Dr. Patrick, of Winnipeg, read the report of the union committee, which was in absolute accord with the cause of union. After giving some account of and stating clearly the various arguments for union, the report recommended that the statement be sent down to the Presbyteries for a vote, such a vote to be taken prior to May, 1911.

Principal McKay, on behalf of those opposed to union, secured permission to have the alternative plan printed. The business is so great that the assembly may be compelled to remain in session till the end of the week. The invitation from Knox Church, Toronto, for the assembly of 1911 was accepted, and it will meet there first Wednesday, June 15, 1911.

Visitors Occupy Pulpits. Halifax, N. S., June 6.—The pulpits of every evangelist church in the city were filled yesterday by members of the General assembly. The arrangements for these services were made by a local committee, which distributed the best known ministers of the church impartially among the various denominations. A considerable number of the members of the assembly went to points outside Halifax, and among these were many former residents of the province, who are now in June 2nd. Bulletin News Service. The baseball team, with a bunch of enthusiastic fans, journeyed to the city on Saturday afternoon to try conclusions with the famous Agricola ball players.

The game was played with excitement and though all the players did not make errors when given the opportunity, the need of practice was made abundantly clear by both teams. It seems to be fashionable to kick at the umpire's decisions.

When Mayor Berger says the final foe of Socialism will be the Roman Catholic Church he speaks well," said Dr. Brant, "but what does that matter. Before the Socialists have won over every man who owns a bit of land the time will be so distant that it is not worth bothering with. Socialism having nothing will be against private property rights, yet if I have one ten acres of land do you suppose he would divide it with his fellows? No, he would immediately cease to be a Socialist.

NEWSPAPERMEN GO TO OTTAWA. To Appear Before Railway Commissioners on Telegraph Rates. Winnipeg, June 4.—A number of western daily newspaper publishers are in the city today and will leave this evening on the Imperial Limited for Ottawa, together with representatives of the Winnipeg daily papers, to attend a meeting of the Board of Railway Commissioners on Tuesday next. The board will then consider what is hoped will prove the final stage of the now historic case of the Western Associated Press against the telegraph companies, in which the applicant, representing practically every daily newspaper between Port Arthur and the mountains, besides several on the coast, seeks to obtain fair press rates for delivering its news services to its clients.

The board's monthly ago prohibited the Canadian Pacific Railway telegraph from further discrimination against clients of the Western Associated Press and in favor of papers taking the railway company's news service, and an effort has since been made under the direction of the board, to arrive at a schedule which should be fair and satisfactory to all the publishers and telegraph companies. For this purpose the telegraph companies have been given two opportunities to file schedules, but on each occasion the schedules filed have been of such a character as to be unacceptable to the board and an object of derision by the publishers.

Finally, at the sitting of the board here last month, the western publishers, through the Western Associated Press, filed a schedule of their own, which they claim is scientific and fair to all parties. It is to consider any objections by the telegraph companies and also, it is hoped, to finally settle the question that the Board of Railway Commissioners will hear the interested parties next Tuesday.

Among those who will leave this evening are E. H. Mackin and J. W. Dufour, of the Manitoba Free Press; W. E. Kerr, of the Regina Leader; J. Woods, of the Calgary Herald; C. F. Hayes, of the Edmonton Bulletin; and B. H. Hill, of the Vancouver World.

She had quarrelled with her mother in the afternoon when objection was made to her going with Fraser. She had written a note to her mother, in which she said she was going with Fraser, a porter in one of the city hotels.

NO PRAYERS SAID AT LATE KING'S DEATH

Would Give No Time to Religious Exercises—Every Conscious Moment Devoted to Settlement of Worldly Affairs—Reported to Have Left Two Wills.

London, June 5.—There has been a dissonance in religious circles as to the attitude of King Edward on his death-bed towards religion. It is learned from authority that so long as he was conscious the King would give no time to religious ministrations. When he realized that death was near he dictated messages to friends, and had a long talk with the Prince of Wales. Queen Alexandra brought in an intimate friend, who, it has been rumored, was Father Vaughan. This, however, is not a fact. It is a fact that not a single prayer was said for the King's soul while he was conscious, the dying monarch using every conscious minute to settle his worldly affairs.
