The numerous friends of M. McGugan, clerk, of Caradoc, will regret to hear of the death of his mother, which occurred at his residence in Mount Brydges a few days ago. The lady was in her 84th year, and apparently in her usual health up to a day or so before the end came, which was quite sudden, apparently resulting from heart failure. The deceased lady was the daughter of John McNeil, being born at North Knupdale, Argyleshire, Scotland, in 1809, and came with her parents to the township of Caradoc in 1843. In 1843 she was married to the late Mr. Donald McGugan, who died in 1878, and during her long residence in the township she has been known and esteemed by a very large circle of friends as a kind-hearted, genial and estimable woman.

neck pressing his race londly in the lones of drapery on her boson, whilst he with one arm around her delicate waist reached out the other hand and felt the medium sitting entranced in his chair, and all at once the spirit dematerialized and vanished from his grasp. At another time, while sitting alone in his back parlor, separated from the rest of the circle, the spirit of General George Washington appeared to him, accompanied by Miss Fleetwood, a very ancient spirit, both fully materialized, and Washington clothed in regalia and other Masonic emblems. They both talked to him some fifteen minutes, at the same time surrounding themselves with a beautiful halo of light, filling the entire room, and while thus illuminated took him to the medium, whom he found to be in a perfectly comatose condition and dead to all appearance, leaving an impression on his mind that he can never forget to his dying day. Mr. McRobert was asked by one person to whom he related the circumstance if he was really in his normal condition at the time, and he made the reply that he never was more so in his life. Now, I firmly believe that Mr. McRobert spoke the truth and nothing but the truth when relating those and other equally wonderful experiences he has had. But I have charity enough to believe that he is not now wholly responsible for all that he has said in order to injure my reputation as a man, ruin my prospects as a medium, and even blight and destroy my dearest and tenderest family relations. A man who can do a thing of this kind must be under the control of a fiend of the blackest and most malignant type that it is possible for the infernal regions to produce. Thanking you again for the space thus allowed me in your columns, I remain, most truty, etc., W. T. Church.
