AMERICAN MARKETS.

CHICAGO.

Chicago, Feb. 27.—Wheat—Early firm undertone and market firm all day, especially in the July future. The strength in corn and covering by shorts on prospects of a cold wave after recent rains caused prices to advance, and closed firm at about the highest point of the day. There are more or less evidences of a short interest in July, and should crop scare come into the market, they would doubtless affect this delivery more than the May. For this reason we consider the July a better purchase than the May. Cars for tomorrow, 20.

Corn led the grain list in point of both interest and activity, the May price up from 46%c to 46%c and 47%c. Many of the larger interests appear to be arrayed on the buying side. Heavy rains are said to have made country roads so bad that a heavy movement is not expected soon. High bids to country points are not bringing out many acceptances on either corn or oats. Cars tomorrow, 320.

Oats continue firm and steady, the price tendency either fully maintained or slightly higher. Selling is of a scattered character, while a good demand comes from commission houses. Cars, 150. CHICAGO.

City Authorities Annoyed at the G. T. R. Actions.

Trains Too Often Hold People a Crossings.

There is a distinct feeling of annoyance at the city hall at the way in which the Grand Trunk is continually causing blockades at crossings. The authorities there say that no improvement has been effected by the local officials, notwithstanding frequent complaints. Mayor Beck said today that many citizens have protested to him that delays are unreasonably long. Among others the postoffice authorities have complained that their mail gatherers are often held at crossings. So many complaints of this kind, promise to make this matter one of enough importance to justify action on the part of the city council.
