

AFTER SIX YEARS OF SUFFERING

Woman Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Columbus, Ohio.—"I had almost given up. I had been sick for six years with female troubles and nervousness. I had a pain in my right side and could not eat anything without hurting my stomach. I could not drink cold water at all nor eat any kind of raw fruit, nor fresh meat nor chicken. From 178 pounds I went to 118 and would get so weak at times that I fell over. I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and ten days later I could eat and it did not hurt my stomach. I have taken the medicine ever since and I feel like a new woman. I now weigh 127 pounds so you can see what it has done for me already. My husband says he knows your medicine has saved my life."—Mrs. J. S. BARLOW, 1824 South 4th St., Columbus, Ohio.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound contains just the virtues of roots and herbs needed to restore health and strength to the weakened organs of the body. That is why Mrs. Barlow, a chronic invalid, recovered so completely. It pays for women suffering from any female ailments to insist upon having Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Avert A Food Famine

The world as a whole faces something approaching famine conditions before next winter is over. Nearly a dozen countries are already upon rations and one of the great Chicago packers warns the United States that it will soon have meatless days unless adequate measures are taken to conserve and increase the quantities of live stock throughout the country. The simple fact is that the world is not raising enough food to feed itself. Millions of men have been taken from agriculture for war, millions of acres of land have gone out of production in Europe, and other millions of acres have fallen seriously below normal productivity through lack of fertilizers and proper cultivation. On top of this there have been serious crop shortages in North and South America. Only one condition could result from such a combination of circumstances, and that is the one which confronts mankind today.

It is in view of this menacing situation that extraordinary agricultural efforts are being put forth in Canada as in all other countries outside the

MRS. CLAYTON'S LETTER

To Run-Down, Nervous Women

Louisville, Ky.—"I was a nervous wreck, and in a weak, run-down condition when a friend asked me to try Vinol. I did so, and as a result I have gained in health and strength. I think Vinol is the best medicine in the world for a nervous, weak, run-down system and for elderly people."—Mrs. W. C. CLAYTON, Louisville, Ky.

Vinol, which contains beef and cod liver peptones, iron and manganese peptonates, and glycerophosphates, is guaranteed to overcome all run-down, weak, devitalized conditions.

zone of actual hostilities. The first thing to be done is to get as much land as possible under crop in the next two or three weeks. Every town man who can manage a plow should be willing to lend his services in order that his own family and the Allied people may have enough food to carry them through the coming winter to the next crop. No employer in Canada has a moral right to retain plowmen in other occupations until the utmost possible amount of spring seeding and planting is accomplished.

Pte. Wm. E. Bourne

Severely Wounded

Alvinston Free Press

On Saturday Mr. Wm. Bourne received word that his son Pte. W. E. Bourne had sustained a "severe shot wound in the head" and been admitted to General Hospital, Boulogne, on Friday April 12. No further information has been received. Mr. Bourne cabled for further information but was unable to obtain it as the detailed address of his son was not procurable.

It is stated by Dr. T. A. Brandon who through his service at the front is familiar with the routine of the hospitals, that the fact that the wound is described as "severe" does not imply that it will prove dangerous to life as cases apt to prove fatal are reported "dangerously wounded." The fact that Pte. Bourne has been moved to Boulogne and stood the journey would signify in his favor. It is to be hoped that further words will prove encouraging. Pte. Bourne is the only son of the family and the anxious parents have the sympathy of every true British subject who appreciate their sacrifice.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and this is catarrh. Catarrh being greatly influenced by constitutional conditions requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally and acts through the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in the curative powers of Hall's Catarrh Cure that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

A Logical Mtd

A new recruit was on sentry duty for the first time at night, when he saw someone approaching.

"Who comes there?" he challenged, sharply.

"The officer of the day," said the other.

"Then," was the sentry's unexpected inquiry, "what are you doing out at night?"

Best I Ever Used

ANGUS SIMESON, Sarnia Ontario, says:

"I have used Bone Black Fertilizer and want to tell you that it is the best fertilizer I ever used, both on my onions and beets and potatoes."

Results Were Wonderful

WM. PACH, Lambeth, Ontario, says:

"I purchased Homestead Fertilizer from H. Hamlyn, Lambeth, merely as a test. The results were wonderful. The ground between the rows was covered by the tops. The yield was extra good. I can easily see how anybody would be greatly benefited by using Homestead Fertilizer."

Well Pleased

Joe MOSSEAU, Belle River, Ontario, says:

"I used Homestead Bone Black Fertilizer last Spring on my potatoes, and am so well pleased that I must write you about the same. I made a thorough test with two bushels of seed potatoes. They produced forty bushels and where I did not fertilize they were a failure."

Three Times The Crop

CLARENCE RALF, Orwell, Ontario, says:

"I bought some Homestead Bone Black Fertilizer from Charles Minard, and used it on part of my onions. Where I used it I had three times the crop I had where there was no Fertilizer. My corn was the same."

ENGLAND'S KING NEVER DIES.

The Law Simply Admits a Transfer of Royal Authority.

It is a curious point of British law that the king never dies, or, to put it in another way, it would be useless for any barrister to argue that the ruler's predecessors have really died, since the utmost law will admit that there may be a "resurrection of the crown," meaning, of course, simply that there has been a transfer of the royal authority from one person to another.

It is a maxim that "the king can do no wrong," and under the law he would not be held personally responsible for any crime or "tort" that he chose to commit at any time. At any rate, we are assured by high constitutional authorities, the law should actually and literally be so construed and that the statutes hold that any injury his majesty might inflict upon a subject must be ascribed to the king's advisers. One thing seems to be certain, and that is that his majesty can under no circumstances whatever be arrested. Nor, moreover, could his goods be distrained or taken in execution should he fail to meet his liabilities.

A quaint feature of British law is that in theory the king is present at the law court at every sitting, though he might in point of fact be actually on the continent or elsewhere. It follows, therefore, that it is impossible to "nonsuit" him as plaintiff should he not put in an appearance when his case is called, since the law specifically states that the king is there. In a similar sense the king is always constructively present in parliament, though he be, in fact, thousands of miles from his shores.—Exchange.

THE SPILT PEARLS.

An Old Persian Fable of the Caliph and His Faithful Slave.

The most beautiful of all Persian fables, perhaps, is called "The Spilt Pearls" and relates how the courtiers of a certain caliph marveled at his choice of an Ethiopian slave for his constant attendant and at the high honors he bestowed on this fellow, who had no special distinction of beauty, strength or grace. Thereupon the caliph told them that, though the slave's features were not fair, kindness beautified them.

Once, when a camel of the caliph's train tripped in a narrow street, a cask fell, broke, and rich pearls fell everywhere. The caliph nodded to his attendant slaves to pick them up, saying that they might have them for themselves, and they all rushed to pick up as many as they could.

One alone remained behind the caliph, the Ethiopian, who did not move. Turning to him, the caliph asked him what he was doing, lingering there, and received the answer that his duty was faithfully to guard his master, and he had sufficient reward in doing that. No one could be called a faithful servant who forgot his duty to his master for the sake of the gifts his master gave.

"Therefore," said the caliph, "I keep him at my side, for he has shown himself to be possessed of the brightest jewel a man can possess, the jewel of faithfulness."—Argonaut.
