

THE RECESS.

LINES.
WRITTEN UNDER THE PICTURE OF A LADY IN THE LIBRARY OF THE REV. JOHN MITCHELL.

I cannot guess thy name or face,
Lily, and yet I think thy face, Thy cheek so bright, thine eye so free,
Thy red-lips lips are known to me.
But I am very young, and thou Belongest to the by-gone years,
And other lips were on thy brow,
And other voices in thine ears.
Mine eye doth wander from the book,
To gaze upon each quiet feature;
And well it may—thy gleeful look
Is hushed on me, sweet unknown creature!
Thy tresses of rich summer brown, Thy sunny cheeks are floating down, Thy hand plays with a rose the while;
Thy heart is in some distant spot,
Of that bright rose it thinketh not,
I see love at that thoughtful smile.

I gaze upon thee o'er and o'er,
And turn aside and gaze once more.
Enchantress of the place,
Thy weeping memory I would bear
The colour of thy cheek, thy hair, Thy beauty and thy grace.
For weak and dim my eyes may be,
Ere they again shall look on thee.

Yet there is one when I am gone,
The Poet of this lowly domain;
Ah! lady, at thy gentle call,
He wakes his soul to life again;
Thy faithful eye, thine angel smile
Are with him, so he fondly dreams,
His lonely wanderings to beguile,
By distant hills and haunted streams;
At eve his twilight lamp doth glow Repeats the radiant brow of snow.
Thou art the lady of these bowers;
Mid books and music thou dost dwell;
Thy gentle hand is on the strings,
And soft delights thou dost dispense;
Thy small white hand is on the strings,
Thy neck its chain of pearls doth wear;
A bright gem sparkles in thy hair,
Beautiful Girl!
Who'er thou art! be blessing be,
A Poet's blessing rest with thee.

PUBLICATIONS.

MILLY WAIT & Co. BOSTON.

To Parents, Teachers, School Committees, and all who feel an interest in the Improvement of Youth.

It is only one year since Parley's Magazine was commenced. During that short period the number of subscribers has increased to 20,000 and the work has received, every where, the most unqualified approbation. It has found its way into the hands of families, and while it has entertained the social circle, its instructive lessons have, we hope, often had a salutary influence on the Juvenile mind and heart. It has also found its way to the school room; and many classes of young pupils have been cheered twice a month by the welcome voice of the teacher bidding them to lay aside, for a few days, the class book which they have read over and over, perhaps twenty times, and read the pages of Parley's Magazine.
The demand for the work, to be used in schools is rapidly increasing. Encouraged by such unexampled success, the Publishers resolved to render it still more worthy of so liberal a patronage and to meet their exertions they see it introduced into families and schools, through the whole length and breadth of the United States.
In this view they have secured the aid of the late Editor of the Juvenile Rambler; who has the advantage of many years experience, not only as a writer for the youth, but as a Teacher.

Among the topics which we propose to present in the volume are the following:

- I. Natural History—Beasts, birds, fishes, reptiles, insects, plants, flowers, trees, the human frame, &c.
- II. Biography—Especially of the young.
- III. Geography—Accounts of places, manners &c.
- IV. Travels and Voyages, in various parts of the world.
- V. Descriptions of the Curiosities of Nature and Art, in the United States, and in other countries.
- VI. Lessons on objects around Children—in the Nursery, Parlor, Garden, &c. Trades and Employment.
- VII. Particular duties of the young—to Parents, Teachers, Brothers, sisters, &c.
- VIII. Bible Lessons and stories.
- IX. Narratives—such as are well authenticated Original Tales.
- X. Parables, Fables and Proverbs, where the moral is obvious and excellent.
- XI. The young adapted to the Youthful capacity and feelings.
- XII. Intelligence—Embracing accounts of Juvenile Books, societies, and Remarkable Occurrences.

Many of these subjects will be illustrated by numerous and beautiful engravings prepared by the best artists, and selected not only with a view to adorn the work, but to improve the taste, cultivate the mind, and raise the affections of the young to appropriate and worthy objects. We would make them better children, better brothers, better sisters, better pupils, better associates, and in the end, better citizens.

May we not ask the co-operation of all who receive the Circular, in the great work of forming the youthful mind and character? Will you not send us your aid and influence, in endeavoring to introduce to the American schools, and particularly, and first of all, the stories and lessons of Parley's Magazine?

The yearly subscription being but one dollar and one cent, will be a small sacrifice for the benefit of so many thousand accounts. It is therefore indispensable that we should require payment in advance.

The price of the Magazine is $1 a year six copies for $5; twenty copies for $15 or twenty five quarterly parts for $5. Payment in all cases to be made in advance.

Subscriptions for the above received at the Office of the STANDARD.

trious Females. The number containing each quarter contains a picture of the existing Philadelphia Fashions, designed, engraved and coloured engaged for that purpose. The Embellishments of this character which have appeared in lieve they will be improved in the coming volumes.

PROPOSALS

FOR ISSUING A REPRINT OF THE

London, Edinburgh, Foreign and Westminster

QUARTERLY REVIEWS.

In weekly parts of 48 royal octavo pages, comprising the entire matter of these Journals, with their indexes; so, agreed that each work may be bound separately at the end of the year, thus forming large volumes of nearly 700 pages each, for $5, being the cheapest, and most valuable republication in this country.

The above journals are already so well known to the public, that little need be said of their respective merits. The well sustained reputation of the first, not only as an able defender of Tory principles, and the old order of things, but as the most interesting and most entertaining of Reviews, will always command the attention of the literary and scientific. While the second, celebrated for the rigor, learning and acuteness which its articles display, conducted by some of the principal literary men of the modern Athens, is an equally powerful champion of the moderate Reform party.

The Foreign Quarterly occupies a neutral ground in Politics, and is devoted to continental literature.

The Westminster is but little known in this country. It may be considered as the advocate of the Radicals, and the mouth piece of Bentham-ism. It represents the principles of the party already numerous in England, and fast increasing in the United States.

It is proposed to reprint the entire matter of the above works in weekly numbers, of forty eight pages each, enclosed in a substantial cover, with good type and paper, and printed in a manner that each work may be bound separately at the end of the year—forming four octavo volumes, of nearly seven hundred pages each.

The price of the whole will be $5 per annum payable three months after the delivery of the first number. The English copies cannot be had for less than $30. Three of them are at present republished—The London and the Edinburgh at $5 each, the Foreign, at $7, connected as it is with other publications.

Composers of six or more will be allowed a deduction of one dollar on each subscriber, if payment be made on the reception of the first number. Any individual procuring five subscribers, and remitting $25, will be allowed an additional copy.

All communications to be addressed (post paid) to Messrs. FOSTER, Albany.
