OUR NEW PREMIUMS.

After months of hard work and careful study; ter the expenditure of thousands of dollars, and ter using every effort in our power we may be induced for saying that we feel proud at being ile to offer such a handsome pair of pictures as emiums to our Journar. Nothing equal to them is ever yet been offered, and although these seants have only been produced at an enormous tlay, we feel that we shall be more than repaid by r increased number of sub-orthers. Our aim is have an enormous subscription list, and if every becriber will get two mere new subscribers our twill be trebled this winter. Reader, will you do is? We think we can make it worth your while, and on and see. We will first give you a faint scription of the beauty of these pictures, which, hase remember everybody gets who subscribes to 3 Journats for one year at a dollar. Of course, in 5 small space we have to spare here, we cannot ever a correct idea of the real beauty and intrinsic lue of these Graxs of Art. No. 1 is a fine, hand me, elegant oil chromo called e small space we have to space here, we can have a correct idea of the real beauty and intrinsion here of these Gams of Art. No. 1 is a fine, hand me, elegant oil chromo called PARTING.—Size, 20 x 27.

No one who has seen this really beautiful picture in fail to admire it. There is attached to it etty, but sad historical romance, it being intended represent times gone by when liberty of religious ought and action were crimes punishable by law, and as such will be prized by every true Christian ho now thanks providence for the blessing of cedom in religious matters. The scene representation is the cutside of a garden wall. A gallant and handsome young knight and fond farewell. Around a sloft arm the midden has twined her blue silken breiner, which she seems to hold with all the rength love oan dlone impart, while her lips seed in mute despair, and her beautiful upturned to and longing eyes tell, shas, a story of deep and inutterable saduess, while her fair face is surparance. The young knight, clad in dark brown a vect, whose marly, handsome face and figure event, whose marly, handsome face and figure event, whose marly, handsome face and figure event os stamp him as one of nature's noblemen, is early atompting to soothe and comfort the loving not trusting maden, lorgetting for the time that very moment increases his own danger. Upon the round beside them has fallen a "forget-me-not" ower. Above and over the mess-covered garden ratil the green trees are shading them, except where he sum has burst through the foliage and now luminates the beautiful trusting face which constants as owell with the dark, handsome, manly countenance of her companion. Pew can see this siedure unwoved. It has never yet failed to elicit expressions of genuine admiration, and we feel une that any one who sees the picture will admit hat we have not, and, indeed, cannot do it even ustice in our description of it. It is not a gloomy, loudy picture. Ou the contrary, the bright leaves and fourers, the warm sunlight, the rich, bright leaves an

GOING FOR A RIDE.

Bigo, 20 x 27.

This, indeed, is a picture which needs no praise rom us. Atterious and careful consideration, we assed by many beautiful works of art, in order that comight have, it possible, something which would lease everybody, and need no remarks from us to issure its warm reception. That the picture be llowed to speak for itself, is all that we now sk, and if any body aft reseing it should hesitate to acree with us in saying that it is one of the finest curs ever produced by chromo lithography, then we will at once admit we don't know our business.

We will now altempt a description of this beautiful masterpiece, although we feel tits almost impossible to do justice by a mere description to such a charming and handsome piece of art. A bright, merry little boy, with curly hair and roguish eyes its trunding and handsome piece of art. A bright, merry little boy, with curly hair and roguish eyes its trunding along a old wheelbarrow, in which is seated his faithful gnardian and playmate—The Watch Dog.—We taucy we can hear the httle fellow's merry laugh and the dog's joyous bark. How happy they are what fun they are having. Reader, do you remember the days long ago when you ranraces merry laugh and the days long ago when you ranraces and played games with your four-footed friends? This picture will call back old and pleasant recollections of years gone by. We cannot stop here to elections of years gone by. We cannot stop here to elections of years gone by. We cannot stop here to this splendid work of art. The bloom of health on the boy's happy face, the well-rounded limbs, the green trees in the distance and the blue sky over this picture we are sure you will say so too. We could, if we were so disposed, take up a full page in described by anying that it is well-worthy of being a companion picture to Parting, the two forming as a by saying that it is well-worthy of being a companion picture to Parting, the two forming as a brandsome a pair of pictures as have ever been given with any dollar publication.

OUR TERMS TO AGENTS.

We do not care to sell, our canvassing outfit, but any person who really means business, and intends any source of the subscribers, but do not care to make a business of the both of the business in the business of the business in the business in the business in the business of the both of the business in the business of the business in the business in hat 1 50 cents adding us the other 50 cents. On the fourth his fired the agent keeps 80 cents, sending us on 40 cents. On the fifth hundred the agent seps 70 cents, sending us only 30 cents. As the will see that by this time they are actually paying only 30 cents for the paper and getting the chromes free, but we do not stop here. As soon as the agent has sent us 1,000 subscribers we will send him FREE 100 sets premum chromos and 100 receipts signed by us, which is equal to ipts signed by us, which is equal to A PRESENT OF $100 CASH. A PRESENT OF $100 CASH.

But this is not all. In order to stimulate your subsections, we agree that for every order for 100 sets chromos at one time or winin 30 days, if you send in orders amounting to 100 sets, we will send you a handsome Gold-Plated Hunting Case Watch free. Tell this to your sub-agents and see if they do not get 100 subscribers within 30 days without any trouble. And better than this, anyone sending in 500 subscribers within 30 days will get 3 WATCHES FREE.

Can any other firm beat this offer? We think not!

sessent C. O. D., in which case the agent must send $2 as a guarantee, the $2 to be deducted from the bill when goods are sent.

THE WAY TO DO BUSINESS.

The best way is to send in and pay for a number of subscriptions, receive the premiums and receipts, and then go to work and secure subscribers and deliver the premiums and receipts as you go, and thus save going over the territory a second time to deliver the same and collect your pay. For instance, when you order your outilt, or after you have received it, send to as $70 which pays for the first hundred subscriptions. By return mail or express you will receive one hundred sets of chromos, and one hundred receipts which is an outfit for the first hundred subscriptions. But receipt will be all made out and signed by us, and each good for a year's subscription to the Housekold Journal, and all you will have to write in will be the subscriber's name, etc. You can then take a package of the premium chromos and receipts and go canvassing. It being on your first hundred subscribers, you have paid 70 cents each for them, and will collect $1 on each, and signed to each subscriber a set of chromos, and a receipt entitling him or her to the paper for one year, and the work is done. Every few days you will send in the subscribers' names to us, on subscription lists furnished you for that purpose, without any money (asy you will aiready have paid for them) and we at once book sheir names and send them the paper for one year. If an argent is so situated that at the start he is urable to send $70 for one hundred subscriptions then send $35 for fifty subscriptions;

we can strongly recommend as being a good microscope.

Any one sending in $3 and three subscribers may select one of the following hundsome prizes:—A Beautiful Gold-plated Chana with sude and tassel, and a handsome Gold-plated two picture Locket; or asplendid Gold-plated Watch Chain for a geniteman, or three dozen assorted 9x11 Chromos; or a Box of Rubber Type, with nk, Pade, etc., by means of which you can do your own printing.

Any one sending in $4 and four subscribers will get a Seven Shot Revolver; or a Lady's Alaska Dlamond Cross. five sto set in rolled gold setting; or a pair of handsome Sleeve Puttons of the newestand most fashionable design; or a ream of Fancy Tinted or Checked Note Faner.

Any one sending in $85 and six subscribers will get a Silver-plated Cake Basket, or a Solid Silver Watch Chain.
