

APRIL.

When the sky begin to darken
And the chilly rain to fall
Young and thoughtless sparrows grumble
"What's the use of this at all."
But with philosophic patience
Taking sunshine with the rain
Says the wise old sparrow father
"It will soon be fine again."

ARTHUR J. GRAHAM.

APRIL

W. W. WOOD