THE STICKIT MINISTER

And Some Common Men.

Cloth, $1.25.

In a letter to a friend, ROBERT LOUIS STEVENSON says:—

"The whole book breathes admirably of the soil. 'The Stickit Minister' and 'The Heather Lintie' are two that come near to me particularly. They are drowned in Scotland. They have refreshed me like a visit home. 'Cleg Kelly' is a delightful fellow. I enjoyed his acquaintance particularly. Likewise that of the Junior Partner. Gavin Ogilvy and the Stickit Minister do not derive from one another. They are complimentary. When I read the first page of 'The Stickit Minister'—the ploughing—I knew I was in Scotland, and I knew I was not with Gavin. The Stickit Minister is out-of-doors—Barrie is within doors. By different ways ye shall attain."
