

Two cheery fire-places, one on each side of the room, make the lobby home-like during the long winter evenings and lend a glow to the atmosphere of friendliness which extends from the crowd around the piano to the players at the pool tables; not to mention chess and checkers, which can be secured at any time from the office.

Social

THE man away from home is always most susceptible to influences, good or evil, and to him the Association makes its strongest appeal through the Social Department. A corps of volunteers is ready on the floor every evening to welcome the new arrival to the building, see that he meets other men and set him right in all the ways of the city.

"Mixers" are conducted from time to time during the season, where men can become acquainted with other men of the right type, while several social gatherings, to which ladies are invited, are held in the Association building.

At all these gatherings emphasis is placed on the man who has been in the city but a short time, that he be made to feel at home and that he is a part of the Association.

Religious Work Department

The season's work in this department will start about October 1, 1912.

Bible Study—Courses will be offered in the Life of Christ; The Acts; Old Testament; Social Problems; Missions; Prayer, and Personal Evangelism. These courses will be open to all men.

Religious Meetings—The Sunday afternoon meeting will be the center of a worth-while programme. A popular speaker will be secured, who will discuss some questions of interest to men, and attractive music will be provided. Following the meeting will be the Fellowship Supper, where every man will have an opportunity to become acquainted with every other man.

Special Events—Several special features will be organized during the year. Among these will be a Weekly Prayer Meeting for dormitory men; a Social Sing in the lobby on Sunday evenings; a Church Parade; talks on Social Hygiene and allied subjects.
