THIEVES IN SWELL CIRCLES

the Mayor, J. R. Roy, Ald. Michaud and Mr. N. N. Oliver, M.L.A. They asked first that the sum of $40,000 promised for the improvement of the Intercolonial station at Levis be expended. They want the wharves they were promised to provide better access to the station, chiefly for the accommodation of the growing lumber traffic. Still another request is to be allowed to construct a reservoir at the Fort about three miles back from the town. This latter request was addressed principally to the Minister of Militia, the other Ministers present being Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Messrs. Tarte, Blair and Sir Henri Joly. The delegates were promised a speedy answer to their demands.

A Quebec Delegation.

There was a delegation also from Quebec headed by Hon. P. Garneau received by the same Ministers. The deputation urged that the Federal Government grant a bonus to the Great Northern Railway of $1900 per mile for 100 miles of the road. This is the project which is designed to connect the Ancient City with the Canada Atlantic and Parry Sound systems, and as to which, by the way, the Mayor of Quebec made some very ugly charges in the matter of the city bonus. It has already a bonus of $3200 per mile.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, speaking for the Government, returned the rather chilling reply that it had been decided to ask Parliament not to grant another railway assistance this session.

Drummond Railway Inquiry.

What a row would have been raised in past years by James Lister, M.P., chairman of the Drummond County Railway Investigation Committee, if, as a private member, he had been shut off from obtaining information at a Parliament enquiry in the manner that he applied the closure to-day to Conservative members of the committee!

Examination of Mr. J. N. Greenshields was resumed by Mr. Borden, who wanted to find out all about the stock. Mr. Greenshields said he held $230,000 of the stock and obtained about $150,000 at par, and the balance at various prices. Pressed to say from whom he purchased the stock obtained below par, and at what prices, Mr. Greenshields told Mr. Borden that he might as well ask him the amount of his grocery bill.

The chairman ruled that Mr. Greenshields need not answer, and the committee being divided sustained the ruling.

Mr. Borden produced a copy of an option on the purchase of the line given by Mr. Greenshields, Mr. Church and the other owners of the line, in 1894, to Mr. William Farwell, for $500,000, who in turn assigned his option to Mr. Hugh Ryan, contractor, of Toronto, who was to enter into negotiation with the Conservative Government for purchase of the line or leasing of it for $100,000 per annum, or the purchase of it for $17,500 a mile. The arrangement was, that after the line was sold to the Government by Messrs. Ryan and Farwell, say, for $2,500,000, the subsidies on the extension were to be added, and the cost of the line to Chaudiere was to be deducted and the difference between that and the $500,000 was to be divided into thirds, Mr. Farwell and the shareholders to receive a third. Mr. Ryan was to get the balance.

Mr. Greenshields Explains.

Mr. Greenshields explained that Mr. Farwell obtained the option of the line because he did not want the nature of the transactions or negotiations for the purchase of the line by the Government to be known after the Liberal Government came into power. He (Greenshields) secured a similar option.

Messrs. Powell and Borden questioned the witness closely to ascertain his exact connection with the purchase of La Patrie, to establish a difference between the statements made by Mr. Greenshields and the Minister of Public Works.

The Conservative members of the committee also pressed Mr. Greenshields to acknowledge that La Patrie was purchased out of Liberal party funds held by him, which the witness did not admit.

Mr. Samuel Newton, secretary of the company, testified that the original paid-up stock of the company totalled about $400,000. The stock to-day consisted of 4000 shares, of which Mr. Farwell held 700, Mr. Mitchell 1001 and Mr. J. N. Greenshields 2299. The Federal subsidy received totalled $287,936 and the Provincial subsidy $347,480. The total indebtedness of the company is $65,000.

The committee adjourned.

Englishmen on Business.

Among the arrivals to-day was Sam Schofield of St. John, who is the forerunner of an important delegation that is due to-morrow from Montreal. The prospective visitors are directors of the Manchester Ship Canal, including Deputy Chairman Alderman Wilson, Southern, and Sir Bosden Leech, formerly Lord Mayor of Manchester. They want to impress upon the business men of Canada, and of the Dominion Government, the importance of cultivating the Manchester trade. Incidentally, they will interview Sir Richard Cartwright about a subsidy for a line of ships to connect Manchester with Montreal in the summer, and with one or both Maritime ports in the winter. Fortnightly sailings are promised with ships now under construction capable of carrying 8000 tons of freight, and 800 head of cattle, which is about the capacity of best Dominion Line boats. Mr. Schofield is arranging for an interview with the Ministers.

Personal and General Notes.

Hon. David Mills has signified his intention of giving a lecture before the members of the Social Science Club on April 7, on the political theories of the late Henry George.

A party of M.P.'s left this afternoon for Cookshire, where they will be the guests of Rufus H. Pope, M.P. They will remain until Monday and witness sugaring operations in townships.

F. H. Clergue of Sault Ste. Marie is in Ottawa to-day to submit propositions for establishment of the direct steamship line between France and Canada on a subsidy of $80,000 each from the Canadian and French Governments.

The City Council is being urged to re-enact the Curfew bylaw. There is a good deal of opposition to the move, as the bylaw is claimed to be a dead letter where it exists.

A cheese board is to be formed in Ottawa. The corporation will defray part of the expenses.

The bill to amend the criminal code with respect to cruelty to animals, imposing a heavy penalty for the docking of horses by other persons than veterinary surgeons, has been referred to the Committee on Agriculture.

Dr. Sproule will introduce a bill for the prevention and suppression of combinations formed in restraint of trade.

Mr. Davin has given notice of a series of enquiries touching the repairs to the roof of the west block. He will ask if it is true that the iron for the new roof has been purchased in Belgium.

Gen. Gascoigne has just returned from Washington, where he has been on a brief holiday trip.

Doubting Thomas.

When Sword, the King-street men's furnisher, made known his intention of retiring from the retail business, not a few of the wise heads in Toronto predicted another fake sale, in order to raise money.

Sword is positively retiring from the retail trade—his magnificent stock of up-to-date men's furnishings must be sold at once. No better opportunity to buy good goods cheap has ever been offered to the buying public in this city.

This sale is not a matter of profit, but strictly a clearing sale, and rather than sacrifice his stock in bulk, Mr. Sword prefers giving his many patrons the advantage of buying what they may need at sacrifice prices.

So far his sale has been a huge success. Lack of space compels many customers to go unserved. However, with more help, he expects to be able to handle the crowds in future.

Remember, prices will remain the same, until his entire stock is sold. Watch the column of this paper for some of his leading lines. Residents in the north and west ends of the city will find a well-selected stock in his Spadina branch.

Dyspepsia and Indigestion—C. W. Snow & Co., Syracuse, N. Y., writes: "Please send us ten gross of Pills. We are selling more of Parmalee's Pills than any other pill we keep. They have a great reputation for the cure of Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint." Mr. Charles A. Smith, Lindsay, writes: "Parmalee's Pills are an excellent medicine. My sister has been troubled with severe headache, but these pills have cured her." ed

WAS WICKETT'S WATERLOO

Great Fight at Varsity Yesterday—It Was a Famous Victory.

Battle Fiercely Fought—No Mud on Moore—Chronicle of the Fray—Moore President—Rest of the Alma Mater Party Snowed Under.

A bigger, noisier jam was never seen at Varsity before than crowded the Students' Union Hall last night from 8 till away on past 4 o'clock this morning.

In the basement was the refreshment booth of the Old Lit. There was method in its arrangement, more than the Alma Mater joint upstairs could exhibit. Each rallying point had a piano, and songs were sung, jigs were danced, and catchy airs played all night long. No one seemed to get tired. Hundreds of the friends of the boys came in to see just how an election was run. Before they had stayed long they were as noisy as the students. Bert Abraham pounded the piano of the Old Lit., while Doc Cardy did the like act for the others. The strains of "A Hot Time," and "I Love to See My Dear Old Mother Work" could be heard now and again above the din caused by shuffling feet and wagging tongues.

The machine of both parties was working with a will. "Crokey" Cleland sat in a little room and sent men to all corners of the city after votes. Cabs there were by the dozens, and in spite of the damp weather, bicycles were brought into use to urge up tardy voters. Billy Martin was omnipresent, while Narraway kept cool and did brainy work.

In days of yore a scrap was the essential feature of a Varsity election. Then, a hundred students representing the opposing factions were gathered in a room, and with locked arms, disheveled hair, summer costume and bantering words, they tussled with each other from early night till early morning. All voters had to be passed in over the heads of these fighters. In doing so a voter took his life and his clothes in his hand. Dapper dressed freshmen went in to vote; they returned minus their plumes and togs. Many went merely to vote, but remained to fight. History tells of one Munro who returned from the fray with a collar button attached to a rag. He was taken home in a cab. Such was the mission of the "brute force."

History Repeats Itself.

Although both parties professed ignorance of the existence of a "brute force," yet both parties prepared their men for hostilities. Old-time scrappers were called out. They readily accepted the call. The downtown friends of the students were presented with a badge and cane prepared to take a hand in the conflict. There is a bylaw in the possession of the registrar, frowning down upon all violence upon University precincts. McGregor Young had stamped with his disapproval any attempt to coerce voters.

Incidents of the Fray.

There was considerable jolting about the door of the voting booth, especially at about 11 o'clock, and from that onward. There was a scrap about midnight, and it got hot and rousing before morning. No one was hurt, but several will be sore to-morrow.

From the inception of the fight, The World declared there was an "Ethiopian in the woodpile." Further, The World knew what this colored gentleman was, but in order not to queer the game of the Alma Mater party, he was not disclosed.

The fight is over now, and no harm will be done by revealing the mystery. Anyone who knows much about University politics knows that old party lines are not easily brushed aside. The Alma Mater and the University party are synonymous, so with the Old Lit. and the Students' party.

The latter party has always had a larger following, but from "lamentable lack of loyal adherence" to its platform, and clumsy handling of the machine, the University party has won hands down. The pivot of an election is the "brute force;" this kept the luke-warm students' party men from voting. They wouldn't wait out in the cold till midnight, when the fight was declared off.

Story of the Plot.

Now, in this election, the "brute force" was not supposed to be a feature. Every University party or Alma Mater man will take your choice), saw defeat staring him in the face. What to do was the question. As Billy Ross put it, "It was a desperate case; it needed a desperate remedy."

What was the remedy? "Kidnap the leaders of the Old Lit. party," suggested a man who knew the tactics of American universities. The idea was seized upon by a few bold ones, and deep-laid plans were prepared. Who were to be kidnapped? Dr. Wickett, Billy Martin, Billy Alexander, Chester Narraway, Alex. Macdougall and T. Russell. Especially was it desired to capture Billy Martin, for he carried some $250 of Old Lit. party's money—money that was to be used to pay the fees of reluctant voters. If the leaders of the machine could be captured, the whole organization would be paralyzed.

A committee of four—no names—was appointed on oath to carry out the sinister scheme. These were stalwart youths, who had money up on the election. A certain house—number and street not named—was rented and this was to be a dungeon in which to sequester the captives. Six outsiders had been hired to attend to the needs of the prisoners, but on no account were they to be allowed their liberty till Saturday morning, after the election.

Billy Martin just missed being captured. Wise counsel prevailed and the scheme did not go through, but there was "an Ethiopian in the wood-pile."

Forecast of the Result.

The graduate vote was polled down town at Richmond Hall from 3 to 7 p.m., President McG. Young acting as returning officer. By 5 o'clock there were 93 votes polled. Mr. Moore's interests were looked after by J. M. Godfrey, F. Perrin and a large following of under-graduates. Mr. Wickett's scrutineers were R. L. Mackinnon and Alex. Mackenzie.

About 160 graduates voted down town, and about 60 up at the gym.

At the time of going to press the fight was still on. Owing to the slowness of getting in the votes voting was continued till 4 a.m.

The probability is that Moore will be president, but the rest of the Alma Mater ticket will be snowed under, as if by an avalanche. The fight for president will be close: Moore will get in by the skin of his teeth. The better organization of the Old Lit. will knock out the other party.

According to this estimate the result will be:

President—W H Moore.
First Vice-President—J McKay.
Second Vice-President—F E Brown.
Third Vice-President—W Campbell.
Recording secretary, R V Lesueur; treasurer, D E Kilgour; curator, D Macdougall; corresponding secretary, J Patterson; historical secretary, W A Groyies; secretary of committee, E M Ashworth; 4th-year councillor, J L Hogg; 3rd-year councillor, W J Donovan, 2nd-year councillor, M A Buchanan; S P S 3rd year, E G Yeates; S P S 2nd year, J C Johnston.

Had the coup d'etat of the Alma Mater party gone through, the Old Lit. would have been as chaff before a wild March gale.

The Club in Extremis.

A stormy meeting was held at the St. John's Ward Liberal Club last evening. On account of a majority of the members not paying their initiation fee, there is a lack of funds. Hence it was proposed to relet the rooms to the Swansea Pedro Club. Several of the members who had paid their dollar opposed this, and it was put to a vote whether the rooms should be re-let or not. The majority were for renting their rooms to the Pedro Club.

A Scourge Suppressed.

Under the above caption Le Temps, one of the leading French papers of Ottawa, Canada, in its issue of December 7, 1897, printed a communication, sent to it by a patient, who had himself been completely cured of both the liquor and morphine habits by what is known as the Dixon Remedy for Alcoholism. The following is an extract from this to us very flattering communication. After paying a tribute of praise to the inventive genius of Canada's sons in the various fields in which success has crowned their efforts for the betterment of mankind, the writer of this communication deplores the vain efforts hitherto made to find an adequate remedy for the suppression of the terrible scourge which afflicts society, under the name of the liquor and drug habits —a scourge which causes so much evil, gives occasion to so much crime, desolates so many homes, afflicts so many individuals and threatens the destruction of society itself. He then continues; "Mr. A. Hutton Dixon, a man of great merit and of considerable scientific attainments, has had the happy thought of trying to remove this awful scourge of intemperance. After seven years of experimenting he succeeded about two years ago in perfecting his remedy, which is now infallible in its results. Since 1895 he has cured more than a thousand cases of drunkenness and of morphine.

"This remedy is essentially a vegetable compound, which is easily taken in all privacy at one's home, and without loss of time from one's business. He has lately cured in the County of Ottawa eight persons, who, to my knowledge, had tried other remedies at much expense, but without success. Victims of the dreadful liquor and morphine habits have been so often deceived by those whose remedies seem to have no other result than to deceive their victims, while filling the purses of the vendors, that these poor victims have lost all faith in advertised medicines, and will not engage in any further risks.

"The head office of the Dixon Cure Co. is in Montreal, No. 40 Park-avenue, from which address information can be obtained, with the knowledge that all correspondence will be treated in strictest confidence."

NOTE.—The writer of the above communication is well known in public life and his name to interested inquirers. He is jubilant over his own escape from a scourge, which he so eloquently deplores, and from which he was saved by the new Dixon Cure for the Liquor and Drug Habits.

The blood is made pure and the system kept clear of impurities by the daily use of

The Men's Social.

One of the largest gatherings that have ever filled Central Methodist Church was treated last evening to a gentlemen's social, which was prepared by the men of the church. The church was handsomely decorated and the manner in which the tea was prepared and served reflected credit upon the usually clumsy sex. A good program was fully enjoyed, among others contributing being J. W. Bengough, Prof. Le Barge and Dr. Bedford Richardson.
