London, Oct. 31.-London is greatly Incommoded by the cabbles' strike. The drivers have started a system of boycotting the railroad stations, which has produced scenes of confusion and exasperation at the different depots, where huge piles of baggage are set down by the roadway, and crowds of indignant male and female Britons. hampered by bags, traveling rugs, packages, etc., are fretting and fuming, and in some cases swearing, while pushing about in a more or less help-less condition, engaging messengers, porters or anybody at hand to help them out of their difficulties. In fact, the muddle and the trouble are so great that the officials of the railroads have been complled to apply for extra police protection. One of the features of the strike is that an almost endless number of prosecutions are promised future. The police have been engaged in taking the numbers of al cab-drivers who refuse to enter the

The so-called "smart set" is taking considerable interest in the suit of divorce brought by Countess Cowley against the earl her husband, on the ound of desertion and adultery, the first hearing of which was postponed yesterday until next session, owing to the defence not having had time enough to examine a deposition which has just arrived from Canada. THE BOODLES CLUB. Various paragraphs have appeared

In the English society papers during the past few weeks in regard to the Boodles Club. A short time ago it was announced that the premises had been sold to the Royal Yacht Squadron, and that they would hereafter have the historic club house in St. James street for their town house. Color was given to the report from the fact that the annual meeting of the squadron is always held at the Boodles, and that many of its members are also members of the Royal Yacht Squadron. The last report is that the Royal Thames Chub has secured the Boodles. As a matter of fact, both reports are en-tirely without foundation, and the only change contemplated in regard to the famous old club is whether it shall remain a proprietary club or whether the members shall buy it and run it nselves. A meeting to decide this question will be held next week.

The Boodles is one of the oldest and most exclusive of English clubs, and has among its 600 members some of the best known members of the aristocracy and wealthiest land owners in Great Britain. It has always been the country gentlemen's club, and until a few years ago, when the Duke of Beaufort had a row with the committee was the headquarters of the masters of foxhounds in England. Beaufort and several of his foxhunting friends withdrew; but, during the past few years. a younger element. d mostly of officers in the house hold regiments, have entered the club and it remains one of the smartest and most comfortable in London. The Boodles was founded in 1762, and has always been a proprietary club. Gibbons was among its members, and it was from this address that he wrote wilberforce also wrote that the first time he entered Boodles he won 25 rulneas from the Duke of Norfolk. Phackeray has described it and its famous bow windows, where the old used to sun themselves and ogle the ladies as they drove up St. James street. For fifteen years past the club has been owned and managed by Miss Gaynor, who inherited it from her father. She died last spring at the age of 75, and the various reports in regard to the club's future are doubtless

THE ROYAL FAMILY. On Dec. 1 the Prince of Wales will be nominated for election as grand master of the English Mark Master Masons. This will be the twelfth successive nomination with which he has been honored. On the following evening the Prince will, for the 23rd con-secutive year, in United Grand Lodge, be nominated for election as most worshipful grand master of English Freemasons. The respective elections will be held on March 2 and 3, 1897. The Duke of Connaught will represent the Queen at the marriage of the Duc D'Orleans at Vienna on Thursday, November 5. The Duke and Duchess of Saxe-Coburg Gotha will also be present. It is reported that the Duke of Teck's chestnut cort Winkfield's Pride has won for him, by capturing the Cambridgeshire stakes at Newmarket on Wednesday and the Old Cambridgeshire stakes at the same place yester-day, the $50,000 which the Duke dropped in 1896 on Bellevin.

Women Often Endure

Terrible Burdens and Sufferings.

Paine's Celery Compound An Un failing Cure for All Dangers That Beset Women.

To a multitude of women, life is one long, dreary road, of suffering without an escape or turn.

Few outside of their own sex have any idea of the sufferings which women endure. Many of the troubles are the direct outcome of the constant, Countess Cowley, in August a year imperative demands of household work and society and social worries. The troubles from which women suffer arise, like most other diseases, from a deranged liver and stomach and weak kidneys, the result of thin impure and poisonous blood. Then headaches, ache in back and kidneys, pains in the sides and shoulder blades, feelings of lassitude, and bearing down pains across the loins.

When the nervous energies are thus exhausted, Paine's Celery Compound should be used in order that the system be strengthened and fortified. There is no other medicine which is so uniformly successful in curing the ills which afflict women.
Paine's Celery Compound is a purely vegetable remedy, and contains no harmful ingredients. Hundreds of physicians prescribe it for their lady patients, with the utmost satisfac-

After partaking of a sumptuous repast, prepared by the ladies of the congregation, in the lecture room of he church, the vast audience repaired to the auditorium, filling it to overflowing. The chair was occupied by the pastor, Rev. J. Currie. The programme, consisting of speeches and recitations, interspersed with music, was of a high order. The speakers were Rev. Messrs. Dow, St. Thomas; Sawers, Westminster; Hutt, Ingersoll. and Jackson, Belmont. The music was supplied by the choir of church, assisted by a quartet of the First Presbyterian Church, London. The readings were given by Sheldon, of the Conservatory of Music London. While every part of the programme was well received, Miss Sheldon's rendering of some five choice selections more than satisfied the audience. She was certainly mistress of the situation every time, never failing to rouse the audience to enthusiasm. This, we understand, was Miss Sheldon's first appearance before a Canadian audience, and should she again appear in Belmont we can assure her of a most cordial welcome from a still larger audience. Fight Between Bryan Men and Gold Democrats.

Lively Times at Booneville, Mo. - Kick ing, Gouging and Punching Practiced.

Boonville, Mo., Oct. 31.-At Fayette last night Generals Palmer and Buckner, the gold standard Democracy candidates for President and Vice-President of the United States, were greeted by a howling mob, which seemed bent on causing trouble from the moment the train stopped. No sooner had the two generals emerged upon the car platform than a Bryan banner bearing the inscription "Fayette Democrat Club," was thrust into Gen. Palmer's face by its bearers. A citizen named Williams tried to urge peace, the gold men rallied and rushed the banner back. This only made the disturbers more ugly. A man tried to punch Gen. Buck er with a flagpole, and Williams seized it, and the crowd rushed upon him and began beating him. The rioters then tried to get ac the generals and strike them wth their Scores of men fought around the car end, women were pushed about and knocked down, and many blows were exchanged. An old farmer climbed on to the rear end of the car and shouted: "You are carrying Missouri for McKinley!" He was pulled down by the crowd. After five minutes of fighting and screaming and blowing of horns, the train pulled out without the candidates even trying to make a speech. The most of the rioters were young men and belonged to the Bryan Democratic Club. Those on the train claim that they saw Williams garrotted, while frenzied men pulled his beard and tried to gouge out his eyes. They saw a man try to put out Gen. Buckner's eyes with the point of a spear affixed to a flagpole. They also saw a man try to force Gen. Palmer off his feet with a flagpole.
