DOVERCOURT.
DOVERCOURT, Jan. 12.—D. Fothering- ham, inspector of public schools, held an investigation at the Dufferin-street school in the alleged irregularities in the election of a school trustee for S.S. No. 13 on Saturday afternoon. The inspector stated that he received a tetition, praying to hold this investigastate their case. Only three of those who asked for this investigation were present, who said that it is their idea that the election of a school trustee by a standing vote is rather a loose procedure.

Men's Store

T'S a very simple business proposition which any business man will understand. Stocktaking comes to this store at the end of the month.

We are therefore reducing prices on winter goods like overcoats, furs, woolen underwear. When the market is down the wise business man who has the ready money makes it a point to buy.

Now the only question is—are you a businesslike man? Or has he a businesslike wife?

Working Coats Reduced

Men's Strong, Serviceable and Warm Working Coats, heavy brown duck, with soft, full-furred sheep lining, buttoned close up at throat, with deep 6-inch collar, sleeves lined and double elastic wool cuff at wrist, regular $6.00, all sizes. Teesday noon. Dr. Coutts of this village will address the meeting, and all ladies are cordially invited to attend. Mrs. W. A. Young is president, and Mrs. Henry Thompson secretary of the association. The ladies of Scarboro are probably more than any others in the county actively engaged—in the work, and the meetings are invariably full of interest and instruction.

Mrs. John Courtney. Mary E. Courtney, widow of the late John Courtney, died early Saturday morning at her late residence, 988 West Queen-street. She had been ill for only a week, and her death was due to paralysis. Deceased had been a resident of Toronto yearly 49 years. Her husband, who died 13 years ago, was caretaker of the Isolation Hospital, (and deceased was well known in Riverdale. Three sons survive—John of the city engineer's department, James of 96 Oxford-street, and Edward of Portland-street fire station. The funeral will take place this afternoon at 2 o'clock to the Necropolis.
