IMPERIAL STATE-OWNED ELECTRIC SERVICE.

Theoretical discussions and anticipations have always been more alluring than immediate practical works. They are easier to begin with and there are no bounds to the imagination which can revel in the fabric it creates, however remote it may be from probability or even possibility. Yet while the dreamer is thus amused, valuable opportunities for bringing the goal into nearer reach are allowed to pass or are indefinitely postponed. The wonderful discoveries and inventions that have brought distant countries into close touch have produced a certain impatience of mind which frets at the slow march of political and social development and eagerly aspires to hasten events which can only come in their own good time.

This is true of the British Empire and its closer union. Schemes of federation and forms of imperial government have been devised, some meritorious enough, but destined to oblivion because they run contrary to the natural evolution of the states it was sought to weld together. This was inevitable and the lesson should teach those who are striving after closer union that the time and effort so wasted would have been better spent if concentrated on really practical measures upon which there is substantial agreement. This matter of state-owned electric communication among the British states, unanimously approved by the Imperial Press Conference, is just such a proposal as will further their co-operation for common purposes and it should be soon and seriously considered by the various governments.

HONOR TO WHOM HONOR.

In giving credit for the grant of autonomy to the Transvaal and the Orange Free State to Mr. A. J. B. Smith, government an afternoon of temporary overlooking the fact that the honor is really that of the late Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman. The letters patent embodying the constitution of the Transvaal were issued on 6th December, 1908, and those for the Orange Free State on July, 1907. Sir Henry did not return from active politics till the spring of the following year. The error was no doubt inadvertent, but in view of the short tenure of office by the late Liberal premier, this, the most notable act of his administration, it should not be forgotten, was known to be directly due to his own initiative. What has since happened and the future history of South Africa will, The World believes, demonstrate the wisdom as well as the courage that underlay Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman's decision.

WEAK-MINDED CHILDREN.

Appropriate recognition was accorded the work of Dr. Helen MacMurchy has done in the last two years by the women's congress yesterday. The very impressive presentation of facts by Miss Dendy of the Sandwood School, Manchester, regarding what is done, and what is necessary to be done, for defective-minded children, was perhaps the best justification that could be required for Dr. MacMurchy's appointment. "Everybody knows," said Miss Dendy, "that you have one of the experts of the world with you in Toronto." What was the use of having experts if you did not use them, she argued. The consensus of opinion was that only permanent care of these defectives could be of any use in solving the problem of their existence.

The study of the framing of such parents is inevitably defective. Segregation, then, is the only remedy. It was stated that Hon. W. J. Hanna had a plan under consideration which he hoped to have ready for the next session of the legislature, dealing with the care and detention of those of feeble mind; it is much cheaper to take care of them than to look after the papers and criminals resulting from their enlargement upon the community. The confidence reposed in Dr. MacMurchy by the congress proves her to be a most valuable adviser for the government in this matter.

A MUCH-NEEDED REFORM.

Editor World: May I kindly ask you to exert your influence with the directors of the C.P.R. to alter their present arrangement of sleeping compartments in the Pullmans by a curtain dividing the berths, occupied by the different sexes, as done in Australia and doubtless other countries. After an absence of seven years from your charming city was extended the needed reform had not yet taken place.

THE PEOPLE OF HAMILTON.

Editor World: I do not know whether you know how much the people of Hamilton appreciate your championship of their best interests in regard to power in spite of the disloyal conduct of the three local papers. Every time these papers abuse you or Mr. Maclean everyone here knows that another step toward public power has been made. The World has developed a remarkable faculty of making certain persons here line-up against a monopoly of power in private hands. Keep right on.

WHAT IS ICE CREAM?

Inspector Archibald Combats Decision That It is a Food.

Once more has Inspector Archibald set out, in spite of judicial decisions to the contrary, to prove that ice cream is just ice cream and not a food. A magistrate near Hamilton has fined a restaurateur for selling it on Sunday, and the chief inspector's heart is filled with joy and hope that he may secure a like decision here. To that end he yesterday halted Henry Doherty, James Mumry, John Lister, John Black, Sam Payne and George Kotoloff into police court charged with a breach of the Lord's Day Act. The cases stand till Tuesday.

Miss Mabel Hicks was cleared of one of the three charges of fraud upon which she is held. It was shown that the complainant, a milliner, had agreed to remove her money. She was recommended on the other charges.

William Finch stole a bicycle. He had stolen before, so goes to the Central for six months. Albert Spivey was taken from his loving parents, Deborah Spivey, better known as Debby Doyle, and Mister Spivey. This was on the ground that left to their care he would have no chance in this life and less in the next. He was turned over to the St. Vincent de Paul Society.

The honorary governors who will visit the Toronto General Hospital during the week are Messrs. M. J. Haney and E. O'Keefe.

FREE RIDES FOR CHILDREN

Manager Fleming Offers Cars For School Picnics.

Regret was expressed by all the members of the property committee at the meeting yesterday afternoon at the death of H. A. E. Kent, who was for many years a member of the committee.

Trustee Rawlinson read a letter from Manager R. J. Fleming of the Toronto Street Railway offering the free use of cars for school picnics and for trips around the city for the school children. The offer was accepted.

An offer to sell the property at No. 70 Murray-street, owned by Mrs. Catharine Devaney, was read. She offered the property at $14,500, giving the committee until July 22 to accept. She stipulated that she have the free use of the property until Sept. 15. The purchase was recommended.

Miss Scott, principal of "Branksome Hall," on East Bloor-street, will have the lease of her property extended.

Mr. Fleming dropped in to plead for her. The committee decided they would not need the money they would get by the sale of the property for a year yet, so they extended the lease.

When Mr. Bishop goes on tour to study technical schools he will probably be accompanied by Trustees Houston, Simpson and Bryans. They were appointed as a committee for the purpose.

John Stewart was reappointed inspector of painting.

Steamers for the Races.

Hamilton just received many visitors on account of its race meeting. Public service companies in fulfillment of their obligations must meet a public need and none do it better than the owners of the steamers Modjeska and Macassa. Those who want to please their guests could not do better than voyage to Hamilton by these well-known and much-appreciated steamers. The hours are entirely suitable to all who wish to attend the races, and the fares are extremely moderate. Steamers leave Toronto at 11.30 a.m. in time for the first race, and return at 7.30 p.m.

Sir Hugh and Lady Graham attended their majesties' court at London last night.

Trial.
Before Latchford, J.
Smith v. The Plymouth Cordage Co. of Ontario—H. E. Rose, K.C., for plaintiff, G. Lynch-Staunton, K.C., and H. R. Morwood (Welland) for defendant.

Judgment: (B). This action was brought for $200 damages, the cost of certain gas pipes and the line values, etc., purchased by plaintiff, a merchant of Port Colborne, from defendant, a company at Welland. The defendant's answer is that they sold to Smith only such property and interest as they had in the gas wells, pipes, etc.; that Smith would not sue for property and interest with full knowledge of the rights which the defendants had in the wells, piping and regulators, and that if the plaintiff has not succeeded in obtaining the value of what he bought, he has but himself to blame. The defendants did nothing to prevent the plaintiff from obtaining the fixtures on the Dean farm. When the Dean objected to the removal, the plaintiff submitted. He did not ask for a formal assignment of such rights as the fixtures had in the Dean lands. The defendants are not at fault in any way, and the action is dismissed with costs. Thirty days' stay.

TO THE WEAK AND NERVOUS.

If you are losing the strength of youth and can see evidence, from day to day, that your physical system is going to decay, you should, in common justice to your future happiness, take steps to check this.

Don't make the mistake of thinking that this can't be done; it can be, and has been, done in thousands of cases.

Don't deceive yourself into believing that it is natural for any person to thus exhaust his strength.

Nature is appealing to you every moment to save yourself. The slight pains that you feel, the momentary spells of weakness, the periodical loss of memory, dullness of brain, drowsiness—all point to the necessity of curing yourself now. I have a positive cure for you in my
