Premier of Manitoba Declares Laurier is Impossible as Head of Party---Sir Clifford Sifton's Appeal for Conscription Well Received in Winnipeg.

A Winnipeg special despatch to The Toronto Telegram yesterday said: Sir Clifford Sifton's appeal for conscription before the Canadian Club today was enthusiastically received by some 300 guests. While politics was not mentioned, a union government was the veiled argument suggested.

This, coming simultaneously with Premier Norris' proclamation to western Liberals to turn the Borden Premier government out, is considered a forecast of the approaching convention of western Liberals. Norris' statement is largely a partisan appeal. Among other things, Norris, who is slated as leader of the western Liberals by all those who oppose the prominent participation of Sifton in western politics, says: "The convention is not being held days, and what are you going to do re the benefit of Liberals alone, but about it? I do not think that any for the benefit of Liberals alone, but for all parties who think as we do. e no wish to antagonize eastern Canada, but we do desire to formulate a policy that the eastern and be united upon. Must Choose New Leader. "In Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Canada has had a brilliant statesman and for many years we have all been proud to acknowledge him as our leader, but the stand he has taken on conscription makes it impossible for us to follow him further. Therefore we must select a new leader, and this is another of the chief reasons why the Liberals of western Canada are being called to-

"There is a strong feeling against conscription in many parts of Canada, and I believe that if the question was submitted to the people today is would be defeated. I was opposed to it myself a few months ago, but now am strongly in favor of conscription.

The reader will notice that the lines are broken in the section marked for vehicles and for the street cars and that the real width is not indicated by the length of the line. The figures tell it. The whole of the line are broken in the wooden blocks, the ties and railroad steel, and have them placed in position.

The contractor informed The World on Saturday that the whole bridge not indicated by the length of the line. The figures tell it. The whole of the bridge will be finished in concrete with tops and steps and trench as shown in the cut the somewhat exaggerated. The railing at the side will be completefinished and so will the two sidewalks next the two railings. The little gutter steps, 12 inches wide, will be for water. The next section is for vehicles. 20 feet 9 inches wide, and is all ready for the creosoted wooden blocks to be put in. The centre portion, marked street cars, will carry two tracks on wooden viaduct in hand, but will not disclose for some days just where they are. It ties and then cemented in to a height sufficient to allow it to be finished with was also said yesterday that he would attend the next meeting of the concreosote wooden blocks that will make the surface level with the two sections trollers and tell how he will finish the viaduct and its street on either side that carry the vehicles. The total width of the bridge is 86 feet. Christmas if the contractors finish the work in September

The contractor informed The World on Saturday that the whole bridge would be finished as far as they were concerned—the whole floor would be concreted from one end to the other on both bridges on the 15th September, ready to turn over to the city. Even if it is not turned over until the let of October, the city will still have 10 weeks before hard weather sets in to place the blocks and rails.

"Dumping Clause."

The bill contains a "dumping clause." It is provided that wherever an incorporated company sets its products at less than a fair price, the minister may determine the income of such company on the basis of the income which would have been derived if the products had been sold at the fair price.

Another provision guarding against evasion of the tax by corporations thru the medium of piling up reserves, declares "that the income texpayer shall include the share to which he would be entitled of the undivided or undistributed gains and profits made by any syndicate, trust. association, corporation, or other body, or any partnership, if such gains and profits were divided or distributed, unless the minister is of opinion that the accumulation of such undivided and undistributed sains and profits is not made for the purpose of evading the tax and is not in excess of what is reasonably required for the purposes of the busi-
