

SUNSHINE.

Sunshine touches all the land,
Baths the hills in amber light,
Paints the fields with cunning hand
And the wild bird on its flight ;

Parts the cloud, suspends the bow,
Makes the very dewdrops shine,
Till the world is all aglow
With a glory half divine