GETTING READY FOR THE SPORTS

Great Activity on Victoria Grounds Every Day and Evening This Week.

A great crowd of ball players were practicing on the Victoria grounds last evening, and the scene was one of great animation. Members of the Every Day Club completed the work of raising the fallen roof of the small grand stand, tore away and piled up the worthless portions of the new fence on the north side of the grounds. The work of repairs will now be resumed during the day as well as in the evenings, and the house will be cleaned up and door and windows put in. There is much to do, and the expense to the club for lumber and labor will be large, in addition to the voluntary work of members. Several runners have already been getting in some practice for the races on the 24th. The time entertainment in the club rooms on Friday evening will present features entirely different from those of the last one, and the large stage will be used.

WEDDINGS

Staples—Golding. A very quiet but interesting nuptial event took place in Germain street Baptist church at six o'clock this morning, when Miss Mable L. Golding, daughter of the late Robert E. Golding and niece of the late Robert E. Golding, was married to W. Allan Staples, consulting electrical engineer of the Cove Hydro Electric, by the pastor, Rev. W. W. McMaster, in the presence of immediate relatives of the contracting parties. The ceremony was performed by the pastor, Rev. W. W. McMaster, in the presence of immediate relatives of the contracting parties. Mr. and Mrs. Staples will spend their honeymoon in Halifax and on their return will reside at Fredericton.

Foster—Barker

The home of Henry W. Barker will be the scene of a pretty society wedding at four o'clock this afternoon, when his daughter, Miss Emma Leontine, will come the wife of Frederick Allan Foster, of Robertson, Foster & Smith. Only relatives of the contracting parties will witness the ceremony, which will be performed by Rev. E. Brittain Hooper, pastor of St. Paul's. The drawing rooms have been artistically decorated for the occasion with white palms and potted plants, yellow and white being the prevailing colors. The bride's costume is a beautiful creation of princess lace, over white chiffon and tulle, with a long veil caught with orange blossoms, and she will carry a shower bouquet of white roses and lily-of-the-valley.

Miss Bessie Foster, the groom's sister, who will act as bridesmaid, will wear a dainty gown of white silk with pink hat and will carry a shower bouquet of pink roses.

On entering the room the bride, who will be given away by her father, will pass through an aisle of white satin ribbon, held by the little Misses Elizabeth Morgan, J. & A. McMillan and D. Leddingham.

At the conclusion of the ceremony luncheon will be served, and the newly wedded couple will leave by the Boston express for a tour of American cities. A goodly array of wedding gifts attest the popularity of the bride. The groom is well and favorably known and the young couple will have the good wishes of a large circle of friends.
