

FEEL WEST SHOULD SUPPORT R. N. W. M. P.

Ottawa, Oct. 3.—The maritime provinces would seem to have no sympathy with the Mounted Police as a Dominion organization. In the house this afternoon the bill for the amalgamation of the Dominion police and "Mounties" got its second reading and Messrs. McKenna and Sinclair expressed the opinion that it was an expenditure for the sole benefit of the west which the west itself should bear.

Mr. Sinclair could not understand why we should have to spend so much, for example, in assisting customs officers in the western provinces when our long sea coasts, where such an opportunity for smuggling occurs, were policed locally. He thought that the territories should look after themselves.

Mr. McKenna pointed out that in Nova Scotia town, particularly in sea coast towns, where all sorts of characters come, a couple of men keep order by day and night. The Mounted Police were a luxury of the western people for which they should pay. It would be thought extraordinary if Sydney, Halifax or St. John should ask the west to be taxed for the police protection of these places. He particularly objected to paying for the policing of Northern Ontario, which is supposed to be the centre of light and culture. The provincial governments have the machinery and should do their own policing.

Mr. Mowatt, of Toronto, rather scored off the opposition leader when he recalled that in his own peaceful bailiwick the militia had to be called out a few years ago to stop riots and Canada had to go to the courts to collect for the expenditure on the same, incidentally. Mr. Mowatt let drop what is now known to have been one of the secrets of the caucus when he remarked that the provinces would be able to finance their policing when they got control of their own resources. This was one of the things that the premier promised at the caucus, yesterday, would be done in the near future.

In answer to a question by Mr. Sinclair as to whether there would be any of the new force located in the maritime provinces, Mr. Rowell said that was not yet decided but a limited number might possibly be maintained there.

At 5:30 p.m. the house adjourned until Monday, being out of work.

BE PRETTY! TURN GRAY HAIR DARK

Look young! Nobody can tell if you use Grandmother's simple recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Weyl's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, at a small cost.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive.

KEMP'S RHUBARB WINE

IS 15 67 PER CENT. ALCOHOL.

A strong smell of rhubarb wine and lemon extract prevailed the police court yesterday afternoon, and the cause of it was a large demijohn of the former "beverage" and 108 bottles of lemon extract which made a very imposing display before His Honor Magistrate Ritchie. Harry Kemp, the owner of this little collection, was before the court, charged with having intoxicating liquor in his store on Brussels street. Inspector Merryfield, who in company with Inspector Kerr made the arrest, told of visiting the defendant's premises where he found this beverage which the defendant called rhubarb wine and also a very large stock of lemon extract. He said he seized both the wine and the lemon and brought Kemp up charged with the above offence because he had the rhubarb wine analyzed and found it contained 15.67 per cent of alcohol. His Honor decided to allow the case to stand over until Friday afternoon, two weeks hence, when the result of analysis of the rhubarb wine would be returned from Ottawa.

Fred Padlock, charged with having liquor in his possession illegally, was next called but he was not in court. Charles Padlock, who is charged with allowing his premises to be used for illegal purposes, was present but both cases were allowed to stand over until 2 o'clock Monday afternoon.

How the last Victory Loan was spent

For Demobilization

For Trade Extension

BEFORE buying Victory Bonds again you may want to know how Canada used the money you loaned her last year.

Canada borrowed the money to carry on the war and to provide credits for Great Britain and our Allies.

CONSIDERABLY more than one-half of the Victory Loan 1918 was spent on our soldiers. This included $312,900,000, for paying them, feeding them, bringing them home, separation allowances to their dependents, maintenance of medical services and vocational training schools.

$59,000,000 of the Victory Loan 1918 was paid on account of authorized Soldiers' gratuities.

$9,000,000 was spent at Halifax for relief and reconstruction after the disaster.

Other disbursements were not, strictly speaking, expenditures, but National Re-investments.

To Great Britain for example:

$173,500,000 was loaned for the purchase of our wheat and cereals.	$30,000,000 for other Foodstuffs
$9,000,000 for our fish.	$2,900,000 for Canadian built ships.
	$5,500,000 to pay other British obligations in Canada.

Making in all, $220,900,000 advanced to Great Britain.

To our Allies, we loaned $8,200,000 for the purchase of Canadian foodstuffs, raw material and manufactured products.

The Re-investments will be paid back to Canada in due time, with interest.

These credits were absolutely necessary to secure the orders for Canada because cash purchases were impossible.

They have had the effect of tremendously helping agricultural and industrial workers to tide over the depression that would have followed the Armistice, had we not made these credit loans.

As far as money is concerned, 1919 has been, and is still—just as much a war year as 1918. Our main expenditures for war cannot be completed until well on into 1920. Thus another Victory Loan is necessary—Get ready to buy.
