6 Guilty of Murder in First Degree and 2 of Murder in Second Degree

UNION CITY, Tenn., Jan. 7.—With a verdict of guilty in varying degrees the jury in the night rider trial reported at 8.45 p. m. tonight. The twelve men found Garret Johnson, Tid Burton, Boy Ransom, Fred Pinion, Arthur Cloar and Sam Applewhite guilty of murder in the first degree with mitigating circumstances and Bud Morris and Bob Huffman, the other defendants, guilty of murder in the second degree, and of murder in the second degree, and fixed their punishment at twenty years in the penitentiary. The punishment of the first six named defendants was left to the court and may be death or bell and light buoy all day Wednesday life imprisonment. The defendants filed and again yesterday. Sad Tragedy At the Border

MAN'S WILD ACT

Jumps Into River to Escape Being Arrested-Dies From Cold

ST. STEPHEN, N. B., Jan. 7.-Lafe ST. STEPHEN, N. B., Jan. 7.—Lafe Wednesday evening a tragedy with many lamentable features was enacted at Milltown. The police officers of Milltown, Me., had attempted to arrest Wentworth Fox on a charge of larceny, but he had escaped from them and made his way to his home, where he used a musket to intimidate them from entering. The officers withdrew and later in the evening Fox feft his home and started for Milltown, N. B., just across the river. As he was entering on the bridge one of the officers saw him and started in pursuit. Fox had a good start of the officer and Fox had a good start of the officer and could easily have reached the Canadfan side in safety before the American officer could have overtaken him.

Leaped Over Railing

When at the middle of the bridge Fox deliberately leaped over the railing and into the swiftly running and icy cold water of the river, while the officier looked on in amazement. Fox was carried by the current to a pier in the centre of the river used for log driving purposes, onto which he man driving purposes, onto which he managed to crawl, and from which he purforth lusty calls for help. A number of men gathered, but there were no means of succor at hard until the man had been awakened who had access to had been awakened who had access to a storehouse on the bank where the chains, etc., used in log driving are stored in winter. From here a rope was secured and by tying it to a brick which was thrown towards the pler they were enabled to get one end of it to Fox in his imperiled position, the weather being intensely cold at the time. Fox made three turns of the rope about his arm and grasped the end in his teeth and in this way he was drawn ashore. But the long exposure to the cold had had its effect, and when he was pulled ashore the was drawn ashore. But the long exposure to the cold had had its effect, and when he was pulled ashore the grip that held the rope end was the grip that held the rope end was the grip of death, for life had departed.

Fox was about forty years of age and leaves a wife and small children, He was a member of a good family, possessed of a fine tenor voice, and a few years ago was singing in leading musical organizations. In late years liquor had got the best of him, and the tragedy of last night marks the close of a once promising life. He had on recent occasions told his companions that he was tired of life and would end it all some day. It was first thought that a temporary gas and bell buoy could be moored for yesterday, but this was found impossible on account of the heavy ourents. Therefore the island remained throughout the entire day and night without a buoy.

The jury had been out since 2 p. m., but because of the illness of Juror Rosson had not been able to consult until six p. m. There was a difference of opinion among the jurors as to the degree of guilt of the defendants, but an agreement was reached quickly.

Eloquent Speeches By Dr. McAlister, Hon. H. A. McKeown and Others

HAMPTON, N. B., Jan. 7.—The reception to Dr. McAlister in the Agricultural Hail tonight was a great success, well attended and managed in such a way as to reflect great credit upon the chairman, J. M. Scovil, and Secretary, R. G. Flewwelling, of the Hampton Liberal Club.

He expressed his determined opposition to the sale or transfer of the Intercolonial, and in this he was supported by Ora. P. King, who spoke later in the evening.

Flattering Indeed

The reception to Dr. McAlister was flattering indeed, and there was much enjoyment of that portion of his speeds which touched upon the personal effect of the banquet.

Hon. Mr. McKeown has seldom beard heard to better advantage than he was tonight. He was eloquent in his reference to the Liberal leaders in the county and Kings-Albert, Laurier and McAlister, and when he touched upon the failures of the Hazen government and the kind attention being paid them by that same Providence which had visited the old government upon many occasions he was heartly appleaded. He touched upon the advantage passessed by the present government in their ability to repair all damages by freshet, storms and fire with spending money as the old government were compelled to. He referred also to the brilliant legislation that had delied with the road law and to the legislations who made a law and then did the not have the courage to put it in force. Hon. Mr. McKeown's very full references to local issues shows what a wealth of campaign material has been given the opposition during the recess by the Hazen government.
