FREDERICTON

Fredericton, Nov. 3.—The preliminary examination of Chester Urquhart, charged with causing the death of a boy named George Clavey at Covered Bridge, was continued in the police court this afternoon.

Unpleasant went on in the stand and declared that the shooting had been accidental. He said that he went to pass the rifle to Clavey when the hammer caught in his clothing and the piece was discharged. He was most sincere and emphatic in his declaration that the shooting had been accidental.

There is more trouble between the city council and the police commission. The council has refused to pay for an account of $35 for stenographer's services at the recent investigation of the Cameron charges.

Under the proposed union each church may appoint two delegates and one additional delegate for every 5,000 members. After preliminary work in enrolling the delegates and discussion as to how to proceed in the matter, a provisional organization was constituted. Dr. Jones, chancellor of New Brunswick University and president of the Maritime Baptist convention, was appointed chairman, and Dr. E. J. Skole, Smith Falls, secretary.

Rev. A. A. Campbell extended a formal welcome to the delegates. George A. Weeks, who has been head miller for J. D. Irving at Buctouche for some time, has gone to Fort William, Ontario, where he has accepted a position. His place in Irving's mill has been taken by Ambrose Ales.

John Murray and Mr. Freeman, of Buctouche, left their summer home on Monday. Mr. Murray, who has been visiting friends here, has returned to his home in Buctouche.

The mission which was held in the Catholic hall here from Thursday last to Monday of this week, was a great success. The sermons were preached by Rev. Father Ferdinand of the Capuchin order. Misses E. L. McInerney, Lynn Wright, Mary Wright and Jessie Dickinson returned from Buctouche on Saturday, where they had been attending the Teachers' Institute.

Michael Kelly, in the City After Temperance Tour, Tells of Meeting With Two Remarkable Men.

Michael Kelly, of St. Martins, grand electoral superintendent for the I. O. G. T. in New Brunswick, arrived in the city yesterday after a successful tour of work in other pleasant experiences, remembrance of the meetings with two men from the county, and others of a memorable nature.

One is Robert Elliott, of Young's Cove, who, though eighty-four years of age, dig 108 barrels of potatoes this year, and the other is John Watson, of Iron Bound Cove, who is just four years short of a century but who enjoys a walk as well as a man of seventy, and who likes to talk on the topics of the day and who in one day this fall dug six barrels of potatoes.

Mr. Kelly, during his two months' temperance work in the county, addressed meetings and speaks highly of his reception and the hearty interest shown in his work by the people everywhere. He thanks the people for their kind and generous reception and also thanks officers and crews of the steamers Sincennes, May Queen, Majesty and Victoria, who were on duty during his tour of Charlotte or Sunbury county.

Some Future Queens. Two future queens are Princess Albert, of Belgium, and Princess Rupert of Bavaria, both daughters of the great empress, Duke Theodor, of the Netherlands, and the nephew of Leopold, King of the Belgians. Princess Albert's marriage has proved already happy, and both she and her husband are devoted to the welfare of their children, and are universal favorites.

The Crown Princess of Greece is better known, perhaps, as the Duchess of Sparta. She inherits from the late Empress Frederick many of the latter's brilliant intellectual qualities, and mother and daughter are devoted to one another. The Kaiser, of course, is her brother, and he has always been extremely fond of her, though very often their points of view are diametrically opposed. The Crown Princess of Greece did not go to her husband empty-handed. She is, on the contrary, wealthy in her own right, for, by the will of her father, the Emperor Frederick, she inherited a sum of £100,000. A brilliantly clever woman is the Crown Princess of Sweden, the mother-in-law of Princess Margaret of Connaught. Her health is extremely delicate, dear to her from many court functions and necessitating frequent absences from the capital. She is deeply religious and takes a great interest in the Salvation Army. Daughter of the Grand Duke of Baden, and Princess Louise of Prussia, she married the Crown Prince Oscar Gustave of Sweden about 26 years ago.

TWO STURDY SONS OF QUEENS COUNTY IN YOUTHFUL OLD AGE Michael Kelly, in the City After Temperance Tour, Tells of Meeting With Two Remarkable Men.

Manchester, Nov. 4.—Representatives of the locked-out cotton operatives and the employers were in conference yesterday in an effort to reach an understanding, but the meeting came to an end without arriving at a settlement. The employers refused to make any concessions.

The lockout in the cotton mills of Manchester began six weeks ago yesterday, and its effects are being felt all over Great Britain. When the lockout began only 130,000 operatives were involved, and it was hoped that an early settlement would be reached and that there would be no stoppage of the entire industry. The hope has been disappointed. As the stock of yarn became depleted no fresh stocks became available, and now practically the whole of the weaving trade as well as the spinning is at a standstill. More than 400,000 operatives are idle now, and it is asserted that up to date over $15,000,000 has been lost in wages.

Operatives locked out workless $5,400,000 Weavers and others left workless by the dispute $9,600,000 But the loss to the operatives themselves by no means accounts for all the cost of the dispute. Collieries all over the country have either stopped or are working short time, owing to the falling off in the demand for coal for the power mills that are idle. It is estimated that at least $1,500,000 a week has been lost to the coal trade. Another $100,000 a week has been lost by the principal railway companies in every large town in the country is simply incalculable. So far as can be ascertained, however, the known loss by the dispute may be summarized as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Category and Amount. Operatives' loss in wages: $13,000,000; Lock-out pay: 1,630,000; Coal trade loss: 9,000,000; Railway loss: 600,000; Total: $26,230,000.

Advertisement for Amalite Roofing. Includes image of a house and a large can of Amalite Roofing. Text: PAINTING a roof is expensive. Both a needless if your roof is Amalite. When you finish using Amalite, take away your ladder, pick up your hammer and knife and go away and leave the roof to take care of itself. A few years later you may go back and look at it with care, but it won't be necessary, and there won't be anything to do. This is due to the fact that Amalite is a real mineral surface—a surface that is so strong and so durable that it requires no repainting. If you get one of the smooth surfaced shingles you will have to paint it every two or three years to keep it from cracking. In fact, such roofs depend on the paint almost entirely for their waterproofing qualities. Amalite on the other hand depends for its waterproofing upon double layers of Coal Tar Pitch—the greatest known rolls of water.
