J. L. STEWART, Editor.
WEDNESDAY EVENING, OCT. 14.

Trade of St. John.
The following is a statement of the imports into and exports from the port of Saint John, N. B., for the three months ending September 30th, 1874, compared with the same period of the year 1873, showing also the countries with which the trade has been conducted, and the amount of duties collected:

Country	1873	1874
Great Britain	1,200,000	1,100,000
United States	800,000	900,000
Canada	500,000	600,000
France	200,000	300,000
Germany	100,000	150,000
Italy	50,000	70,000
Spain	20,000	30,000
Portugal	10,000	15,000
Sweden	5,000	7,000
Norway	3,000	4,000
Denmark	2,000	3,000
Holland	1,000	1,500
Belgium	500,000	600,000
Prussia	400,000	500,000
Austria	300,000	400,000
Russia	200,000	300,000
China	100,000	150,000
Japan	50,000	70,000
India	20,000	30,000
Other Countries	100,000	150,000
Total	3,500,000	3,800,000

It will be seen that our exports have increased to the amount of $21,416, and our imports decreased to the amount of $46,070. It has not been for the stagnation in the lumber markets of the United States and Great Britain there would have been a much larger increase in the exports. The balance of trade is $818,740 against us, which we pay in cash, ships, etc., not included in the official returns. It is a proof of our prosperity that we are able to buy and pay for so large an amount of imports.

Revival of Highway Robbery.
Particular forms of crime have lately, like particular fashions in dress, come in vogue for a time, and are then revived in an unexpected manner by an unseen agency. There may be laws that regulate these sudden revivals of almost forgotten fashions, but no one has discovered and published them. The crime of highway robbery long since went out of fashion in English-speaking countries, and has been coming in again of late. Our readers will recall many recent instances of the robbing of coaches in the Western States, and now the crime has been committed at our own doors. A short distance on the public road, within a few miles of the town, has been set upon by two masked men, beaten, robbed and thrown into a pond. This act far exceeds any he acts of the Western "road agents" appear mild and gentlemanly. If Dick Turpin's crime is to be revived among us we hope his politeness will be practiced by his professors. To be stopped on the road, have a pistol pointed at your head, and be persuaded to hand over your valuables to the polite interviewers, is not agreeable or profitable, but it is a pleasant adventure in comparison with the experiences of Mr. Des Forges. Penetration when their pockets were comparatively empty, and such is the normal condition of most pockets, when Dick Turpin was around, but it is a more serious matter now when an unsuspecting victim is beaten, clubbed and thrown into a pond to drown. We do not insist that our robbers should wear kid gloves, say "please hand me your money," and depart from their victims with bows and expressions of gratitude, but we do insist that they should be treated with the respect and consideration that is due to the law. We earnestly hope they may read this and govern themselves accordingly. We are ashamed of them. Their brutality was wholly unexcusable, for they could easily have lain low with their helpless victim while the carriage was passing, or they could have tied him, robbed the occupants of the carriage, taken possession of the team, and driven away at their ease. Robbers so cruel and cowardly as these fellows must come to a bad end shortly.

Misrepresentation.
Hon. J. C. Abbott, one of the most prominent of Canadian politicians, was unseated a few days ago on account of irregularities in the electoral lists. A dispatch from a Government employe was published in the Government papers asserting that Mr. Abbott was unseated for bribery and corruption. We called attention to this untruth at the time, but the papers that published the falsehood did not correct it. They have since had proof by mail of the falsity of the telegram they published, and have made no correction of it. Even the Telegraph, that professes to be a newspaper, not a party organ, has left those who depend on it for news ignorant of the truth. Considering the part Mr. Abbott has played in Canada, and the Pacific Railway scandal that has fastened on him by letter-stealers and desk-robbers, it is important that he should be set right in this matter. In giving judgment on the case, the judge said, after referring to the irregularities in the Township of Grenville:

In six of the other townships the provisions of the statutes have been expressly violated in almost every respect. The voters' lists were never made as required by law in these same places. In only two instances were they ever sworn to as required, and in no case, as far as the evidence goes, were they posted so that any revision could be made. The only judge possible, therefore, are, since the petition no longer claims the seat, is to declare the votes polled the several places all null and void, and the respondent not therefore duly elected or returned, and let it be adjudged, and so shall report. As regards costs they ought to be divided.

The Toronto Canada Firsts have embodied Mr. Blake's recently enunciated doctrine in resolutions. So they may claim him to be the author of their creed, whether he consent to be deemed their leader or not.

Rev. W. H. Murray, of Boston, couldn't take care of his horses and couldn't get without help, and as the congregation failed to provide an assistant, he resigned—the church.

A 500-pound mackerel has been caught off Devil's Island, and the Halifax people call it a devil's mackerel.

A "little unpleasantness" between Rev. Mr. Avery, pastor of the North Baptist Church, Halifax, and the deacons and some other members, has resulted in the reverend gentleman resigning his charge. Messrs. Board & Venning, extensive dry goods merchants of St. John, N. B., are about opening a branch of their business in Halifax, and have rented a building 149 Grenville street, formerly occupied by Messrs. Romans, for that purpose.

The total amount realized from the sale of tickets at the N. S. exhibition was $9,535.50. The number of persons admitted by ordinary tickets was 14,088 by exhibitors' tickets, 122; school children, 3,494—total admitted, 17,704.

TIMELY TOPICS.
A nice young gentleman has attracted attention in the streets of St. Paul. He is 18 years old, 7 feet high, 4 feet across the shoulders, and weighs 500 pounds.

A low-spirited robber committed suicide in Havana County, Ill., by sticking his nose into the mud and holding it there until he was smothered to death.

Dr. Andrew W. Davis, formerly of St. John, New Brunswick, and for the past 12 years a citizen of Indianapolis, died last night, in the 41st year of his age, at the City Hospital, of which he has been superintendent for the last two years.—Indianapolis, Ind., Sentinel, Oct. 7.

Advices from the Governor of Hope, of the 15th ult., are received. Affairs at the diamond fields were in an unsettled and unsatisfactory state. The Attorney-General has been captured during the week. Another diamond field has been found near Phillipsburg.

At the sale of the Gadsden short horns on Mr. Cheney's place, near Lewis, in England, the other day, the cows and heifers averaged $500 each, the highest average ever recorded. Sir Curtis Lamson paid 1,785 guineas for the heifer Duchess and 1,000 guineas for the heifer of Andrew's sold for 1,700 guineas.

The beauties of advertising were illustrated in the counting-room of the Whig and Courier a day or two since. An advertisement of a cow led to an advertisement of a cow, and while he was performing the duties of a cow hand, another man came in with an advertisement of a cow found. The two embraced.

Bygone Whig.
Sadun Khan, one of the leaders of the attack on the Residency at Indore during the Sepoy mutiny, which resulted in the capture of 30 European, including women and children, has been condemned, and will shortly be hanged. His active part in the mutiny was clearly proved. This is the sixth leading mutineer who has been executed during Lord Northbrook's administration. Two of them committed suicide.

Lawrence Green, about 27 years of age, Banker's Bridge, N. Y., murdered his wife last Saturday by cutting two long, deep gashes in her abdomen with a razor, and then repaired to another part of the house and committed suicide by cutting his throat. Grace had been arrested several times previously for disorderly conduct, and had the reputation of being a desperate character. Mrs. Green was excited that of sheer brutality on the part of the husband.

A woman suffering from biliousness lately died in Paris at the age of 43. She ate every day on an average about six pounds and a half of bread and half a pound of meat. Bread formed her principal sustenance, of which she required about nine pounds to completely satisfy her appetite. The unfortunate creature carried about two shillings a day as a necessary expense, with a little income she possessed, was nearly all absorbed in providing food for her insatiable appetite.

An inquest has been held at Manchester, Eng., on the body of a shoemaker, named Donovan, who was an inmate of the Freeville Lunatic Asylum and worked at his trade there. He had a great taste for eating iron, and died suddenly on Sept. 18. The post mortem examination showed that the stomach contained one pound ten ounces of nails, some an inch and a half long, several pieces of iron half an inch square, and an awl pointed handle. His death resulted from peritonitis.

Three young English girls, unaccompanied by any gentleman, have recently made the ascent of Mount Blanc. They started from Chamounix, returning to the same place at midnight, making the journey five hours longer than is usual by not sleeping at the chalet on the road. This being the first time that three ladies in one party had made the ascent, inhabitants of Chamounix on the anniversary of the event, presented the adventurous trio with an address and bouquets of flowers.

Spain IX has lately received from Santa Cruz, Cal., through Cardinal Francis, Prefect of the Propaganda, the photograph of an Indian still living who has reached the age of 122 years. Beneath the photo are these words, written in Spanish by the old man himself: "I, Juan Antonio Rojas, 122 years old, which the most holy Pope long years of life. The parish register of Santa Cruz shows that Rojas was baptized March 4, 1792, being at that time about 40 years of age. He has always led an exemplary life, still walks to mass on Sundays with no help but that of his staff, and asks the blessing of the Pope, whom he calls the 'Ojalá de los pobres'."

"Dodge's City Life," at Lee's Open House, strikes home, and shows the way in which checks are obtained after hours and on Sundays. A wonderful thing, though, is the appearing of the police. Our police never do that. This sketch, with a running commentary, is a most entertaining and most agreeable one. The entertainment is most agreeable one.

Dropped Dead.
Cornelius Donahoe, a laboring man, dropped dead yesterday afternoon while loading the bark Meridian with deals. He was conveyed to the morgue, and Dr. Harrison called, but life was extinct, and he was taken to his late home in North street. An inquest will be held this afternoon.

The Jubilee Singers at the Anatomy.
The rain which commenced a little after six last evening and poured down incessantly until nine did not prevent an excellent audience from assembling to greet the colored vocalists from North Carolina. Every eye was applauded and several were enticed away and acted just as "they did in the days of slavery," as the leader explained. "Jonah, or I long for to see," giving the entire history of the shining prophet in verse, a duet and chorus, was loudly applauded. The chorus in this represented the feelings of Jonah. When he was on board ship it was loud and high, when in the whale's belly it was soft and low, and when he got pen cast on shore the chorus was wild and high. "No one there to dippe me in," a Baptist melody, was rapturously applauded. "One more river to cross and 'glory in my soul'—" "Pick up de young Lams, tote 'em in your bosom, and let de old Sheep go, and each had to be repeated. The new melodies which were sung and there will be a crowded house. The company, apart for the excellent object for which they are working, deserve a crowded house as artists and humorists.

Exercise for Prisoners.
A Portland policeman, yesterday, was given some prisoners to convey to jail. He did not look particularly at the commitments and thinking the Penitentiary the best place, marked them across the Bais. Warden Quilton refused to admit them, and they were brought back to jail and placed under Deputy Sheriff Rankin's care.

Card and Cabinet Photos, in cameo and enamels, at Notman's.

Railway Accident.
Mr. George Clark, an employe on the Intercolonial Railway, met with a serious but fortunately not fatal accident, near Shediac, yesterday afternoon. In jumping on the cars his foot slipped and his knee struck the step, throwing him forcibly forward on the car. His knee was injured, and his chest hurt by striking the car. He came to his home in the city by train and will be laid up for some days.

SICKNESS is an affliction that waits on us all. None are exempt, and there are none but need relief from its attacks. Whoever can do this becomes our benefactor. A conviction prevails that Dr. Ayer's does. Disorders of the blood have been healed by his Sarsaparilla, and affections of the lungs by his Cherry Pectoral, too frequently too distinctly to be depicted. His AUGER CURE is said, by those who use it, to never fail. Reader, if you must have medical aid, take the best of medicine. Poor remedies are dear, as good are cheap, at any price you have to pay for them.—Charleston Courier.

Highway Robbery—Attempt at Murder.

The Loch Lomond Road, about five miles from the city, was the scene of a murderous assault on Arthur des Forges, Monday evening. The young man is an employe of Messrs. Board & Venning, and was on his way to the office of the firm. He started on foot from St. Martins on Monday, and about 8 o'clock, p. m., or a little after, was at the foot of the hill just beyond the Five Mile House. Here he was suddenly seized by two masked men who jumped from the bushes at the side of the road. One caught him by the throat and choked him while the other plied him with blows. Then they threw him on the ground and rifled his pockets, taking therefrom $222.65 belonging to his employers, $23 of his own, his watch, chain and pocket-book. One of them struck Des Forges in the face. Just as they had finished their work a carriage was heard approaching. They took the young man, who was almost insensible, and threw him into the small lake just at the foot of the hill, and then made good their escape. He managed to get out of the water and on the road, after some time, and walked to the city as fast as his tired and bruised limbs would let him. He arrived at Flagler's hotel, Carlton street, about 10 o'clock. Yesterday he was quite ill, being unable to leave his bed. He states that his assailants wore black masks, and were perfectly disguised. His clothes were wet by their hands that they were white men.

The story, as told by the young man, is somewhat peculiar. In the first place, where he alleges he was robbed and thrown into the lake, was not a stone's throw from a house, and within easy calling distance. A quarter of a mile further on was McNamara's Five Mile House. He had just past this house, and dozens of others before he arrived in the city. The carriage which was heard, just before he was thrown in the lake, did not overtake him until he had gone about three miles. Then he did not speak to the occupants, as they seemed to be in a hurry, and again he only met one carriage on his journey in, which is rather incredible on the Loch Lomond Road. Though so badly injured, no bruises are to be seen. He never told any one at the hotel that he had been robbed until next morning, but retired quietly to rest. His clothes were wet and a little muddy, which only proves that he had been in the mud.

Mr. Hinch and the Taxes.
"to the Editor of the Tribune."
SIR: Are Government authorities or their deputies allowed to accost an inhabitant of the city for ten years and demand immediate payment of taxes for the current year with the alternative of going at once to prison.

Now, Mr. Editor, I have proof that many in the city of considerable importance are allowed to remain unmolested. Do you not think it would be more honorable and straightforward were the Chamberlain to look nearer home and assist the near relative in paying his portion of the tax, than to be a busy body (to give a charitable expression) to the Government?

The Chamberlain, it appears, had an idea it was about to leave the city. I went to his office accompanied by a friend, a well known merchant of the city, who testified that I had no present intention of leaving. The Chamberlain, however, was not satisfied, and he was obliged to give up his valuable journal for the above. I remain, Sir, your obliged servant,
Jas. Hinch.
St. John, Oct. 13th, 1874.

Portland Police Court.
A trio came from Drury's Cove for justice this morning. They were Thomas Gables and his wife, who were charged with assaulting Harmonious Saunders. Harmonious is not a bad name to be in a row. Gables offered to pay the costs if the charge was withdrawn, and after a free and easy discussion the Magistrate allowed it to be.

Patrick Nicholson, arrested drunk on Fort Howe, was fined $4.

William Irons was given in charge by Morris Priner for being drunk and fighting in his house, but the complaint did not appear to sustain the charge.

Jacob Loveless is complained of by his wife that he loves her less than in their halcyon days. In fact he refuses to her, and their family, needful support, so that her health is in danger of being injured. The complaint will be investigated this afternoon.

The Civil Court was in session and had only four cases to dispose of. This is the smallest number on the docket for a long time.

To Advertisers.
The present is a good time to make contracts for yearly advertising. The Autumn trade is now coming on, and after it follows the Holiday season. During these two periods wholesale and retail dealers do more advertising, and probably receive more apparent return for expenditure in that way than at any other time of the year.

The Daily Tribune is admittedly one of the best mediums for advertising. Making its daily visits to the counting-rooms, stores, workshops and homes of the people, it is eagerly looked for and read by citizens of every shade of politics and by all intelligent classes of society.

The Weekly Tribune is to the agricultural districts what the Daily is to the crowded city—a welcome visitor, making weekly appearances with regularity, always bringing to the homes of our country cousins the news of the city and outside world, fresh, crisp and entertaining. Its value as an advertiser is first-class, and is worth the patronage of judicious men of business.

Rates for advertising in the Daily and Weekly editions of the Tribune may be ascertained and contracts made at the Counting Room, No. 51 Prince William street.

THE DAILY TRIBUNE and all the most popular Canadian, English and American newspapers and magazines can always be obtained at the bookstore of Mr. W. K. Crawford, King street.

City Police Court.

Yesterday afternoon John Stewart was charged with stealing a watch from the woodcock Wild Wave. The theft took place at Indianstown, where the schooner was lying, and the watch was found at Martini's store, where it had been left for repairs. The charge was read to Stewart, and he pleaded guilty. He was then sentenced to the penitentiary for three months with hard labor.

The preliminary examination of a Addison and Davis was commenced, and several witnesses were examined. The evidence proved that Davis had no connection with the robbery, and he was discharged from custody. Addison was still further remanded until Tuesday.

Henry Rodgers and Francis Henderson, two countrymen, were arrested drunk in the County Market. After remaining for a time in the Station, the Magistrate liberated them on application of their friends, who promised to take them once to their homes at Loch Lomond.

This morning John Phillips was the first man called, and charged with being drunk in Prince William street and interfering with the police in the course of their duty. He was a sailor, and was characterized as "Jack's interference." A fine of $6 was imposed, which covered both offences.

William Moore was arrested drunk on the North Side of Kings-Square and confessed. "Pay $4." "Only four?" asked the prisoner. "I'll make it 88 if you like." "It's my first offence, and I thought I might be let off cheaper." "I know that and let you off for $4." The money was paid.

Patrick Cotter, a young boy about half the size of Thomas Vradenburg, was, with the latter, charged with fighting in Prince William street. Vradenburg was proved to be acting in self defence, and was discharged. Cotter was fined $10.

Patrick Richards, for drunkenness in Prince William street, was fined $4.

Thomas Nelson, a sailor, was let off for the same amount, though drunk in Sheffield street.

John Haskett, in for protection, was let go.

John Galney was charged with using abusive language to Daniel Coughlan. The case was from Carlton, and, as usual, the complainant did not appear to prosecute the charge. Policeman Walker was sent over to bring the man, as this little game of getting warrants and then setting the case is getting about played out.

Shipping News.
New Vessels.—A handsomely modelled ship, named the Hesperus, was launched on the yard of Messrs. W. & R. Wallace, Gardiner's Creek, to-day. She is about 1,546 tons register. Her register dimensions are: length, 212 feet 8 in.; breadth, 40 feet 4 in.; depth, 23 feet 7 in. She classes 9 years French Lloyd's, and is owned by the builders and Captain Kelly, who will command her. She is to be towed round to this port to be fitted for sea, and takes in a cargo of deals for Great Britain.

Mr. J. McFee has on the stocks and nearly ready for launching, at his yard, Courtenay Bay, a fine ship of about 1640 tons, to be named the P. G. Carter. Her register dimensions are length 221 ft. 4 in., breadth 39 ft. 3 in., depth 24 ft. 4 in. She will class 9 years French Lloyd's, and will be commanded by Captain W. McFee. The P. G. C. is a finely modelled vessel, built of first-class material, and thoroughly finished, being double iron keeled and thoroughly copper fastened.

Mr. J. S. Covert, of Burton, Sunbury county, launched, at his yard, on the 7th inst., a fine barkentine named the Julia B. She registers about 550 tons, measures, length 146 ft. 2 in., breadth 31 ft. 2 in., and depth 17 ft. 1 in., and class 9 years French Lloyd's. She is owned by C. H. Caves, Esq., of this city, and lies at Merritt's wharf, where she is being rigged and loaded with deals for Great Britain.

Point Lepreau, Oct. 14, 9 a. m.—Wind N., light, cloudy; four schooners and brigantine reported yesterday inward sail to night.

The Albatross sailed to-day. A small party of ladies and gentlemen went in her to Partridge Island and returned in the tug.

A man and his wife, he 87 years and she 55, were fined for drunkenness in Oakland, Cal., the other day. Such people should be cared for until they come to years of discretion.

A French newspaper states that a girl named Carvigne was carried to the shrine at Lourdes in a dying state, but had no sooner touched the holy water than she rose up perfectly well. Another girl, who had been dumb for seven years, commenced speaking as soon as she reached the grotto. At Marselles, moreover, the news have marched in procession to an altar in one of the churches which is dedicated to our Lady of Lourdes to express their gratitude for the miraculous cure of one of their number, who had suffered for twenty months from an apparently incurable malady.

A well known short-hand reporter, Mr. George Snel, died at Brighton, England, on Sept. 22. He was considered the father of his profession, and had followed it for upward of fifty years. He was employed by the Government, often at much risk to his life, to report the speeches made by various agitators at public meetings during the Irish Rebellion of 1831, and he was known at that time as "The Recording Angel of the Marquis of Anglesey," a sobriquet first applied to him by O'Connell, and more than one occasion shielded him from the violence of the mob.

Edward P. Siple, who has a wife and three children, went to Washington several months ago, and has since been in charge of the large circular saw used for cutting heavy lumber in the navy yard. Friday afternoon, while adjusting the guides of the saw, which was running at the rate of 800 revolutions a minute, he missed his strike, and the weight of the hammer head carried him in front of the saw, which instantly cut off his head and his right arm. The few horror-stricken employes endeavored to render assistance, but another revolution cut his body in twain about the hips. In the mangle the left arm was bared entirely, the flesh being torn off, and in other places hanging in shreds.
