Drummond, Ottawa: "The W. C. T. U. of Wardsville note with appreciation that you voted for the suppression of race track gambling last year when the bill was before the House. We trust you will vote the same way this year when the bill comes up for consideration and by so doing help to rid our land of this notorious evil."—President, Mrs. Douglas; secretary, Mrs. Ellwood.

Through Lent

I ask to see none else but my poor self.

I ask to hear no song, but some old prayer;

I ask to taste no other food than grace—

Yet I shall have a feast most rare At Eastertide.

I need no eyes to see Thy wooden cross;

I need no ears to hear Thy glory told;

I need no lips to kiss Thy garment's hem—

Yet I shall want a heart of gold At Eastertide.

Oh, let me see the lilies by my road;

Oh, let me hear a word said just to me;

Oh, let me taste the joy of being good;

Then I shall know I've dwelt with Thee At Eastertide.

—Florence Munroe Wallin.

MELBOURNE

Melbourne, March 19.—The home of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Brown was the scene of a very pretty wedding on the 15th inst. when their daughter, Edythe Lillian, was united in marriage to Kenneth Clayton Harrison, Rev. G. W. Oliver officiating.

The bride entered the drawing-room leaning on the arm of her father, taking her place under an arch of evergreens, with pink and white roses. She was gowned in white baronet satin with georgette trimming and a full veil, and carried a bouquet of sunset roses and sweet peas.

Frances Mitchell, of Strathroy, was bridesmaid, and Clive Harrison, brother of the groom, was best man.

Lohengrin's wedding march was played by Miss Clara M. Waters.

The decorations were pink and white. Only the immediate relatives were present, including guests from Toronto, Dutton, Strathroy, Walkers and Glencoe. The groom's gift to the bride was a pair of French earrings, to the bridesmaid earrings and cuff links, to the groomsmen gold cuff links, to the bridesmaid earrings and to the pianist a gold pin set with pearls.

Quite a number from this burg attended the dance at Walkers on Friday. All report a good time.

The literary society of S. S. No. 9 spent a social evening in the school house on March 12th. The feature of the evening was a debate, "Resolved that the province of highways should be established in Ontario." Affirmative speakers—John McAlpine, Richard Coad; negative—Dan McKellar, Dugald Munroe. There will also be a good musical program.

The Needle Club met at the school house on March 8th. There were 8 members and 1 visitor present. Tea collection amounted to $1.25, flower fund 25c. The next meeting will be at the school on Thursday afternoon, April 2nd. Roll call is to be answered by "Kindness."

Miss Kate McIntyre, of Detroit, spent a few days at her home here recently.

SELF POISONING TODAY'S DANGER!

Hurried and improper eating, nervous worry and lack of abdominal exercise clogs up your system and overloads your liver. The result is self poisoning! No longer can your liver do its work properly and the result is you wake up dull and tired, coated tongue, bad taste and offensive breath. Often you suffer from loss of appetite, bad digestion, gas on a sour, weak stomach, improper movement of the bowels and a run-down condition of your whole system.

Cleanse and tone your liver! Put your system in condition! Feel your very best again! Try just a spoonful of Dr. Thacher's Liver & Blood Syrup after the next few meals and notice the quick improvement in the way you eat, sleep and feel—the return of strength, vigor and energy. You will be completely satisfied; otherwise there will be no cost.

Dr. Thacher's Liver & Blood Syrup is sold and recommended by P. E. Lamley.

THE HATCHING OF EGGS

Operating the Incubator and Setting the Hen.

Selection of Eggs for Hatchings—Do Not Keep Them Longer Than Ten Days—Justice to the Soil—The Lamb Market.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

Operating an incubator. Given a suitable room, the first thing is to clean the machine before and after every hatch. Brush the machine clean, wash it out with hot water, then spray or wash it with a disinfectant. The next operation is to set the machine level. The thermometer must be accurate, and to assure accuracy it should be tested at least once, or better, twice during the year. The temperature given is usually 103 degrees Fahrenheit throughout the hatch. Our experience has been that it is better to take an objective of 102 degrees, and if the machine creeps up to 103 degrees we have no cause for worry; but given a temperature of 103 degrees, when the machine goes up to 104 or above, usually either the hatch is small or the chicks hatched are hard to rear. Low temperatures are not so fatal as are high temperatures.

The amount of moisture required in an incubator depends upon the make and the room. Generally it is best to follow the manufacturer's directions.

Hatching by the Natural Method. It is generally agreed that, in order to secure a good hatch, the hen must be placed where other hens are not likely to disturb her; for, as a rule, we seldom get good hatches when other hens lay in the nest with the sitter. Some farmers do not set a hen until one becomes broody on a nest where no others lay, which often necessitates late chicks. The difficulty can be overcome by making a new nest for the broody hen. A box about twelve inches square and six inches deep; some earth, or an overturned sod in the bottom, with care to have the corners very full so that no eggs can roll out from the hen and get chilled; next, about two inches of straw or chaff, and then a few earthen cups into the nest. The nest should be placed in some pen where nothing can disturb the hen, and put her on after dark. Feed and water must be within easy reach, and a dust bath should also be convenient.

If the hen is sitting quiet the next day, you will be safe in putting the eggs under her. In our experience we get ninety per cent. of the hens to sit by following this method.

It should be remembered that the hen will be in better condition if dusted with insect powder when set, and also a few days before the hatch comes off. This will usually keep the lice in check, especially if some tansy or mint leaves are used in making the nest.

Selection of Eggs. Select for color, size and shape the kind of eggs you want for market. Continuous selection, year after year, will give results. Do not select dirty eggs, nor handle eggs unless your hands are clean. The shell is porous, hence there is possible contamination.

Eggs deteriorate in hatching quality with age. When you hold eggs for hatching keep them in a cool place about fifty to sixty degrees Fahrenheit. Be sure the place is clean and not musty. Eggs for hatching should be kept not longer than ten days.

The eggs from late hatched pullets, or immature birds, seldom hatch as well as eggs from mature birds. Our best hatching eggs have been produced from early hatched pullets that laid well in the early winter and then went through a partial moult. The pullets hatched in early February have, the following spring, produced remarkably good eggs for hatching. Heavy brood pullets hatched in May have produced the poorest hatching eggs.

Eggs from birds out of condition, whether from feeding, housing, or management, produce eggs difficult to hatch. It is also true that the hatching power of eggs in a day or two will vary, the cause of which at times is difficult to locate.—Dept. of Extension, O.A. College, Guelph.

Justice to the Soil. We can well close this discussion with a statement published years ago by the late Mr. Hoard, for in it is the moving thought of all that has gone before. "In raising farms," wrote Mr. Hoard, "there are three kinds of justice to be provided for: justice to the owner, justice to the tenant, and justice to the soil. Until these three are fairly considered in the bargain, there will be constant friction and dissatisfaction. . . . It has well been said that the finest product of the highest civilization is plain, straight justice and common sense in all the relations of life."

The Lamb Market. An investigation of the lamb markets was carried out by the Animal Husbandry Department, O. A. C., Guelph, and a study of the leading markets for the past twenty years. It is evident that the lowest prices occur in September, October and November, and anything that can be done to spread the lamb marketing period over a greater part of the year would be of value to the producers.

Experiments at the Ontario Agricultural College, conducted within the past four years, show excellent results from seeding Sweet Clover alone in the month of July. The seedlings which took place later than July were unsatisfactory.
