Dear Mr. Meighen :-

During my visit to New Zealand at the end of 1922 and beginning of 1923, I was very much interested at the results of years of experience along public benefits in legislation.

A friend gave me a book "Social Welfare in New Zealand" by Mr. Hugh H. Lusk, whose name was always very well recieved by those in high places such as the Premier; Ministers of the Government; Presidents of Chambers of Commerce; etc.

When I returned to Canada I felt sure that I would be serving my political Chief if I brought his attention to a few movements, tried and proved, which would strengthen our platform. I sent the book forward to you but I have no idea as to your views. I can follow a leader if he is moving. I do not like standing still. I will still follow you if you call and lead.

Always a conservative since 1872.

Faithfully yours

As P. Murray
