

in Germany and their own people starving in Belgium have been unable to send them the so necessary and so welcome "parcels for the prisoners". Undoubtedly, those who can help will help to make their sad fate more endurable.

These are but a few of the funds that Canada is appealed to to assist.

The Central Executive Committee feel that the response will be as generous a one as in the past and will deem it a privilege to forward all donations received as per the wish expressed by the generous donors. Where no special fund is indicated, the Committee will dispose of the money to the best advantage by applying it to such funds as are at the time in most need of support.

A. De JARDIN,
Hon. Secretary-Treasurer.

July 27th, 1917.
