

CEYLON TEA IN THE SOUDAN.

The above illustration shows transports leaving Cairo for Berber with supplies for the British troops.

General Kitchener insisted that Ceylon Tea should be used by his men; it was easier prepared and required neither milk nor sugar. It quenches thirst, which coffee does not. No beer or liquor was issued in this campaign---
Only CEYLON TEA.