HOILAND WILD OAT SEPARATOR'As ye sow, so shall ye reap'

No farmer sows Wild Oats willingly; but only because unable to clean them out of his seed grain.

It is not difficult to take this robber weed out of Wheat, Rye, Flax or even Barley; but to separate Wild from Tame Oats of about the same size, shape and weight—"Aye, there's the rub."

The "Hoiland" is the only machine that successfully separates Wild Oats from Common Oats, and from other cultivated grain. It works on a different principle from all other separators.

STAY OF EXECUTION

Q.—During the last four years I have suffered loss, first by frozen crop, second by having my house and seed grain destroyed by fire, and on August 21, 1914, my crop was completely hailed out. These reverses put me up against it. I have had to mortgage my stock to keep going. I have 130 acres for crop in 1915 which, if good, will pull me out of my trouble. I am told I can place my crop in the sheriff's hands to pay my creditors in the fall, which will prevent them closing in on me before my crop is threshed. One mortgage was due last fall, 1914, the next April, 1915. Is there any such law to prevent seizure until a farmer gets his next crop?

"ANXIOUS TO PAY"

A.—There is no way of placing your crop in sheriff's hands except having him seize it under execution, but this would not affect your chattel mortgages. There is no way of extending the time for payment under mortgages except by agreement with mortgagee. We would advise you to try to make arrangements with holder of mortgages if possible.

EXTENSION OF TIME TO PAY

Q.—A loan company holds a mortgage due March 1. When I bought the quarter section three years ago and assumed the mortgage, they agreed to lift it for the cash, $800, and a $40 bonus. It belonged to my son. But before the correspondence, etc., was finished with a little delay, they wrote my banker to advise me to pay the debt according to the tenure of the mortgage. You know the hard times that have come to this part of Alberta. I own a half section here with a $2,000 new house on it, a section near Ponoka and another half section in Nebraska, all good land and largely under cultivation; $3,000 worth of lots in Los Angeles, $2,000 loaned money in good hands, but the chance of collection in time is doubtful. I wish to know if the Alberta law will enable me to defer payment till I can raise a crop or make shift. There are no encumbrances on any of the property mentioned.

Alta.

W. O.

A.—There is no law in Alberta allowing extension of time for payment of moneys falling due under mortgages. If you were sued no doubt the court would grant you a few months to make payment and avoid foreclosure. A personal judgment could be obtained, however, and execution issued against your goods. We do not think the company holding mortgage will be hard on you, and we advise you to try and arrange for an extension of time. If the security is good, we feel sure you will have no difficulty in making such arrangements.

DISCHARGE OF MORTGAGE

Q.—Before November 1 last, I paid a mortgage on my farm. I have waited for the discharge of this mortgage for three months, the company claiming that they cannot furnish same until it comes back from the old country. I offered to pay the mortgage three years ago, but they would not accept the money, as the mortgage read for five years. Do you think that I run any risk of losing any or all my money paid to the company by waiting any longer for my release? Could they have charged me any overdue interest if I had refused to pay mortgage until they furnished me the release? They have sent me receipt of the amount.

Sask.

T. H. P.

A.—This mortgage is in favor of private parties living in England. The trust company are merely agents. There is no danger of your losing the money paid. You have discharged the debt and cannot be made to pay again. If you do not receive formal discharge in reasonable time, you may sue mortgagees. If you had tendered money due under mortgage you could not be made pay interest after date of tender until given discharge.
