SUFFERING FOR ITS SIN.

That Old Liberal Journal that dared to criticize the New Liberalism, the Vankleek Hill Review, is not mourning these days over the fact that it has been cut off of the exchange list of the Ottawa Free Press. It takes its readers into its confidence and explains the situation as follows:—

We do not read the Ottawa Free Press.

The editor will not send it to us.

He refuses to let us study its pages and learn the great and grand truths of Liberalism.

He refuses to recognize us as gentlemen worthy of his sublime glance or recognition.

We're not in it and must in future be compelled to struggle through our weary life without the brightening influence of the Ottawa Free Press. We have fallen from grace and can now expect no recognition from the professed leading exponent of Liberal principles.

Why is it all? That's easy. We dared to criticize the Liberal party leaders. The dear old Free Press thought it would jump on us and shut us out. We did some of the jump act, too, and the dear old F. P. came out second best.

The Free Press has gone further; it has refused to have business dealings with the Review, even a letter with the stamp enclosed has failed to elicit an answer. After giving these data, the Review concludes, with the utmost good nature:—

We give this piece of information to show the size of some men who profess to be leaders of Liberal thought and principle.

Just imagine any party failing which has such great and noble organs to support it as the Ottawa Free Press.

Surely there can be no danger of the Liberal party being defeated when such strong journals stand so big men at its back and them will stand so nobly by the party.

Dear F. P., won't you please play in our (back) yard?

SANATORIUMS FOR CONSUMPTION.

A summary of the act respecting municipal sanatoria for consumptives shows that any municipality or any two or more municipalities may establish such a sanatorium, equip the building and maintain and operate such an institution. Two municipalities may join, choose a site and erect a sanatorium, which shall be their joint property and shall be managed jointly. The site, plans, specifications and estimates must be submitted to the secretary of the provincial board of health, for his approval. He may make whatever changes or modifications he thinks best.

The necessary by-laws for the raising of the funds and for the establishment of a sanatorium must be passed by the municipality or municipalities contemplating the building of one. The management of such a sanatorium shall be under the control of a board composed of not less than five trustees, who shall hold office for not more than five years. These trustees shall transact all the business pertaining to the institution and all property and buildings shall be vested in them.

The Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council may grant to the trustees of any sanatorium one-fifth of the cost of the site, buildings, improvements and equipment, extensions, additions and alterations, provided such grant shall not exceed with respect to any one sanatorium the sum of $4,000 in all. In addition to this the Government pays $1.50 per week for each patient in the institution, and the municipality which does not contribute to its erection pays the same amount for every patient admitted from such municipality. Any municipality establishing a sanatorium may levy such moneys as may be required to meet the balance of the cost of maintenance.

The real and personal properties acquired for a sanatorium and vested in the trustees, so long as the same are so vested, shall be exempt from all municipal or other taxation.

The trustees may accept from any person or corporation, donations of property, real or personal, whether by will or otherwise, for the use of the sanatorium, and may apply the same in accordance with the terms of the donations.

KENT APPOINTMENTS.

That old established Reform journal the East Kent Plaindealer, of Ridgeway, has suddenly wakened up, and is now on the war path after the Liberals of Chatham. In its last issue it says:

Up to the present we have had very little to say about the appointment of the county clerk. Several months ago we did editorially support the claims of our own townsman, Walter Mills. In Ridgeway, Howard and Orford, it was generally conceded, so far as public opinion went, that Walter Mills would be the successful aspirant, and it was considerable of a shock to the people, and especially the Liberals in this vicinity, when the announcement was made that a Chatham man had been appointed over the head of our representative, who was known to have supported Mr. Mills.

Some of our contemporaries have very properly called attention to the utter unfairness in the method in which affairs in this county have been handed over to Chatham party leaders for years, while the sturdy yeoman and deserving citizens of the rural districts and small towns are treated with contempt.

There are at present eight or ten offices in this county of importance under the Dominion and Provincial governments. They are the Senior Judge, the Junior Judge, Collector of Inland Revenue, Registrar of Deeds and the Drainage Referee. Of these the Conservatives appointed the Junior Judge, the Collector and the Clerk of the Peace. Chatham has always supported the Conservatives and has continued to support them during Liberal rule. The Liberals, under the late Alexander Mackenzie, appointed the Senior Judge, and a long time ago appointed the Registrar. The Sheriff gives his appointment to the present Liberal government at Toronto. So also does the Drainage Referee, an important office, whose jurisdiction extends over the Province, and whose office still admits of his being able to practice his profession in Chatham, and lastly the Clerk of the Court.

The city of Chatham, which has continued to record a very large majority in favor of Conservative candidates at the Provincial and Dominion elections has been accorded all the patronage, while the municipalities that have continuously given very decided majorities for the Liberal party receive no patronage. We know of none of these places going to Romney, Tilbury, Harwich or Orford.

Our good friends of the Prohibition Association, President Parrott and Treasurer Humphrey, think the Government would not be justified in passing a prohibitory measure because the country is not ready for it. Now, this great family journal is not advocating prohibition. It is only amusing itself by trying to show the inconsistencies of some of those prohibition leaders who are doing so. Either the liquor traffic is right or it is wrong. Either it is good or it is bad. If it is right and good why do Messrs. Parrott and Humphrey oppose it? If, on the other hand, it is wrong and bad, how can they or anyone else conscientiously argue that the state continue to place the sanction of law upon the traffic and make the people, through their government, partners in it?

There is a rumor abroad in Ottawa to the effect that the writ will be issued on Saturday, Sept. 10, nominations to take place Tuesday, Oct. 16, with polling a week later.

Gilson Willetts, an alleged author and journalist, has been in India, and returning has written a syndicated article, which has appeared in various American papers, in which he says: The famine is above all a big famine. The breadless area covers 350,000 square miles, which is one-third of all India, or as big as all Canada. In this area are 50,000,000 people, one-sixth the entire population of India. The area of all Canada is 3,653,946 square miles. The ignorant but blissful Mr. Willetts apparently thinks Ontario is all Canada, for its area is 347,350 square miles, and it is its area he has used for illustration. The area of "all Canada" is over ten times that of Ontario, exceeds that of the United States, which is 3,501,000 square miles, and about equals that of the United States along with its new dependencies of the Philippines, Cuba, Porto Rico and Hawaii, which total up to 3,672,412 square miles.

GROWING TIME IN HIGH PRICES

Bellefleur Intelligencer.

"The Liberals are doing a good deal of crowing about the growing time and Canada's prosperity," said a gentleman on Saturday night. He was holding forth to a small audience which seemed to receive his remarks with approval. "It seems to me," he continued, "that the high prices which we have to pay for all the necessities of life more than offset this wonderful 'prosperity' which we are hearing so much about. For my part," wound up the speaker. "I am going to vote against the Laurier government for just this reason. Because Sir Wilfrid and his gang spend $12,000,000 a year more than the Conservatives used to may be a sign of prosperity, I have my doubts of it, but won't argue the point; but this I know—the things I have to eat cost me a good deal more than they did before the Grits got in; if I have got to praise them for the growing time I am also going to blame them for the growing prices, and that's why I am going to vote for Harry Corby next election."

One of Forbes' Scoops.

The following story, illustrating the late Archibald Forbes' cleverness in getting his news reports in ahead of his fellow correspondents:

Here is a little scene: Time, near midnight, after a hard day's work. Everybody done up. "Hello, Jones," says Smith. "There's Forbes already asleep, like brass." "By Jove, yes," quoth Jones (disputing more from Forbes). "It would take ten horses to wake him up. I'll turn in," says Jones. "Time enough to get our stuff off tomorrow, eh?" "Right you are," responds Smith.

In ten minutes the wearied warrior scribes are dead asleep. Forbes rises, cautiously, passing out like a ghost, sits him down in a hidden corner with the stump of a fallow candle, writes like a whirlwind for a couple of hours, finishes with the last flicker of his dip, saddles a horse, off he goes helter-skelter across the country, gallops for an hour, delivers his letter, gallops back, is in bed by 4, sleeps this time "like brass" and no mistake.

"Hello, lazy bones," exclaims Smith at 7 a. m., shaking the sleeper. "Time to be up, old man," adds Jones. "What are you up to?" quoth Forbes drowsily. "The devil you are! Why hurry?" "Let's have another snooze." At last Smith and Jones get their stuff off and in three days discover to their bewilderment that they were 24 hours behindhand. Very provoking to Smith and Jones. But if Forbes had been the victim of the little ruse he would have been the first to laugh over it and to congratulate his successful competitor.

Couldn't See the Joke.

Once Offenbach graciously accepted the invitation of some friends to visit them in Etretat. As his hosts were waiting for him at the hotel, one of them, who was very intimate with the composer, suggested:

"Let us give him a rousing welcome. The idea was taken up and developed. One of the party possessed a collection of old weapons. This was ransacked, and some two dozen young fellows were soon equipped as halberdiers. Another mounted a donkey and waved the flag of the club.

When Offenbach's carriage came in sight, a drum beat, the halberdiers presented arms and fireworks were set off from the balcony at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

As the composer stepped to the ground a venerable old man approached and presented to him the key of the hotel on a silver platter.

Offenbach, vain as a peacock and accustomed to all sorts of queer receptions, entirely failed to see the joke, though it was as broad as anything in "The Grand Duchess" or "La Belle Helene." He took it all seriously as a tribute to his genius, and, with tears in his eyes and in a voice that shook with emotion, he murmured:

"Gentlemen, this is too much, too much!"

NOT ONE.

"Here," said an angry pawnbroker to an impudent customer, "why don't you pay me and take out your watch?" "I can't," confessed the depositor.

"Well you are the worst I ever saw." "I guess I am," was the candid admission. "I haven't a single redeeming quality."
