MURDER WIFE AT DOOR.

Then Telephoned For the Police—A Buffalo Tragedy.

Buffalo, N. Y., June 17.—Frank E. Jackson walked up to the door of his house yesterday and rapped. His wife opened the door and Jackson stepped inside. Then he shot the woman three times and she fell dead at his feet.

Locking the door to the room in which the murder occurred, so his little children could not come upon their mother's body, Jackson went to a neighbor's house and telephoned to the police that there was trouble at his house. Then he walked out to meet the officers who were hurried over, and gave himself up.

As Jackson was walking to the telephone from which he reported the killing to the police, he passed his wife's father. He bowed and continued on his way as if nothing had happened.

Cough Caution

Never, positively never poison your lungs. If you cough—even from a simple cold—you should always use, soothe, and ease the irritated bronchial tubes. Don't blindly suppose it is with a stupefying poison. It's strange how some things finally come about. For twenty years Dr. Shoop has constantly warned people not to take cough mixtures or prescriptions containing Opium, Chloroform, or similar poisons. And now a little late though—congress says—"Put it on the label, if poisons are in your Cough Mixture." Good! Very good! Hereafter for this very reason mothers, and others, should insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. No poison marks on Dr. Shoop's label—and none in the medicine, else it must be law by the label. And it's not only safe, but it is said to be by those that know best, a truly remarkable cough remedy. Take no chance then, particularly with your children. Insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Compare carefully the Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure with others and note the difference. No poison marks there! You can always be on the safe side by demanding

The Goose.

The goose, which for some unknown reason has become an emblem of idleness, but which is really a wise bird of good habits and one of the most profitable for the fanner, was probably the first fowl to be domesticated by man. Homer, 1,200 years before the Christian era, speaks of his geese, in which he was greatly interested, and the hieroglyphics of Egypt prove that at his time they had been tamed for centuries. Circle.

DR. MARY E. HANKS.

Dr. Mary E. Hanks has achieved the unusual honor for a woman physician of being elected president of a large medical organization. Officials of the Illinois Homeopathic Medical Association recently announced the action of the executive committee in selecting Dr. Hanks, who has been first vice president, to succeed Dr. James N. Downes as president.

In 1890 Dr. Hanks went to Chicago to practice. She is a graduate of the Since going to Chicago she has affiliated herself with Hahnemann Medical College as professor of medical gynecology. Dr. Hanks also is on the staff of the Hahnemann hospital. The State Homeopathic Association, of which she has become president, has about 1,000 members.

Giving Medicine to the Children.

Drugs are obnoxious enough even in the most palatable form, and the wise mother will take care to present the bitter dose in as attractive a way as possible. It is easy for some children to take medicine, but to others there is an inherent dislike for even the name. It is cruel to force the disagreeable down the child's throat; it is equally foolish to bribe the little patient into "taking it like a man." Most mothers know the trick of disguising powders and pills in a spoonful of preserves and of mixing medicine with regular nourishment, such as milk, for instance, but these methods are not advisable. The child takes a dislike to the motion and later refuses to take not only his medicine, but also his nourishment. I know of one little lady who to this day can hardly refrain from leaving the table when preserved cherries are a part of the menu simply because her mother always concealed her childish dopes in the heart of a nice ripe red cherry.

Holding the nose while the medicine is in the mouth overcomes the extreme bad taste of the drug, or if a bit of ice is held on the tongue before the medicine is taken the sense of taste is blunted for the time being. Medicine droppers are invaluable in giving medicine to babies. Sedlitz powders are somewhat improved by being mixed with crushed ice and a few drops of lemon juice. Castor oil may be made palatable by moistening the sides and edges of the glass with lemon juice, pouring in two or three teaspoonfuls of the juice, adding the required amount of oil and putting in another dram of the lemon juice. Prepare one or two half inch cubes of dry bread, and on the top of each cube sprinkle a generous pinch of salt. Give the oil sandwich first, then follow it immediately with a piece of bread, which removes the oil from the teeth.

The Ideal Woman.

"Tell me," said the girl who always asks so many questions, "what is the ideal woman? Is she the pretty one, the witty one or the little insignificant one who does as she is told?"

"I suppose it is a case of individual feeling," said the man. "I fancy that every man idealizes woman. He puts her upon a pedestal and worships her."

"Of course he does. I know that. And every woman likes to be an ideal to a good man, even though she knows she falls far short of excellence, and to remain upon that pedestal she must exert herself to live up to his ideal."

"Indeed, she must," replied the man, "and what is more, a good woman can make a man—well, halfway good too. In fact, she can make or mar him. A man likes to be encouraged, made to feel that he is a little bit above the common herd, and if his ideal woman makes him think so—"

"He gets so conceited that he thinks he can catch every girl he wants. Here is one girl who will never make any man think he is a paragon of goodness, because, and let me emphasize it, you can't hold a man like that more than twenty-four hours."

And then there was a verbal warfare.

HAD TO DRAW REVOLVER.

Criminal Defended Himself With Club But Was Captured.

Bowmanville, June 17.—Chief of Police Richard Jarvis had a lively time Saturday when he went out to arrest William Thompson, a Dane in Darlington.

The charge against Thompson was that he stole an overcoat, pair of pants and a bicycle from John McCullach, Kilmarnock town line, between Durham and Ontario.

Thompson engaged at Walter Crideman's farm, but the chief arrived there shortly after. The former saw the officer come to the farm and hid in some straw, protecting himself with a club.

Jarvis, however, was armed and it was fortunate for him, for he had to draw his revolver on Thompson before he would surrender.

Thompson has already served a term in Central prison.

Women Who Wear Well.

It is astonishing how great a change a few years of married life often make in the appearance and disposition of many women. The freshness, the charm, the brilliancy vanish like the bloom from a peach which is rudely handled. The matron is only a dim shadow, a faint echo of the charming maiden. There are two reasons for this change, ignorance and neglect. Few young women appreciate the shock to the system through the change which comes with marriage and motherhood. Many neglect to deal with the unpleasant pelvic drains and weaknesses which too often come with marriage and motherhood, not understanding that this secret drain is robbing the cheek of its freshness and the form of its fairness.

As surely as the general health suffers when there is derangement of the health of the delicate womanly organs, so surely when these organs are established in health the face and form of a woman witness to the fact in renewed comeliness. Nearly a million women have found health and happiness in the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It makes weak women strong and sick women well. Ingredients on label—contains no alcohol or harmful habit-forming drugs. Made wholly of those native American medicinal roots most highly recommended by leading medical authorities of all the several schools of practice for the cure of women's peculiar ailments.

For nursing mothers, or for those broken-down in health by too frequent bearing of children, also for the expectant mother, to prepare the system for the coming of baby and making its advent easy and almost painless, there is no medicine quite so good as "Favorite Prescription." It can do no harm in any condition of the system. It is a most potent invigorating and strengthening remedy nicely adapted to woman's delicate system by a physician of large experience in the treatment of women's peculiar ailments.

Dr. Pierce may be consulted by letter free of charge. Address Dr. B. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y.

Lady Godiva to Ride.

The idea of clothing Lady Godiva in the forthcoming Coventry pageant has been abandoned. The advocates of the traditional Lady Godiva have won, and apart from some slight concessions to the proprieties her ladyship will ride the streets in the altogether.

The concessions will take the form of flesh tights and some apparently incidental draperies. The role is likely to be filled by La Mille, a stately person who has expressed her willingness to undertake it on assurance that her appearance will be purely for a charitable object.

The Mayor of Coventry, who opposed the decision, is now described as the saddest man in the city. He is exulting in the turn events have taken. He has long been vexed by the daily arrival of applications from lovely ladies, who have sent their photographs and measurements, recommending themselves, and he now has a fine collection of beauties.

To burn a letter may show a lack of sentiment, but it is in very many cases a mark of good judgment.

DISARMAMENT A DREAM.

Russian Delegate Strikes a Blow at the Peace Conference.

The Hague, June 17.—The keynote by M. Nelidoff, on behalf of Russia, at the opening on Saturday of the second international peace conference, was a crushing blow to the pacifists. There was no mincing of words when he deprecated the idea of ultimate disarmament and the inauguration of a regime of universal peace was relegated to the limbo of dreams.

M. Nelidoff described this idea as a "star floating far above this mundane sphere, to be always striven for but never attained. Nations, like individuals, he said, quite frankly, "are human, and not the most perfect judicial system ever invented could put an end to strife and violence."

"When honor and vital interests are at stake," the speaker declared, "regardless of consequences, neither the former nor the latter will recognize any authority except personal judgment and personal feelings."

Stripped of its fine phrases, the speech of M. Nelidoff is considered a deliberate warning to the conference to keep down to the plane of the earth, to continue the work of the first conference in the direction of alleviating the horrors of war and narrowing the chances of conflict by opening wider the door of arbitration and to aim toward "conciliation and justice," but not to go further. The view that the powers should study the question of lightening military establishments with which the first conference concluded its labors was not even mentioned.

A friendly message was despatched to the Otar at the commencement of the proceedings.

RUSSIAN DOUMA DISSOLVED.

Czar's Ukase Sets Forth Reasons For This Coup d'etat.

St. Petersburg, June 17.—Emperor Nicholas yesterday morning affixed his signature to an imperial ukase abolishing the Douma and ordering that the election of members to its successor, which was to meet Oct. 14, was to be held under the new election law, which provides against the "submergence of the educated classes by the uneducated masses."

This act constitutes a virtual coup d'etat and overrules the specific provisions of fundamental laws of the realm, solemnly proclaimed by His Majesty on the eve of the convocation of the first Douma, without the consent of Parliament itself.

This breach of the constitution is justified by the great law of necessity, the Emperor's advisers holding it impossible under present conditions to co-operate harmoniously with the Emperor's advisers holding it impossible to remove Russia from anarchy and revolution.

The Reasons Why.

The ukase is accompanied by a manifesto setting forth the motives which led the Emperor to dissolve the Douma.

His Majesty adverts to the Douma's rejection of temporary laws, its refusal to ratify the budget, the open revolutionary spirit of a large portion of its members, the abuse of the right of interpellation, and, finally, the failure of the Douma to comply immediately with the demand for exclusion of the 55 Social Democrat members charged with conspiring against the present regime.

RUSSIAN PRESS GAGGED.

Criticism Means Jail—Must Not Comment on Dissolution.

St. Petersburg, June 17.—Active preparations for the dissolution of the Russian Douma included an order from Gen. Dracheffski, prefect of St. Petersburg, addressed to the municipal press, announcing that the publication of any article inimical to the Government will be considered a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of $1,500 and three months in jail.

This is the most drastic measure proclaimed against the press since the days of the Black Reaction, and if it is enforced it will entail the suspension of every Liberal newspaper in St. Petersburg. The Socialist Tovarishch has already thrown up the sponge, and did not attempt to appear Sunday morning, feeling that suppression was inevitable.

Over 700 arrests were made in St. Petersburg Saturday.

SUCCEEDS DR. PRIMROSE.

Prof. J. P. McMurrich Appointed to Chair of Anatomy.

Toronto, June 17.—The resignation of the chair of anatomy at Toronto University by Dr. Primrose has been pending for a year, when the university authorities requested him to retain the position until his successor could be appointed.

Prof. J. Playfair McMurrich, who succeeds him, could not have left Ann Arbor for another year had the appointment not been made at once.

Dr. Primrose, of course, retains his associate professorship of clinical surgery, as well as the secretaryship of the medical faculty.

Sentence Reduced.

London, Ont., June 17.—Owing to an oversight on the part of the authorities, Thomas Harlekin, who was on Friday sentenced to four years in the Kingston penitentiary, was brought before Judge Elliott and his sentence changed to two years, on two counts, one year on the charge of common assault, to which he pleaded guilty last August, and was released on suspended sentence, and the other year on the charge on which he was convicted on the present sessions.

In presenting the case to his worship, the crown gave the impression that the prisoner had pleaded guilty to having committed assault, with occasion to do serious bodily harm.

Forks in England.

The enormous ruffs so much in vogue in later Tudor times are responsible for the introduction of forks in England. The difficulty of reaching one's mouth when so adorned must have impressed itself very forcibly on every one, and so the invention of some means of prolonging the reach became an imperative necessity, and thus, as demand usually creates supply, forks came into existence.—Captain G. A. Hope in Grand Magazine.

KIDNEY DISEASE COMES ON QUIETLY

Perhaps no other organs work harder than the kidneys to preserve the general health of the body and most people are troubled with some form of Kidney Complaint, but do not suspect it. It may have been in the system for some time. There may have been backaches, swelling of the feet and ankles, disturbances of the urinary organs, such as, brick dust deposits in the urine, highly colored scanty or cloudy urine, bladder pains, frequent or suppressed urination, burning sensation when urinating, etc.

Do not neglect any of these symptoms, for, if neglected they will eventually lead to Bright's Disease, Emphysema and Diabetes.

On the first sign of anything wrong

They go to the source of trouble, strengthen the kidneys and help them to filter the blood properly and flush off all the impurities which cause kidney trouble. Mr. Thomas Petty, Massey, Ont., writes: "After I arrived in Canada from New Zealand, a couple of years ago, I suffered very much from kidney trouble. I tried several remedies, but they did me no good. Finally my back became so lame I could scarcely walk. I was advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills and after taking them I felt like a new man."

ENTIRE TRAIN BURNED.

Fireman Killed and Scores Reported Injured.

Minot, N.D., June 17.—The Oriental Limited, on the Great Northern Railroad, was derailed at Palermo, forty miles west of Minot, on Saturday. Every car fell into a ditch and immediately caught fire. The fireman was killed, and scores of persons were reported injured. The train was running at the rate of fifty miles an hour at the time of the accident. The accident was caused by spreading rails.

The entire train was burned. Medical aid was speedily sent to the scene aboard a wrecking train.

Two Bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters Cured Him.

Imperfect organic action makes bad blood, so, too, bad blood, in turn, makes imperfect action of every bodily organ. If the blood becomes impure, poisoned or contaminated in any way from constipation, biliousness or any other cause, some especially weak organ must soon become diseased thereby, or the whole system may suffer in consequence.

Pimples, boils, blotches, ulcers, festering sores, abscesses, tumors, rashes or some serious and perhaps incurable blood disease may result. There is no medicine on the market to-day to equal the old and well-known remedy, for all cases of bad blood.

Mr. Ernest B. Tupper, Round Hill, N.S., says: "I think Burdock Blood Bitters a great medicine for boils. I had them so bad I could not work. I had thirty-two on my back at one time. I used only two bottles of B.B.B. and they completely cured me. I cannot recommend it too highly." Price $1.00 per bottle or 6 bottles for $5.00.

JUST FIFTY YEARS AGO

PRESENT UNREST IN INDIA RECALLS TRAGEDY OF 1857.

Terrible Lucknow Tragedy Can Never Be Forgotten—Flames of Burning Bungalows Gave First Signal—Legacy of Grief and Hate—Cawnpore's Fateful Well—Memory of Heroic Defenders Can Never Fade.

The present unrest in India recalls the fact that it is just fifty years, since the momentous evening in May, 1857, when the famous mutiny broke out.

The number of those who can recall the anguish and uncertainty of that terrible year at home is all too quickly growing smaller; still fewer are the survivors of the gallant troops who took part in the toils and trials of the Mutiny campaign in India. To all such, says Blackwood's Magazine, this fiftieth anniversary cannot but be full of memories—memories many of them of anxiety, of horror, and of terror, but others, too, of pride in deeds of heroism and endurance, of elation at success hardly won, of the fact of identity and danger. Nor will the anniversary be overlooked even by the younger generations whose recollections cannot carry them back to events of half a century ago; least of all will it be forgotten in India.

Legacy of Hate.

"As the sun sets in a haze of blood and dust on May 10, and the long, darkened rooms are thrown open to catch, if they may, some breath of cooler air, we may be sure that the thoughts of many will go back to that sultry Sunday evening at Meerut, when the flames of the burning bungalows in the cavalry lines gave the first signal for the general conflagration, which was to wreck so many homes and leave behind it such a legacy of grief and hate.

As for the heroes—and the heroines too—of those days of 1857, the memory of them has never faded. At Delhi the lofty spire of the monument on the historic Ridge looks across the intervening space, over the boulder-strewn hillocks and the white-walled bungalows almost hidden amidst the trees growing round it, to the red sandstone walls of the imperial city, and the delicate minaret and milk-white domes of its Jamma Masjid; whilst below, amidst the trees, the new bronze statue of John Nicholson keeps watch over the cannon-erected breach by the Kashmir Gate.</
