Rev. Anderson Rogers, of New Glasgow, was in Wolfville between trains on Monday. He took part in the dedication services of the new Presbyterian church at Hantsport, on Sunday, and was on his way to St. John. Mr Rogers, who was formerly for a time pastor of St. Andrew's church, this town, is now one of the most popular ministers in the province.

Rev. J. H. Chase, a native of Canada, has been pastor of the Presbyterian congregation, Onslow, for twenty nine years. He has also served as the clerk of the Truro Presbytery for twenty years. At a meeting of this body on the 19th July, he resigned the clerkship. Mr Chase graduated from Dalhousie College in 1866, and took his M. A. degree in 1869. He has been the minister of only one congregation, a congregation that during a history of eighty-two years has only had three pastors.

Mr G. W. Cox, after spending a few weeks at his old home in Colchester county, returned to Wolfville on Tuesday and left yesterday for Bellows Falls, Vt. Mr Cox has resigned his position as principal of McCulloch Institute at Mount Vernon, N. H., to accept the superintendency of schools at Rockingham, Vt. The position is quite an important one, there being about 50 schools under his direction. We congratulate Mr Cox on this recognition of his abilities in the home of his adoption.

The People's Forum.

To the Editor of the ACADIAN.

DEAR SIR, - In common with other residents of Wolfville I have noted with pleasure the various efforts made by our town council, the Board of Trade and private citizens to improve the appearance and add to the comfort of our little town. The ACADIAN tells us also that a watering cart is promised in the near future, which is nothing more than we expected from our observation of the material recently deposited to improve (?) Main street. When so much has been done already one hesitates to suggest anything more, yet I cannot refrain from calling attention to one matter which has perhaps escaped the notice of the powers that be. Both ends of our town are looking fresh and well cared for, but a little east of Mud Bridge, extending nearly to Harding's brook, the sidewalks are in a most unwholesome condition from burdocks which grow and increase from year to year. These great ugly plants encroach upon the sidewalks, fill up the adjacent ditch, catch all the dust possible, and a little later will be full of the annoying burrs which cling to anything that touches them in passing. They have also covered themselves freely in an open muddy lot on the south side of the street, and raise their lusty heads triumphantly in an orchard on the north side, adding greatly to the neglected appearance of this part of the town. Whose duty it is to attend to this matter I know not, but the word to the wise is sufficient. Will not the proper authority send a man, without delay, to dig out this troublesome pest, root and branch, or if that will entail too much labor or present, have them cut even with the ground and so dispose of them immediately, that not one seed can escape to perpetuate this vexing race of plants.

Yours for beauty and comfort, ANSEL DUNBOCK.

Wolfville, July 27th.

The Presbyterians of Hantsport dedicated their new church on Sunday last in the morning and evening Rev. Anderson Rogers, the eloquent pastor of New Glasgow, took the services and spoke to very large audiences. The regular dedicatory ceremony was witnessed in the afternoon by Mr. Ramsey, the pastor, assisted by Rev. Messrs. Hatt and Fisher, pastors respectively of the Baptist and Methodist churches in the town. The newly dedicated church is an extremely pretty and convenient one, the stained walls and stained glass windows adding greatly to its beauty. The collections during the day amounted to $135.
