

A LIFETIME OF SICKNESS

Worn Out, Thin and Miserable Until She Took "Fruit-a-tives"

PALESTERON, June 20th, 1914.
 "Stomach Trouble and Distressing Headaches nearly drove me wild. Some time ago, I got a box of 'Fruit-a-tives,' your famous fruit medicine, and they completely relieved me. To-day I am feeling fine and a physician, meeting me on the street, asked the reason for my improved appearance. I said, 'Last week I took 'Fruit-a-tives.'" He said, "If 'Fruit-a-tives' make you look so well, go ahead and take them. They are doing more for you than I can."

What Are You Here For?

If you've never made another have a happier time in life,
 If you've never helped a brother thro' his struggle and his strife,
 If you've never been a comfort to the weary and the worn,
 Will you tell us what you're here for in this lovely land of mine?
 If you've never made the pathway of some neighbor glow with sun?
 If you've never brought a bubble to some fellow heart with fun,
 If you've never cheered a toiler that you tried to help along,
 Will you tell us what you're here for in this lovely vale of song?
 If you've never made a comrade feel the world a sweeter place,
 Because you've lived within it and had served it with your grace,
 If you've never heard a woman or a little child proclaim
 "Blessing on your bounty,
 You're a poor hand at the game."
 —Canadian Pictorial.

Extract from a Letter Received from a Medical Officer at the Front.

To quote from a letter received by a gentleman in Victoria, B. C., from his son, who is with the medical corps at the front in Flanders:
 "And let me say in all seriousness that the poor fellows who have soiled themselves with alcohol haven't an earthly chance of recovering from the ghastly wounds caused by shrapnel; even the fellows who have been fairly temperate have a far harder fight for recovery as against abstainers. I don't know what you're doing in Canada about the drink business, but if you've any influence, for God's sake use it to suppress the cursed liquor traffic during the war. It's efficiency, efficiency all the way, and how can men be efficient if they let their systems down by the use of liquor? Let me tell you that the Government did a criminal thing in allowing the liquor interests to send that rum into the trenches. Fellows who got badly frosted bitten were mostly those who consumed most rum, and besides it intensified the sufferings of others; and then there were some

WOMAN AVOIDS OPERATION

Medicine Which Made Surgeon's Work Unnecessary.

Astoria, N. Y. — "For two years I was feeling ill and took all kinds of tonics. I was getting worse every day. I had chills, my head would ache, I was always tired. I could not walk straight because of the pain in my back and I had pains in my stomach. I went to a doctor and he said I must go under an operation, but I did not go. I read in the paper about Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound and told my husband about it. I said 'I know nothing will help me but I will try this.' I found myself improving from the very first bottle, and in two weeks time I was able to sit down and eat a hearty breakfast with my husband, which I had not done for two years. I am now in the best of health and did not have the operation." — Mrs. JOHN A. KONGOS, 602 Flushing Avenue, Astoria, N. Y.

Every one dreads the surgeon's knife and the operating table. Sometimes nothing else will do; but many times doctors say they are necessary when they are not. Letters after letters come to the Pinkham Laboratory, telling how operations were avoided and were not performed, or if performed, did good. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was used and good health followed.

The London post office makes $20,000 a year by unclaimed money orders.

A shell weighing about 70 pounds exploded into a shower of 1,200 pieces. The University Press at Oxford, England, has appliances for printing in 159 languages.

According to the Academic des Sciences, the price of radium is over $16,000,000 per pound.

The clapper of Big Ben, the famous bell at the British Houses of Parliament, weighs six hundredweight.

In Norway vaccination is not compulsory; but a person cannot vote at an election unless he has been vaccinated.

The British post office has received for distribution to troops 1,500,000 copies of books and magazines. The Postmaster-General hopes that the supply will be undiminished.

Madagascar possesses the only oxen cavalry regiment in the world. The climate is so unhealthy for horses that some substitute had to be found.

After the battle of Hill 70 at the Dardanelles the knapsack of Corporal H. H. Neaves, of the Warwickshire Yeomanry, a sturdy man, was opened, and a shrapnel bullet was found wedged in a thimble which formed part of his outfit, and probably saved his life.

New Game Bird at Coast
 A novelty for British Columbia sportsmen is the recent appearance of large numbers of American, or "bob white," quail in several localities in the province. Previous efforts to introduce this species of game bird in the Pacific Coast country have failed, and the birds reported this year are said to have migrated from the south of their own accord, and in some places they are reported quite plentiful. At first there were only six pairs, and they are supposed to have migrated from the flocks which the United States Government has been breeding in the State of Washington. As a result of breeding and by additional migrations the coveys have multiplied rapidly.

Chinese Goods for China
 The Chinese business men of Hangchow, in the Shanghai district, have organized the United Association for Advancing the Nation to Use Native Goods. The means of advancing the usefulness of the association were pointed out:— Enlist the sympathies of all schools and colleges throughout the country, print short notices in the daily press, employ men to go around and give public addresses to the people, distribute handbills giving names and short descriptions of native goods, keep in touch by letter and otherwise with the Chamber of Commerce.

An International Romance
 "I never enjoyed a meal so much in my life," said a woman who was telling of her visit to a celebrated author. "I didn't expect to stay to lunch, but his wife asked me so cordially that I accepted. They are the most delightful couple, friendly and hospitable, and made me feel entirely at home."

"What did you have for lunch?" asked the one to whom she was telling her experience, and she answered: "What did we have? Why, I don't know—oh, yes, I remember. We had cold mutton, and currant jelly, and baked potatoes, and ginger cake and tea."

"Was that all?" said her companion. "I wouldn't ask any guest to sit down to such a meal!"

"No, you wouldn't!" said the other, looking frankly at her, "and neither would I have done it before this, and there's where we make a mistake. I have seen true hospitality, and enjoyed it, now, and I mean to try it. I felt so much at home, so much accepted as a friend—I can't tell you? Their hospitality wasn't cumbersome, but perfectly genuine and simple. It's what you think and feel, not what you eat, that makes a meal joyous, after all."

The household that a meal "entertains" with troublesome fuss, now and then, does not know real hospitality.

Queen's Early Telephones
 Queen Alexandra has made an interesting gift to the collection at the Institution of Electrical Engineers. It consists of the telephone fixed at Marlborough House from the school room to Her Majesty's sitting-room in 1878. They were made for Her Majesty, when Princess of Wales, on board the Thunderer, and are some of the first telephones ever used. There is simply a receiver and transmitter, both made of boxwood, with the wire connection.

Abstaining Monarchs.
 The King's offer to take the pledge for the period of the war will be warmly approved (remarks the London correspondent of the Daily Dispatch) by at least four European monarchs who are habitual abstainers from alcoholic liquor. These are the Kings of Italy, Spain, Sweden and Bulgaria. Kings Victor and Ferdinand are almost excessively abstemious. King Alfonso will not touch wine or liquor even at official banquets, when his only "tipple" is a glass of cold water. King Gustave is more than a teetotaler himself. He and his entire royal family are at the head of the temperance movement in Sweden. When the King paid his state visit to London a few years ago he always drank water at the numerous banquets and receptions in his honor.

WATCHMAKER'S ADVICE

Little Hints About Care of Cantankerous Watches

"Watches," said the jeweler, as he screwed a little glass into one eye and squinted into a case of wheels "are like human beings in many ways. They are delicate; they run well only when in perfect order, and they require attention once in a while, whether they stop or not. They become sick, in a way, as we do, and they get off their balance. But, unlike men, when their mainspring breaks, they are not necessarily done for. They can have new mainsprings; we can't."

"Watches, all jokes aside, are really almost human sometimes. They take cold readily. Never lay a watch on a cold marble table or near an open window all night after you have worn it next your warm body all day; it will contract a sort of pneumonia, and ten to one it will stop before long if the practice be continued. The cold contracts the metal pivots, which small as they are, must not be smaller, and they shrink. Thus the wheels cannot move."

"Watches are magnetized, too, by the persons who wear them. I have seen the statement that watches vary in timekeeping with the health of the wearer, and that if changed from one person to another, they will also show slight variations. All of that is true. The static electricity of a person may affect a watch. All of us have felt it, or some more than others. Darn persons give off more than light one do. Dark women should have rubbers cases for their watches if they wish to have them keep perfect time."

"Never lay a watch flat, at night after it has been worn in a vertical position all day. It throws it off its base, so to speak. If the pivots be worn, the wheels will not run level. A sudden jar will often stop a watch, which runs regularly at that; such a jar as getting on or off a car suddenly. The jolt comes at the exact fraction of a second when the spring is in a position to catch."

"Now I will wind this watch of yours, and show you that all the trouble with it is that it is run down. Unusually 'oh, no, it could frequently happens. Some one is in here every day with an unsound watch, thinking that it is out of order, because it will not run. They forget to wind it, and are afraid to do it over again. Ladies are our best customers in that line. Of course, I could get one done for this, but the talk will answer. 'Now when you go home, wind your watch in the morning. No; not at bedtime, but when you get up. That gives it the full spring to work on during the day, when the jars and jolts are more numerous. And hold your watch still when you wind it, and wind the key. That's all; try that.' And the jeweler handed back the watch, running beautifully."

REAL HOSPITALITY

"I never enjoyed a meal so much in my life," said a woman who was telling of her visit to a celebrated author. "I didn't expect to stay to lunch, but his wife asked me so cordially that I accepted. They are the most delightful couple, friendly and hospitable, and made me feel entirely at home."

Rheumatism and Lumbago

Wm. Parker, 105 Cayuga street, Brantford, Ont., tells in the following letter of his remarkable experience with Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills:—"My doctor treated me for some time for Sciatica, Rheumatism, Lumbago, but to no purpose, for I had to lay off work. The visiting officer of Sick Benefit called to see me and advised the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, stating that he had been cured of them highly. Not being satisfied with this, I went back to my doctor, and when he said they were good I began their use. The promptness with which they relieved the action of the kidneys and bowels was wonderful, and it was not long before I was rid of all my trouble. I had awful sharp pains in the lower part of my back and left hip, and was so bad that I could only walk by hanging on to a chair or the wall. My wife had to lace my shoes. Only those who have had this ailment can realize the way I suffered. I am writing this letter to let people who have my trouble know of these pills. You are at liberty to use this letter, and if anyone interested will call or write to me I will give every detail."

When you have pains and aches put Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills to the test. By enlivening the action of liver, kidneys and bowels they cleanse the system of all poisons, and thereby remove the cause of rheumatism, lumbago and other painful diseases.

May be the dough had forgotten to rise.
 Or had risen quickly overnight and fallen again—
 To rise nevermore,
 'Twas weak flour, of course,
 Meaning weak in gluten.
 But FIVE ROSES is strong, unusually strong,
 With that glutinous strength which compels it to rise to your surprised delight.
 Stays risen too.
 Being coherent, elastic,
 And the dough feels springy under your hand.
 Squeaks and cracks as you work it.
 Feel the feel of a FIVE ROSES dough.
 Great is the bread born of such dough—
 Your dough!
 Try this good flour.

One Class Benefited by Saloons
 I have a friend who lectures on temperance. He is more dramatic than some of us. At one point in his lecture he takes out his gold watch, and holding it towards his audience, says, 'I will give this watch to any one present who will arise and tell me one class of people in this world that has ever been benefited by the saloon.'

He made that offer all over this country, and no one ever took it up, until one day out in Iowa, a gentleman stood and said, 'I think I can tell you one class.'

'What's that?'
 'The undertaker.'

My friend was about to unchain his watch and hand it over, when an old man arose, and said, 'Hold on! Before you give away that watch, allow me to say that I have been the undertaker in this community for thirty-five years, and I have buried a great many of that kind of people; but whenever I am called upon to lay away an old soak of any member of his family, I always know it's a charity job; that I shall never get my money. I should be thirty-five thousand dollars better off to-day if I had never had to bury one such case.'

'Dry or Die.'

To Check a Cold.
 It is easy to check a cold if you begin in time. Frequent doses of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine keep the cough loose, allay the inflammation and so prevent it spreading to the bronchial tubes and lungs. Mrs. S. M. Moore, Shortford, B. C., writes and tells me one of my gratefuls for Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, for it cured a cold which, a friend said, would put me in the grave.

A Worthy Sister.
 Canada in the face of the nations has shown that it is possible to suite the spirit of pacifism with the ability to fight manfully. At Ypres, amid clouds of poison gas, her intrepid soldiers served the day. Relatively, Canada is making a contribution to the war, equal to, if it does not exceed, that of England or France. And, so doing, Americans, true to their better traditions, perceive that able fighting not only for her own future, but for the supremacy of those great principles that we fought for at Gettysburg. Canada is a worthy sister of the United States. Should a crisis be forced on us, should we also be called on to testify by deeds in behalf of things without which civilization is a sham, may we prove ourselves as worthy, and as self-sacrificing as have the Canadians.—New York Globe.
