THE COUNTRY WEEKLY

Nearly all the country papers have raised their subscription price from $1.50 to $2.00 per year. This has been made necessary through the increased cost of publication. In common with the city dailies, and the trade class publications, the country papers have been brought face to face with a very serious situation and have been forced by self-preservation to increase their subscription price. It is to be hoped that no more of the country weeklies will be forced to suspend publication. Already there has been a lengthy list of papers forced into the hands of the receiver.

No matter how efficient city papers may be, they can never take the place of the country weekly. There is a personality and a flavor about the home town paper that cannot be furnished by any other publication on earth. To the people of the district it is a guide, philosopher and friend, and to those living away from the old home centre, its weekly coming is welcomed like a message from an absent friend.

For the most part country papers have done a real service in fighting the battles of the community they serve. They see the interests of the small town and of the farm are linked together, and for the most part they have been warm supporters of the Modern Movement to give the common people a larger voice in the affairs of the nation.

In passing, a well wisher for the country papers would like to make a suggestion. In making it, he recognizes the difficulties under which his country conferees labor, that he is often editor, compositor, reporter, and advertising manager combined. Despite the many and increasing difficulties under which the country publisher has had to work during recent years, we would like to see more of them conduct an editorial column or corner where they could express their opinion on public questions. Some of the country papers have excellent editorial columns, and it is really too bad that all of them do not feature this side of their paper.

After all, we have more confidence in the crystallized judgement of the country editor than in the shouting and ranting of the average city paper. There is more time for mature thought and ripened judgement in the country. The rural editor is nearer to his constituency and is better able to summarize and express the opinions of his readers than the city writer. The Farmer's Sun wishes to country papers every possible success in their efforts to put their publications on a better financial basis, and trusts that as a result of increased prosperity will come an editor's corner.

TENEMENT AMENITIES.

(From the Boston Transcript.)
Mrs. Clancy was returning from shopping and what with the crush and the high prices she was in no pleasant humor. As she approached the door she saw Mrs. Murphy, who occupied the street floor, sitting at her window.

"I say, Mrs. Murphy," she called out in deep sarcasm, "why don't ye take your ugly mug out of the windy an' put your pet monkey in its place? That'd give the neighbors a change they'd like."

Mrs. Murphy was ready for her.

"Well, now, Mrs. Clancy," she retorted, "it was only this morning that I did that very same thing, an' the policeman came along and whin he saw the monkey he bowed and smiled an' said, 'Why, Mrs. Clancy, wiah did ye move downstars."

Keep Little Ones Well in Winter

Winter is a dangerous season for the little ones. The days are changeable—one bright, the next one cold and stormy, that the mother is afraid to take the children out for the fresh air and exercise they need so much. In consequence they are often cooped up in overheated, badly ventilated rooms and are soon seized with colds or grippe. What is needed to keep the little ones well is Baby's Own Tablets. They will soon regulate the stomach and bowels and drive out colds and by their use the baby will be able to get over the winter season in perfect safety. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

YOUR FUTURE.

It is a natural instinct and a pleasant diversion to dream of one's future. The good old platitude that distant hills look greenest has much truth to commend it. Unfortunately, so many worthy souls regard the future as something entirely dissociated from the present.

"Some day," says the young man with a congenial bent for writing, "I shall be an author."

With such rosy thoughts he proceeds to squander his time and his brains with inane pleasures.

"I shall be a great pianist," affirms the daughter of the house, and dances into the small hours until her pretty head is incapable of sustained study.

So the world goes on—with people always sighing for the moon.

If you want success in the future, get a firm grip on today. Today is the parent of tomorrow.

Don't make the future an excuse for neglecting the present. Achievement requires a stronger foundation than a wish.

A NEIGHBOR SAYS:

When ironing between buttons on a blouse, place buttons down on a folded turkish towel and the space between buttons will be ironed beautifully smooth.

If you want the contents of a saucepan to cook quickly never leave a spoon in it. The spoon carries off a great deal of the heat and delays the boiling.

To open oyster shells easily just place the oyster on the warm kitchen stove for a second then insert the knife between the thin portion of the shell and it will open easily.

To clean the railing of bannisters wash off all the dirt with soap and water, and when dry rub with two parts of linseed oil and one part of turpentine. A good rubbing will bring up the polish as if the rails had been repolished.

Save wooden meat skewers, as they are useful for getting into the corners when scrubbing paint, etc. Let a skewer soak in the bucket while you are scrubbing wainscoting. After being used once or twice it forms a little brush, and is more useful.

To clean Coral Beads—Dissolve a teaspoon of borax in a pint of warm water. Dip the coral in and when clean pass through tepid water. Dry by rolling in a soft towel.

THE FOLKS AT HOME.

When through some lonely city street,
For months and years we've gone our way,

When some remembered face we greet:
"How are the folks at home?" we say.

"How are the folks?" our eager cry;
"The folks are well, they speak of you."

"With thoughtful care, with softening eye,"
"They send their love, they miss you too."

We go our way in crowding throng,
Our hearts are light with glad some glee,
Our steps are dancing to the song,
"The Folks at Home Remember Me."

It is said the Government of Alberta will bring in a new marriage Act, making the publication of banns a necessary condition of marriage.

GASPEREAU NOTES

Mrs. Mary Coldwell is recovering from a recent sickness. Her daughter, Mrs. Cyrus Duncanson has been with her during the time of her illness.

Mr. Avery Duncanson, while working in the woods last week, gave himself a serious cut on the foot.

Friends of the community regret to hear of the illness of Mrs. Fred Mitchell, but are glad to learn that she is on the road to recovery.

We are glad to hear that Miss Leta Gertride is able to be out since her recent sickness.

Miss Minnie B. Smith has returned from her home to take up her school duties again.

Mr. Ray Coldwell has left this week for New Waterford, to resume his duties after spending his holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Coldwell.

Mr. Russel Eagles, returned last week to Truro to continue his studies at the Agricultural College.

The GasperEAU division of the "Sons of Temperance" has started for the winter. It is hoped that it may have a goodly number in attendance and do good work.

Cecil Coldwell, Arnold Coldwell, Borden Miner, Starr Gertride, Walter Kinnie and Herbert Davis are taking up studies at the Acadia Academy since the holidays.

The directors of the GasperEAU Agriculture Society held a meeting last week to arrange for the Annual Supper which they plan to have on Monday night, Jan. 17th.

Mr. Herbert Trevooy was the guest of his sister, Mrs. Clifford M. Coldwell, for the week-end.

An EDDY Pail
of Indurated Fibreware
—will outlast by far the old-fashioned wooden or metal kind.
Eddy's are made of wood pulp, moulded to shape in one single piece under tremendous hydraulic pressure—then baked to flint-hardness under terrific heat.
They have a glazed surface and are strong as steel, light as wood, easy to lift and carry, cannot leak, cannot become dented or battered.

Not just woodenware—but

READ IT—

NEWSPAPERS would be much less than they are if they contained no enjoyable, instructive and valuable advertisements. Many persons read the advertisements quite as thoroughly as they read the news matter. This is just as it should be.

The more advertising the more buying. The more buying, the greater the consumption of goods or service advertised.

More business could be done by the merchants of Wolfville if they advertised more, and if more of them advertised. Much business goes to the big city mail-order houses because they advertise. These houses would cease to draw business from this community if they ceased to advertise.

TO THE MERCHANTS OF WOLFVILLE

Advertise more, and more of you advertise, and the big mail-order houses will get less and less business from this community.
