THEIR FIFTIETH ANNUAL. Business Transacted at James Street day lasted until 5 o'clock, and the court Baptist Church Last Night.

Encouraging Reports Presented-Many Branches of Church Work Heard From -The Estimates for the Ensuing Year-Election of Officers-About Publishing Names of Contributors by Envelope.

The evidence was one very contradic-tory nature, and the haver for the de-fence claimed that only ordinary force had been used in ejecting Robertson from the property which Attwood claimed to own. The Magistrate briefly reviewed the evidence and dismissed the case. John West No, 71 Robert street, was charged by Truant Officer Hunter, act-ing for the Children's Aid Society, with eruelty to an infant. Mr. W. H. Ward-nope had charge of the prosecution.<sup>2</sup> Annie Cunningham stared she had lived in West's house for a time and had seen a little adopted grift often ill-treafed by West and his wife. She gaw defendant on two or three occasions while twith a piece of broomstick, and she saw him kick the baby once when she would for stop erging. She had seen bruises on geveral parts of its body. Miss Allilizan, of the Infants' Home, swore that when the child was taken into the Home some weeks ago it had bruises on its body and legs and was, afraid of the nurse, and acted quite un-like ordinary infants. Mrs. Altchison Mrs. Onzner, Mrs. Mur-ray, Elizabeth Carter and Sarah Butler ray, Elizabeth Carter and Sarah Butler tostified as to the treatment of the child by its foster mother, They all consid-ered that it was abused, but the evidence was not strong enough to convict under the Act and the case was dismissed. Half a century has passed since the James Street Baptist Church was tablished, and last evening the 50th annual business meeting of the congregation was held, The pastor, Rev. R. G. Boville, presided. The large amount of business to be transacted made discussions necessarily short. After some argument a proposal to publish at the close of the ensuing year the names of those making weekly offerings by envelope together with the amounts contributed, was laid over until the next monthly meeting. The only report upon which any discussion took place was that of the church treasurer, and the argument was the result of a difference of opinion as to the application of $1,074 due the church from the Star Insurance Co., ered that it was abused, but the evidence was not strong enough to convict under the Act and the case was dismissed. West had papers giving him legal right to the child, but he said his wife was ill and he was willing that the child should remain in the cuetody of the Home. The child a little auburn-haifed girl eighteen months old, was in court. which was offset by a mortgage $900 held by the Insurance Company. This report, as well as all the others, was eventually carried.

Mas eventually carried. According to the report of the Church Clerk, Mr. R. C. Stevenson, the number of members on the roll at the begin-ning of this year was 597. Since then 22 were added by baptism; 13 by letter; 6 by experience, and 3 by re-instatement. Forty five were dismissed by letter, and 2 by death, leaving 594 on the roll now. Of the 105 public services Rev. R. G. Boville conducted 53.

S3. Mr. Henry Moore presented the re-port of the weekly offering system, which showed total receipts of $1,643.78, with an average each Sun-day of $31.61. The largest collection was on January 14th, $33.96, and the lowest July 1st, $6.90. The period during which evangelists were in the city collections showed a marked de-crease. In conclusion the report con-tained the following: "From observa-tion during the past year I consider that a large number of people get pretty cheap preaching and music and the comforts of a well-equipped church." Mrs. E. A. Bampfylde's report of peasantry of the village and surroundings that the Virgin Mary had appeared in a neighboring wood. The report re-

MAGNIFICENT FLOBAL TRIBUTES.

Halifax, N. S., Jan. 2 .- The Legisla tive Council Chamber was opened to the public at eight o'clock this morning, and notwithstanding the cold snap which succeeded yesterday's storm, the ap proach to the building has been crowd ed with people all the forenoon, patient ly waiting their turn to get in.

The casket has gold mountings and on the cover a gold crucifix and heavy shield with the following inscription : "The Right Hon. Sir J. S. D. Thomp son, P.C., K.C.M.G., M.P., O. C., Premie and Minister of Justice of Canada, Died at Windsor Castle 12th December, 1894, aged 50, R. I. P." The doors of the Provincial Building were closed at 10.30 and up to that hour the immense crowds of people anxi-ous to gaze upon the casket of the late Premier had diminished little in size: It is estimated that from 30,000 to 45,000 persons passed through the doors. The body will be moved to St. Mary's Cathedral to-morrow morning at 8 o'clock. aged 50, R. I. P." The doors of the Provincial Building

Most of these, so anxious were they not to miss seeing the holy mothér, brought food with them, and prepared to camp on the spot. The news that the Virgin Mary had been seen spread rapidly, even to a considerable distance, and numbers of peasants began to assemble from places fifty and sixty miles away. So quickly did the crowd augment that the local authorities began to far trouble, and a troop of gendarmes was ordered to the spot. The crowds were then or-dered to disperse, but they refused, and assumed a menacing attitude, some of the more fanatical among them calling uma. It Virgin Mary to exterminate those who would prevent them from as-sembling to do honor to her. The gen-darmes were finally ordered to charge, which they did, wounding two of the peasants. The latter, however, were too numerous, and succeeded in beating back their assellants, whom they chased with stones and sticks for some distance, re-turning only out of fear that the Virgin might appear during their abismo. Re-inforcements of gendarmes were hastily summoned from several points, and an-other attempt made to disperse the crowds, which by this time numbered fully 8,000. It is now learned that soon after Sir John Thompson arrived in England Mr. Gladstone, who had heard from Lord and Lady Aberdeen that he was coming over, wrote to Sir John Thompson, ex-pressing the hope that he would pay them a visit at Hawarden Castle be-fore leaving for Canada, Sir John ac-cepting this invitation and proposing to pay the visit just before sailing for liverpool. The doctor said that this had been the worst passage he had ever known. After the rudder was smashed the captain caused the vessel to steam on slowly, keeping her head to the wind. The Sar-nia drifted slowly east. The chief engin-eer devised an agenous iron rudder, which he had made with a view to fas-tening it to the end of the broken rud-der, but as a perfectly calm sea was required in order to ship it, the project failed. On the second day after the An-ohoria's hawsers broke the Alhan Line steamer Siberian was sighted, but was allowed to pass, as the Anchoria sig-nalled that she was going to rejoin the hawsers. A couple of hours after the Siberian had left, however, the Anchoria signalled that her rudder had given out, and then steamed away. The Sarnia signalled to the Anchoria requesting that she be not abradoned, but the An-choria did not return. The Sarnia was addid all Thursday and Friday aight, when a terrible hurricane was blowing, and on Saturday a very bad sea was running. Everybody on board was de-lighted when the Norwegian hove in sight and bore down to the disabled steamer, Lincs were got out, and the Norwegian towed the Sarnia to Inistra-hull Island, where tugs took hold of the latter. Dr. Roche was attached to the steamer Yaneouver, which stranded on the Antrim coast eighteen months ago.

clous Death at Sarnia. Sarnia, Jan. 3.—A coroner's jury is trying to probe the mysterious death of Joseph Glass. Dr. C. L. Vale, who at-tended Glass during his short sickness, testified that there were symptoms of poisoning, that Glass vomited frequent-ly before his death and that he did not act like a man who had died of gravel. Mrs. Glass said her husband vomited only once or twice. The examination was then adjourned for two weeks. While the evidence was being taken Dr. Johnson and Dr. Hayes, of Point Ed-ward, conducted a post mortem. They dound no outward signs of poisoning.
