of arrangements for the present meeting of the Grand Lodge, to extend to you a hearty welcome to Hamilton and No. 2 Distret, and to express the wish that your meeting here in Grand Lodge may result in infinite benefit to the Order and that you yourselves may not only spend a pleasant time in this city, but that you will receive an inspiration that will send you home at its close better Oddfellows and with a greater determination than ever to assist in the good will send you home at its close better Oddfellows and with a greater determination than ever to assist in the good work of building up and strengthening our beloved Order. I need not dwell upon the Order, for you are all familiar with its history since it first saw the light in the city of Manchester, in the year 1812. But it is a matter of pride to us in Hamilton to be able to point to the fact that we have been able to keep the flag of Oddfellowship flying in this city for over sixty years. On October 4th, 1845; Boyal Hamilton Lodge was instituted in this city, and it is looday in a more flourishing condition than it ever was. Loyal Commercial Lodge followed on January 5th, 1847, and had the distinction at that time of having enrolled as one of its members a Premier of the Dominion, Sir Allan MacKab, This lodge has also renewed its youth, and is one of the banner lodges of the Order. Coming down to a later period we have Loyal Advance Lodge, organized during my term of office as Grand Master, and now one of the strongest and most active lodges in all Canada. Later still Commemoration Lodge was established, a lodge which gives much promise for the future. This slight sketch would be incomplete without a reference to Loyal Dundas Lodge, which can boast of even a more ancient lineage than those of Hamilton. It is on can boast of even a more ancient line-age than those of Hamilton. It is on behalf of these historic lodges and the others of the district that I bid you wel-Many changes have taken place since

Many changes have taken place since these lodges came into being. At first sick and funeral benefits only were given, and the laws which governed them were often crude and the monetary basis on which they were distributed would scarcely be endorsed by a present day actuary. Then in later years came fraternal life insurance, and since that date the secret societies have assumed a position searcely dreamed of thirty years ago. For years the societies were permitted to govern themselves very much as the members in their wisdom or their folly deemed best, with the result that obligations were undertaken that invited financial disaster, It was a Hemiltonian, the present Lieutenant-Hamiltonian, the present Lieutenant-Sovernor of the Province, who saw the rocks ahead, and the Act which he intro duced into the Legislature, and which later was placed on the statute book, later was placed on the statute book, brought these fraternities within the pale of the law, with the result that most of them have been put upon a more satisfactory financial footing, have a legal status which they did not before possess, and their rights and the rights of the members legally defined and secured.

The principles of our Order are founded upon the golden rule, and the work in which you are engaged is a noble one. Politics and propagandas have no place behind the tyled doors. Creeds are also barred. But it teaches its members to lead toody lives, to obey the laws and to be loyal to the King, and if you live up to its precepts you will be better men and better citizens. Its practical work consists in helping the weak, succoring the distressed, providing for times of ickness and enabling its members to make provision for their loved ones when they are called away. How to better carry out these objects is what brings you to Hamilton, and that you may legislate wisely and for the hest interests of the Order is our sincere wish. Again we welcome you to this city and district in the left of the control of t The principles of our Order are found Again we welcome you to this city and district, in the hope that the deliberations at this Grand Lodge may result in infinite good to the Order at large.

P. G. BRO. CLARK.

The reply to the address of welcome was made by Past Grand Master Robert Clark, of Troy.

Past Grand Masters M. B. Thomas and R. Clark exemplified the Past Grands' degree.

GRAND MASTER'S ADDRESS.

In his address Grand Master Junkin In his address Grand Master Junkin referred with satisfaction to the fact that the death rate during the year had not been high, only 5.58 in 1,000. In the older provinces there had been initiated, during the year, 1626 new members. In the west several new lodges had been organized and a net increase of 753 members was shown. mment was made about the number of lapses, and the statement was made that R. T. McNichol, superintendent of organization, had tendered his resignation, to take offer offer the present organization, had tendered his resignation, to take effect after the present-Grand Lodge meeting. The financial report showed a very satisfactory increase. The number of applications for admission to the order was the largest in any year in the history of Canadian Oddfellowship, and the amount at the credit of the insurance fund is nearly double what it was five years ago. The Grand Master recommended the abolition of the office of District Deputy Grand Master and also advocated the adoption of a uniform scale of rates for adoption of a uniform scale of rates for all members, thus settling for all time a knotty question. Mr. Junkin paid a high compliment to the Hamilton degree team for its work. THE MEMBERSHIP.

THE MEMBERSHIP.

The Grand Executive reported as follows on the membership:
According to custom we present herewith our report of the condition of the order for the past twelve months and can safely say it is one of the best reports presented in recent years, both as to increase in membership and general outlook. According to the returns of membership received up to June 1st, our net increase over last year in members in actual good standing is 678, or a total of 5,309, as against 4,720 reported last year. Add to this 143 members reported suspended (most of which will be reinstated) and 119 honorary members, we have a total of 5,571 all told. The grand secretary has lopped off anything that does not appear to be permanent, and the detailed reports show our standing as near as it is possible to get at it.

INSURANCE DEPARTMENT.

The tumber of certificates issued since func 1st, 1908, to June 1st, this year, was 1,626, as against 95 for the preceding twelve months. The total number of deaths for the year ending Detember max 1,626, as against 95 for the preceding twelve months. The total number of deaths for the year ending Detember alist, 1908, was twenty-nine, which made the death rate per thousand 5.58. The number of death claims paid since January 1st. was eighteen, which gives a death rate of 3.66 per thousand. The surplus funds are still on the increase, notwithstanding the heavy calls on them. The balance to the credit of insurance accout is at present $89,554.62.

On December 31, 1908, there were 4, 955 straight insurance policies in force, for $3.308,700; also 104 endowment policies for $32,000.

The Grand Lodge reports and the district deputies' reports were referred to the committee on the state of the order.

Counsel Objects to Such Evidence But It Goes.

New York, June 15 .- Attempts to inroduce evidence tending to show that Mrs. Howard Gould was addicted to intoxicants was vigorously resisted by Clarence J. Shearn, counsel for Mrs Gould, when her suit for separation and alimony came up to-day. Maurice Malloy, superintendent of the Castle Gould estate, was asked at what time he had found Mrs. Gould under the influence of hquor at Castle Gould. Before he could reply Mr. Shearn interposed with the declaration that the charges of drunkenness, even if true, made Mr. Gould's abandonment of his wife the more reprehensible. Despite the objections, however, the witness was permitted to testify that Mrs. Gould was under the influence of some form of intoxicant on one occasion about the middle of July, 1996, when she sent for him and excited-1906, when she sent for him and excited ly reproved him for neglecting the ad justment of some of the house furnish ings. VICTORIA AVENUE SCHOOL.

VICIONIA AVENUE SCHOOL.

To the Editor of the Times:

Sir,—I had the necessity to go to the Victoria Avenue School on June 14th. Being interested through reading the paper, my curiosity was aroused. I thought I would look at the side wall that was sinking. In the room where my 9-year-old daughter spends five hours a day, I am positive that one end looks fully six inches lower than the other end. I do not think that any sensible man who knows anything about buildings, who children going to school would care to send them to a school would eare to send them to a school where it is only a chance that it might cave in. Think of the awful calamity that would happen to over two thousand children in that building. We hear a lot about fire drill, but to have them crushed to death through earelessness would be worse. In this case, where the money is no consideration, it is a shame that the people will stand for it, when that the people will stand for it, when the lives of their children are at stake. The trustees have the money, the City Council won't sanction it, and puts it for the late David Blain. The trustees have the money, the City Council won't sanction it, and puts it off by saying the School Board is too extravagant with their money. The City Council can afford to pay $10 per day to met to catch dogs to protect lawns and flower beds for people who can look at ter them, but cannot afford to spend money to protect young children who would not know what to do to help themselves in such a catastrophe. The law compels the people in No. 7 Ward to send their children to school. Now it is up to the people in Ward 7 to compel the City Council to protect their children. I am not going to get a petition and go around and ask the people to sign it. I have done my best. I am not a faddest, but believe in shutting the door before the horse is gone, not after. Thanking you for space in your paper, Reader.
