DECEMBER CANADA MONTHLY.
Canada Monthly for December, has a Christmas flavor throughout. Wilbur D.
Nesbit, Samuel E. Kiser and Henry Kitchell Webster collaborate on a three-part Christmas love story which has an unexpected denouement. Britton H.
Cooke contribute a character sketch of Goldwin Smith, the sage of Canada, whose recently announced retirement from active Canadian journalism comes as a regrettable reminder of his enfeebled health. "Roosevelt's Rival," by "Sympo," is a chatty account of a duck-shooting expedition in Western Canada, in which William Jennings Bryan, Minister G. R. Caldwell and U. S. Consul-General Jones participated. Donald French, in a well-illustrated article, tells of the Canadian writers who have won fame by their contributions to our national literature. Christmas verse written and contributed by Margaret Kenna, W. D. Eaton, S. E. Kiser, J. A.
Dobson, Norman Cragg, Horatio Winslow, Currie Love and others. The cover design is one of Schwalm's child pictures and illustrations are by Maclellan, Hugh Stuart Campbell, Werwke, Coughlin and Herndon. There are many photographs.

Warner
A sad untimely death occurred at the home of W. E. Johnson, Dunnville, when their adopted daughter, Evelyn, passed to her rest after being sick four days with pneumonia. She was buried on the 7th, her birthday at the age of eight years. Friends in Dunnville and this community extend their heartfelt sympathy. Rev. Mr. Hockey, of Dunnville, conducted the funeral service at a Merritt Church, where she was buried in the adjoining cemetery. The Merritt choir furnished appropriate music.
Those who contributed to flowers were as follows: Spray, Mrs. Swazey, Nott and Ross; spray, Mr. and Mrs. Randall; spray, Mr. and Mrs. Gilpin; basket, aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. A. Silver-thorn; spray, Sunday school teacher, Miss Thompson; cross, mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Johnson.
Mr. G. E. Lounsbury is improving a little in health.

SATURATED BY CORRUPTION.
Such is the Civic Administration of Montreal.
25 Per Cent. Spent in Boodle and the Rest in Doubtful Ways.
Aldermen and Officials Found Guilty of Maladministration.

Montreal, Dec. 13.—Mr. Justice Cannon submitted his anxiously awaited report relative to the investigation into the civic affairs of Montreal to the Provincial Secretary, Hon. J. L. DeCarie, this morning, after which the document was transmitted to the Attorney-General, who in turn handed it over to the Provincial Cabinet. The report is a scathing denunciation of the civic administration of Montreal since 1902. "It is an administration which in my own mind," says Judge Cannon, "is saturated with corruption due to the plague of patronage."

He declares that of the annual revenue of five million dollars 25 per cent. was spent in wine drinking, commissions and other evil purposes, while the remainder was expended in public works, which had no permanence or stability.
The Judge condemns the representation of the city by wards in the City Council, and says that it was that which gave birth to patronage and opposing factions which, in their frenzied fight for control, lose sight of the best interests of the community. The enquiry shows, the Judge holds, that there was maladministration and fraud on the part of aldermen and others whom he condemns to pay costs, chiefly of their testimony as witnesses, and that of any witness heard in the fact.

The report consists of 140 typewritten sheets, and the general conclusion arrived at by Judge Cannon is as follows:
"That the civic administration of Montreal since 1902 has been saturated by corruption, coming from the plague of patronage.
"The majority of the aldermen administered the affairs in a manner to favor the particular interests of relatives and friends, to whom they distributed contracts and positions to the detriment of the city and taxpayers.
"Such a result of maladministration the annual revenue of $5,000,000 was spent as follows: Twenty-five per cent. in boodling and other evils. As to the balance, the greater part was employed in works of which the permanence was questionable."

The report proceeds: "After the revelations made before me, the citizens on September 20, 1909, approved, by a crushing majority, the proposed reduction of the number of aldermen and the establishment of a Board of Control as provided by article 9, Edward VII., chap.
82. My task was made easy, as I should have advocated the adoption of these radical reforms, which I believe to be of a nature to ameliorate the civic administration of Montreal.
"With regard to the representation of the city by wards, all are in accord to condemn this system, which has given birth to patronage and its abuses. I recommend to the citizens of Montreal, after serious study, to adopt another system, to create a council composed of aldermen to represent the whole city and to work in unison to enlarge it and render it more prosperous.
"The council of to-day is composed of groups and factions, fighting among one another in their departmental interests, losing sight of the superior interests of the community.
"With regard to the criminal prosecution to which the city could order the council elected at the next term should adopt this line of conduct."

"I maintain that W. J. Proulx, alderman and chairman of the Police Committee; Ald. J. E. G. Lesperance, Ald. J. P.
Gadbois, Ald. J. G. Duquette, Ald. Major, Ald. J. G. Couture, Ald. J. H. Nault and Ald. Mederic Martin have been guilty of maladministration and mispending money. I also find against ex-Chief Benoit, of the fire department, a painting master Holland, of the police department, and Sub-Chief Dubois, Sub-Chief Martin, ex-Capt. Viau, Fireman Charles Roux, ex-Fireman Joseph Goudou, O. J.
Munday, Joseph de Santels, Rodolphe Brunet and Ernest Belanger.
The above are accordingly condemned to share costs of the enquiry."

CANADIAN HIGH-JUMPERS.
Out of some twenty horses known to have records of over seven feet in high jumping, fourteen are Canadian-bred, says R. P. Stericker, the noted American horse judge, in a carefully compiled article on "Canadian Hunters and Jumpers," published in the current Christmas number of "The Farmer's Advocate and Home Magazine," of London, Ont. This article lends special point to the striking front cover illustration painting by Paul Wickson, the celebrated Canadian artist, representing a horse going over a hurdle with a lady up, the painting being reproduced in the expensive tricolor process. The leading article, entitled "Education for the Farm," is a succinct exposition and review of those phases of the new education movement relating more particularly to the interests of agriculture. The question, "Does Apple-growing Pay?" is answered by a detailed account of the first year's results in "The Farmer's Advocate."

Lord de Broke-Pooh: When I married you, don't know, your father was
