Local Matters.

VERY mild weather this week. NOTE paper and envelopes for sale cheap for cash at THE OBSERVER office.

A MRS. Blackney of Petitcodiac was taken to St. John lunatic asylum last Saturday.

The subject for debate by Hillsboro's orators next Saturday evening is: Resolved, That Maritime Union would be beneficial to us.

ALL HALLOW EVE.—The boys of Hillsboro duly celebrated Halloween by changing signs, hiding gates, and various other performances.

HARVEST CONCERT.—A Harvest Concert in connection with the Harvest Baptist Sabbath School will be held next Sunday evening in the Baptist Church at Harvey.

NOTICE.—A meeting of the stockholders of THE OBSERVER Publishing Company will be held in THE OBSERVER office, Hillsboro, next Tuesday, Nov. 13, at 10 o'clock a. m.

TO THE LADIES.—Remember the meeting of the Women's Christian Temperance Union next Saturday afternoon in the vestry of the 1st. Hillsboro Baptist Church. There should be a large attendance.

A FIRE LILLY.—A correspondent writes from Midgie, Westmorland, that Mr. Mariner Hicks of that place has a callily which stands five and a half feet in height with leaves on foot and a half long. He asks, who can beat this?

As BIG YIELD.—Last spring Thom Meagher, of Picton, N. S., purchased 12 bushels of White Russian wheat from Neil Fraser and sowed it. From that he harvested 38 1/2 bushels of good grain, and fully three bushels had been spoiled by hares and other destructive agencies.

A CLERGYMAN'S DEATH.—Rev. George Beckwith died at Butterton Ridge, on Thursday evening, Nov. 1st, of consumption. He was forty-eight years of age. The funeral took place on Sunday last. Rev. B. N. Hughes conducted the service. Deceased leaves a wife and six children.

DONATION.—Rev. D. C. Lawson's friends purpose making him a donation at their house of worship, Hopewell Cape, next Monday evening. It is hoped there will be a large attendance and generous contributions. Rev. Mr. Lawson preaches at Hopewell Cape next Sunday morning and afternoon.

TO CORRESPONDENTS.—Correspondents should remember not to seal their envelopes containing printer's copy when they use only one-cent stamp. We have lately received correspondence which fits went to the Dead Letter Office, Ottawa, on account of the letters being sealed and having only one-cent stamps.

CONVULSION.—R. R. Smith, postal clerk on the Albert railway is having a short vacation during which he expects to visit the United States. Gossip says he expects to double his happiness before he returns. But then people will talk. H. B. Peck of the I. C. R. postal service is performing Mr. Smith's duties during his absence.

LECTURE AND SUPPER.—Rev. S. W. Keirstead, of Surrey lectured in the 1st. Hillsboro Baptist Church last Tuesday evening. Subject "The Elements of a Successful Life." The lecture was greatly appreciated by all present, much sound advice being given. After the lecture a "brown" supper was served in the hall. The proceeds of lecture and supper amounted to about $23.

DIPHTHERIA.—James, son of J. T. Ward of the Beatty House, has been ill with Diphtheria but is now rapidly improving. Drs. Lewis and Maroon at hand and have used every precaution to prevent the spread of the disease. The sick one is isolated in a remote room of the third story, the other members of the house are excluded, disinfectants are freely and constantly used and no person but the nurse and physicians allowed to visit the sick room.

S. A. ENTERTAINMENT.—The supper and jubilee in the Hillsboro Salvation Army Barnacks last Monday evening passed off very pleasantly and successfully. The supper was first class and greatly enjoyed by all who partook. A number of officers from different parts of Westmorland County were present and took part in the jubilee. A variety of instrumental music was provided and appreciated by the large audience which filled the Barnacks to overflowing. The net proceeds amounted to $47. The Hillsboro officers now rejoice on account of being free from debt, having their building all paid for and made very comfortable.

BUSINESS CHANGE.—Archibald Steeves, proprietor of Hillsboro's cheap and popular cash store, has sold his stock of goods to Thomas Steeves, of Hillsboro, who is now running the business at the old stand. Mr. A. Steeves contemplates taking a tour out West during the coming winter.

LECTURE COURSE.—H. R. Emmer-son Esq., M. P. P., will lecture in the Harvest Baptist Church on the evening of November 14th. Subject "Journals and Journalists." A milk-said supper will be prepared in the Lodge room of the Hall opposite the church, which will be partaken of immediately after the lecture. In order to decide an important question a poll will be held. Lecture to commence at 7.30. Admission 10 cts. Supper 25 cents. For particulars see posters.

A GREAT YIELD.—Though this has been a bad season for grain, some good yields are reported. Mr. Lynch, who works what is known as the Jones farm, up the river a short distance from town, cleaned up 54 bushels on Thursday from 3 pecks sowing. Mr. M. Dowling, who formerly owned this farm, heard of the great yield but did not credit it. He drove up to the farm, ascertained that the story was true and left a sample of the oats at the Times office. They are a small variety, the seed having been obtained from Clark & Sons. This yield, which is at the rate of 72 bushels per acre, is quite phenomenal and it is likely that the oats will be retained for seed.—Times.

Harvey Notes.

Husband: This new flour makes splendid bread, my dear. Wife: Yes. I have the knack now, I kneaded it a great deal. But the next loaf will not be so good.

Husband: Why? Wife (with a sly twinkle): We have all been needing this for the last three days—ever since I told you we were on the last loaf of the other barrel.

Mr. Warren Jones has given the Horn bridge railing a good coat of brown paint. Mrs. William Brewster, who has been with her husband in New London, Conn., all summer is expected home next Thursday or Friday.

Capt. Miles Brewster and wife, of Hopewell Cape, after spending several days in Harvey with relatives returned home last Monday.

Mrs. Dr. Jump came down from Hillsboro last Friday. She has classes in painting and the scholars are delighted and enthusiastic.

About 22 o'clock last Wednesday we saw the Sewing Circle ladies coming down street and understood that they were coming from the parsonage where they had been matching and sewing a carpet for "the parson's wife."

The Pearl, Wood, is loading lumber at the wharf of Hon. G. S. Turner, for St. John.

Pressing machines are going, going from barn to barn and hundreds of tons of them are being pressed.

Last week Messrs. Joseph and Zenas Turner shipped a large quantity of hay from Albert Station for Halifax. Their yoke of oxen walked away with a load of 2 1/2 tons apparently as easy as their span of horses with a load of the same weight.

It is rumored that the duties of the postal clerk on the Albert line are so onerous that he has run over to the land of Uncle Sam for an assistant. Rumors are sometimes true. This may be partly so.

Moncton Notes.

The new Roman Catholic Church will not be roofed in this fall as was expected on account of so much wet weather interfering with the work.

Mr. Arthur L. Robinson, who was sworn in attorney-at-law at the late session of the Supreme Court is having an office built on Main Street and will practice his profession here. This makes the thirteenth lawyer practicing in Moncton at present.

It is stated that John T. Hawk is to run the County at the next general election for the House of Commons in the interest of the Grity party. We think the voters of Westmorland are not all fools although there appear to be a few.

Rev. D. C. Currie has lately received his new Bird's Eye View of Moncton which he has been getting up. The picture which includes 38 marginals around the Margen and a large list of names of business men, giving the occupation of each at the bottom, is gotten up in fine style the litho graphing having been done by O. H. Bailey & Co. of Boston. Persons intending to purchase in Moncton would do well to consult the marginals and among them will find places where they will be able to purchase any kind of goods, etc., and here. Among the marginals will be seen a large number of the principal Business Houses, Factories, Railway shops, Station and Offices, Churches showing the new Catholic Church (now building) as it will be when completed a number of private residences and the proposed harbour improvements. By comparing this view with the one taken in 1881 one can see the rapid growth the town has made since that period. About eleven hundred copies are to be disposed of.

Dawson Settlement Notes.

Since writing last the freshets have abated and Abram and John McFarlane have put in their new sawmill with a chance for improvements on the old one. Likely they will put in an edge.

Chas. F. Milton is talking of getting a portable steam mill costing quite a snug sum.

Peter Brosey has put up a frame for a new house near the old site on Bunker Hill.

Wm. Dawson is having his new house plastered and getting it ready to move into.

Charles Akerley is getting along with his new house.

Mrs. Brosey is still lingering along. S. S. Hopper came home last Saturday, looking well after a few months rest.

The officers elect of Hold the Fort Lodge No. 110, I. O. G. T. are: A. W. Ogden, C. T.; Maggie Dawson, V. T.; Milford Dawson, Sec.; Maud Dawson, F. S.; Warren Jones, T. Michael Steeves, C.; Luther Jones, M. Thomas Dawson, S.; Frank Jones, G.; Wellington L. Dawson, P. C. T.

Mr. Manning Duffy had a plunging frolic last Saturday.

A. O. Jones, who has been suffering lately from poor health and who is getting better, intends having a wool frolic soon. One and all had better give him a lift and do unto him as you would wish to be done by.

Some of the farmers have started the plow to help along with next spring's work.

Alma Notes.

During the heavy gale last Saturday the waves tore off and carried away about fifty feet of the sheathing on the west side of the break water. The damaged piece is on the port built about a year ago by Messrs. Wallace and Appleby. A little investigation around the damaged work shows that "things are not what they seem."

The "Clarion," "Teare," and "Liolie," Shields, are taking in deals for St. John. A. S. McDonald is repairing N. H. Foster's store into which he intends moving the Post office and his mercantile business shortly.

Catarrh, Catarrhal Deafness, Hay Fever.

A New Home Treatment.

Sufferers are not generally aware that these diseases are contagious, or that they are due to the presence of living parasites in the lining membrane of the nose and eustachian tubes. Microscopic research, however, has proved this to be a fact, and the result is that a simple remedy has been formulated whereby catarrh, catarrhal deafness and hay fever are permanently cured in from one to three simple applications made at home by the patient once in two weeks. N. B.—For catarrhal discharges peculiar to females (white) this remedy is a specific. A pamphlet explaining this new treatment is sent on receipt of ten cents by A. H. DIXON & SON, 303 West King St., Toronto, Canada.—Scientific American.

Sufferers from catarrhal troubles should carefully read the above. Nov. 1, 1888.

Prize Essay.

A year ago, or more, I. Allen Jack Esq., of St. John offered a prize to the little school boy who would write the best composition on the subject "Our Mid-summer Holidays." There were about 400 boys who had the privilege of competing for the prize but we presume all did not do so. The prize was awarded to Jamie D. Carmichael, aged 11 years, who spent the greater part of his vacation in Albert County. Thinking the little boys and girls who read THE OBSERVER would like to read the prize essay we sent for it and after a great amount of coaxing have at last succeeded in getting the author's very reluctant consent to have it published. Grammatical errors and misspelled words were allowed to be corrected but each boy had to think and compose for himself. Another composition was considered equal to the one we publish but, as it was not handed in within the required time, the prize was not awarded to its author though he got one of equal value. We hope our young readers will be inspired by Master Jamie's success to try to do better and to send us for publication their efforts. We would gladly open a children's column if your young friends would only send matter for it. Let us hear what some of you think about it.

Here is the composition referred to: MY SUMMER HOLIDAYS.

Soon after the beginning of holidays I took the five o'clock train one fine afternoon for Bloomfield a little village on the line of the Intercolonial Railway.

Most of the people living there are farmers. They carry on quite a trade in milk, and every morning the farmers drive to the station with loads of milk to send to St. John. A year ago last Spring, the time of the freshets, the Bloomfield bridge was carried away. At the time I was there about thirty men were employed in rebuilding it which made the times more lively than they generally are at that place. After staying there one or two days I took the train for Sussex a pleasant valley about twelve miles further up the line. This place being so far inland is very warm in summer. Considerable business is carried on. There are quite a number of large stores and at that time there was a shoe-factory but it has since been closed down. They have a fine new Post Office, and as my uncle is post-master, I often went in and watched him stamp the letters and deliver them to the people. I intend to stay a little longer but as my father came one evening I decided to go home. The next morning when I went to the train I saw a boy about sixteen years old leave Sussex for St. John on a bicycle. I heard that he arrived shortly after the train. I stayed home a few days and then went for Harvey, Albert County, with my parents and sister. We changed cars at Salisbury and took the train for Harvey. The train goes nearly to my uncle's house. When we arrived there we received a hearty welcome. There was a fine farm near this village and several dry goods stores but no factories. Considerable shipping business is carried on. Harvey is on the Shepody river from which there is a fine view of Shepody mountain. One fine night we were out on the river, and my uncle and I were all singing while one of my cousins noticed that we had drifted ashore and as there was not wind enough to fill the sails they rowed the boat out into the river again. When trying to land we got into a creek and came pretty near upsetting. We had to put a plank from the boat to the shore to walk upon. I enjoyed watching the sand-pipes flying around the shore with their feathers glistening in the sun. A few days after the boat sail we went to a place called "The Rock," about twelve miles from Harvey. It is situated on the Petitcodiac river. A party of about twenty of us drove out there. When we got there we had to drive through a lot of grass in a man's field. The owner came and was going to put us out but when my uncle talked to him he got good natured and said we could go any place we liked and stay as long as we pleased. When we got there it was nearly noon so we ate our dinner on the grass under the trees. What a rest! We rested well several rods but it got so dark we were glad to come out. We wandered in and out of the caves for a distance of a quarter of a mile. These caves are formed by the constant rise and fall of the water on the rocks for so many years. I do not know how far they extend along the shore as it got so wet we were obliged to turn back. When we were coming back we saw a rock which looked as if it were the ruin of an old house. There was a window and a door in it, and another rock was just the shape of a goblet with trees growing on top of it. Some of the rocks were from 70 to 100 feet high. When we got our tea we started for home reaching about 10 o'clock. Another day we went on a fishing excursion to a place called "Crocked Creek." The stream gets its name on account of its winding course between two high mountains for a distance of some miles. There were about twenty of us. We got there in time to fish while it was dinner. After that my father and I left the rest of the party for a while and went farther down the stream to try our luck. On our way we saw a snake which my father killed. I caught about one dozen trout. About five o'clock we went back to meet the rest of the party and have our tea; after which we went on a level to play croquet. After the game we went up to a house near by where there was a lovely garden. They gave us a large bouquet of flowers and then as it was getting late we started for home.

We stayed two weeks at Harvey. We had no more picnics but I went with my father and cousin to a place called "New Ireland" for a day's fishing. The rest of the time passed very quickly playing croquet and other games. One fine morning we started for St. John and although my holidays had been very pleasant I was glad to get back to my lessons.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS. Are you distressed by your child's cough and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. WILSON'S SCOTT'S EMULSION. It will relieve the most distressing symptoms of teething, and is a most valuable remedy for all ailments of children. It is a pure cod-liver-oil emulsion, and is the only one that is palatable and does not cause indigestion. It is sold by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cts. per bottle.

Salisbury Notes.

Several of our young people here have taken the matrimonial fever. Six couples during the last three weeks have passed into the realm of hyposocial felicity. We are not alarmed about the contagion. Let it spread.

"Crystal Wave" division is now in a prosperous condition and the Monday evening meetings are very helpful and interesting to all who attend. We have a lively and well conducted paper, edited by our worthy school teacher, Mr. Chapman, and a wonderful amount of literary talent is brought to the front through its columns. Miss Buchanan presides with queenly mien as Worthy Patriarch.

Our Forester Lodge meets the last Wednesday in every month and is in a growing condition. Our worthy Post Master was initiated into the mysteries of the noble order at the last meeting.

The different churches of the town are working earnestly for the well being of the people, and a healthy religious interest is being sustained. Rev. Mr. Sieras has occupied the Baptist pulpit during the last two weeks. He preached a sermon on Sunday morning advocating the immersion theory to the entire satisfaction of his own people, but it appears to have been somewhat startling and amusing to the Baptists. His ungenerous remarks about others, who do not subscribe to his views, are not at all congenial to X's unity.
